BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH

The Public Interest Resource Center, or PIRC, was established as a liaison group between the major anti-nuclear groups formed in Central Pennsylvania. Their goal was to coordinate all efforts against TMI: legal actions, protests, and financial actions. Member organizations contributed funding and personnel while receiving information and coordination of services. This was to promote strength in numbers and to stop harmful overlapping of individual and group efforts.

COLLECTION DESCRIPTION

The Public Interest Resource Center Collection consists of various papers, newsletters, court dockets, and publications which were housed by PIRC in an effort to organize all efforts against the restart of Three Mile Island. The collection is divided into nine series: Correspondence, General Business, Committees, Organizations, Legal/Judicial Papers, Miscellaneous Printed Materials, Scholarly Papers and Official Studies, Journal and Magazine Articles, and Artifacts. The first three series, Correspondence, General Business, and Committees, contain the papers regarding the business of PIRC itself, and not the various organizations that it helped to coordinate. These series simply deal with the daily tasks of PIRC. Series 4 - Organizations contains the papers of the various anti-nuclear organizations that were housed by PIRC in their effort to maintain a more organized movement. Series 5 - Legal/Judicial Papers contains documents relating to court cases that resulted from the accident at TMI. Series 6 - Miscellaneous Printed Materials consists of all printed materials not immediately identifiable as belonging to or produced by any group listed in any previous series. Series 7 - Scholarly Papers and Official Studies and Series 8 - Journal and Magazine Articles contain various printed items that do not correspond with any particular organization. Finally, Series 9 - Artifacts contains a t-shirt from the “Stop the Restart” campaign, which members of PIRC organized. A more detailed description of each series appears before its inventory.

SERIES 1 - CORRESPONDENCE

The Correspondence series contains letters written by and to various persons. This series is divided into Public Interest Resource Center and General. Public Interest Resource Center Correspondence contains the letters written by or sent to the general organization, PIRC. General Correspondence contains letters sent to or received by specific people who made up the leadership of PIRC. Also included under this section are letters of Governor Richard Thornburgh concerning his efforts in the case against Three Mile Island. All letters are organized by the last name of the important party, and then into letters sent and received by date with undated letters coming first.

SERIES 2 - GENERAL BUSINESS

The General Business series contains all materials pertaining to the daily business of the Public Interest Resource Center. Any materials concerning a specific organization housed under the name PIRC can be found in that organization’s series. This series is divided into six sub-series: Ephemera, Printed Materials, Reports, Safe Energy Network, Senior Community Service Program, and Miscellaneous Materials. The Ephemera sub-series contains three items: two pins and a bumper sticker. The Printed Materials sub-series contains press releases, statements, propaganda sheets, proposals, and copies of the PIRC publication, The PIRC Report. The Reports sub-series consists of various reports written by a member of PIRC or for PIRC’s use in their campaign against Three Mile Island. The reports are organized in alphabetical order by author, and those with an unidentified author come first. The project, Safe Energy Network, was started by the PIRC to pool the efforts of the many safe energy organizations in order to get their message out to the public in a more organized manner. The Safe Energy Network sub-series contains papers concerning the operation of that initiative. The Senior Community Service Program was started by members of PIRC in an effort to involve interested senior citizens in the efforts to fight against nuclear power. The Senior Community Service Program sub-series contains the papers relating to that initiative such as evaluation sheets, agendas, and a commitment statement. Finally, the Miscellaneous Materials sub-series contains materials such as petitions, resumes, and mailing lists pertaining to the business of the PIRC, which could not be placed under another category.
