DICKINSON COLLEGE . . .

Dickinson College is both traditionally old and excitingly new.

The college is proud of its 18th century founding for as such it is one of America's oldest small liberal arts colleges.

It is proud also of its new buildings and equipment, and of its progress in education, but most of all of its personnel—administration, faculty and students—gifted this year with activity, alertness, concern, interest, and spirit. It is with this phase that the 1962 MICROCOSM is principally concerned—the sparkling spirit of the personnel of a new, a re-awakened Dickinson College!

Dedicated to # MAC . . .

"Perhaps the only true way to measure a man's wealth is to count the number of friends he has made!"

It is to one of Dickinson's "richest" men that the student body of nineteen hundred and sixty-two dedicates its Microcosm.

Since 1911, when "Mac" began his life-long career of devotion to the College as a coach and a trainer, he has succeeded every step of the way in enriching the lives of others. With his light-hearted, good-natured manner he wove a web of friendship so vast that the two hundred who attended his fiftieth anniversary dinner this fall represent only a fraction of those who can be called friends.

To Richard H. MacAndrews we offer our thanks for fifty years of loyalty.

In Memoriam To
JERRY W. BATSTONE . . .

On May 24th, 1961, Jerry Batstone tragically died in a hunting accident.

Jerry was liked and respected by all of his fraternity brothers and those fellow Dickinsonians who knew him. All of us liked Jerry because he spoke to you straight from the shoulder; he spoke only when he had something worthwhile saying. We often were fascinated by his stories of the Marine Corps or those tales ranging from his great knowledge of the Civil War.

Jerry supported his fraternity and his college in all their respective functions. In the fraternity, if not the charging Marine on the IF football line, he was the suave lady's man at the parties.

Jerry's life here at Kappa Sigma and Dickinson was full; he enjoyed every minute of it. His daily life was one of excitement, fascination, and insatiable energy.

Shakespeare in "Julius Caesar" provides an eulogy which applies perfectly to Jerry:

*"His life was gentle, and the elements
So mix'd in him that Nature might stand up
And say to all the world, 'This was a man!'"*

To the memory of our departed fellow classmate and brother, then, is dedicated this memoriam.

Address By Our President . . .

Ladies and gentlemen of Dickinson:

The privilege of addressing you through the 1962 Microcosm is a welcome one, for it allows me to say "thank you" to a student body whose accomplishments and spirit have markedly moved our college forward in service to her ideals. It also gives me an opportunity to express personal thanks for a warm and considerate welcome to a new administration.

All of us join in congratulating the members of the class of 1962. The first-rate individual performances of these Dickinsonians are a matter of permanent record. The leadership the class has given to our community will long remain in the memory of the college. I believe that much of the success of this class is due to what seemed to be an unspoken pledge taken early in the year: that this would be the best year of their collegiate life and a good year for Dickinson. We will miss them, but we have from them a legacy of spirit that should help make the year and years ahead better for all of us.

As we say farewell to these men and women, it is our prayer that they may in truth fare well down through the years. As each goes his own way, we hope that his introduction to the life of the mind here on the campus has been exciting enough to keep that life ever growing and productive. The mental arts nurtured here are the liberating arts, to be pursued reflectively, critically and avidly if a man is to have the freedom that becometh a child of God. To this freedom-giving enterprise we commend the members of the class of 1962.

Best wishes to the ongoing Dickinson community of scholars. May we ever look on Alma Mater with pride and affection.

Faithfully yours,

Howard L. Rubendall
President

Reigned Over By Miss Microcosm GWEN STEEGE . . .

This year, for the first time, Miss Microcosm and her court were elected entirely by the students' votes. Each fraternity and sorority as well as the Independent Council nominated five coeds, in order of five places. The managing editor of the MICROCOSM assigned five points to each first place nominee, 4 points for each second place, etc. Naturally, many girls were nominated by several organizations and in this way accumulated many points. After all nominations had been received, the points were tallied and the nominee receiving the most points was named Miss Microcosm.

Gwen Steege, a senior of Chi Omega, reigns as Miss Microcosm 1962. The tall, slender blonde is popular as one of Dickinson's most outstanding women. As secretary of the Wheel and Chain, she culminates her long list of extra-curricular activities including having served as secretary of the student senate, a freshman counselor, chairman of Campus Chest, and secretary of "Follies."

In true story book fashion, Gwen married, last summer, a Dickinson graduate Richard Steege of Sigma Chi, class of '60. After graduation, she plans to teach English.

Present Sweetheart of Sigma Chi, Gwen has been elected twice to the Homecoming Court, being named Runner-up this fall. As Miss Microcosm, Gwen represents the essence of beauty and charm of the Dickinson woman. With her fair features, feminine grace, and charm of personality, the choice proves to be an excellent one. Congratulations then to Gwen Steege and her lovely court from the 1962 MICROCOSM.

Brenda Sadler . . .

Brenda Sadler, a sophomore Phi Mu, is Runner-up. Petite, pert and china-doll like, she was elected to the Pledge Princess Court last year and to the Homecoming Court this fall. Brenda is a dean's list student and is active in musical and religious activities.

A PROFILE

Of The Face Of Dickinson

A profile of Dickinson's face is influenced by many moods and actions. It is composed of excitement, laughter, contemplation and much, much more—but it is enough to say that the profile is a reflection of the realm of the wonderful experiences of the contemporary collegian.

COLLEGE

Every year Dickinson College students are privileged to have as campus guests many outstanding lecturers and performers. The visitors are usually nationally or internationally prominent in their field, and their programs do much to vary and enrich our experience. Through their stimulating talks or their fine musical and dramatic entertainment, they introduce us to new personalities and fresh ideas. The frequent presence of these college guests on our campus is well worth the hard work of the student and faculty members involved.

The personages are brought to Dickinson under the auspices of several campus organizations including the Cultural Affairs Committee of the Student Senate, and its chairman Professor Heber Harper; the Social Committee of the Student Senate, headed by Fred Gilbert, and his successor, Gordon Fronk; the Chapel Committee, chaired

THE JOSEPH PRIESTLEY AWARD

ROBERT BURNS WOODWARD

THE JOSEPH PRIESTLEY CELEBRATION

Each year in the Spring, a special commemoration is held known as the Joseph Priestley Celebration, at which time the Dickinson College Award in memory of Joseph Priestley, the discoverer of oxygen, is given to a distinguished scientist for his discoveries or contributions to the welfare of mankind. The award is in the form of the Priestley Medallion, a ceramic medallion struck from the original molds made in 1779 by the first Josiah Wedgwood after a pen sketch of Priestley drawn from life by John Flaxman in the same year.

This year the award was presented to Robert Burns Woodward for his work in the synthesis of chlorophyll. Dr. Woodward, a native of Boston, was educated at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology where he received his doctorate in 1937. Since then he has been associated with Harvard University. Dr. Woodward has received many honorary degrees from universities throughout the United States, Canada and England. Dickinson College is proud indeed to recognize one of the outstanding scientists of our day.

Administration in celebration

Students from all over the world gather to study at Dickinson.

Students are graciously served nutritious food from the spotless facilities of the Slater system.

The most proper etiquette is, of course, practiced at all times in the luxurious college dining halls.

Rigorous and intense boot camp like training characterizes the ROTC program.

Students protest board of trustees' decision to demolish Denny Hall.

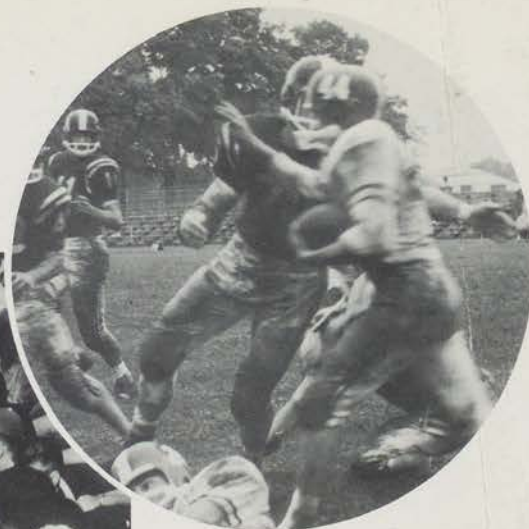

Administration officials join the students in the celebration of Halloween.

The charms of the finest finishing schools are inculcated into the daily training of the co-eds.

Active in every phase of campus life, the outstanding men of the hat societies provide the necessary leadership for a well functioning campus.

Clean fun and a friendly competitive spirit characterize the I.F. sports program.

Poverty stricken parents storm the president's home in protest of the continuous raises in tuition.

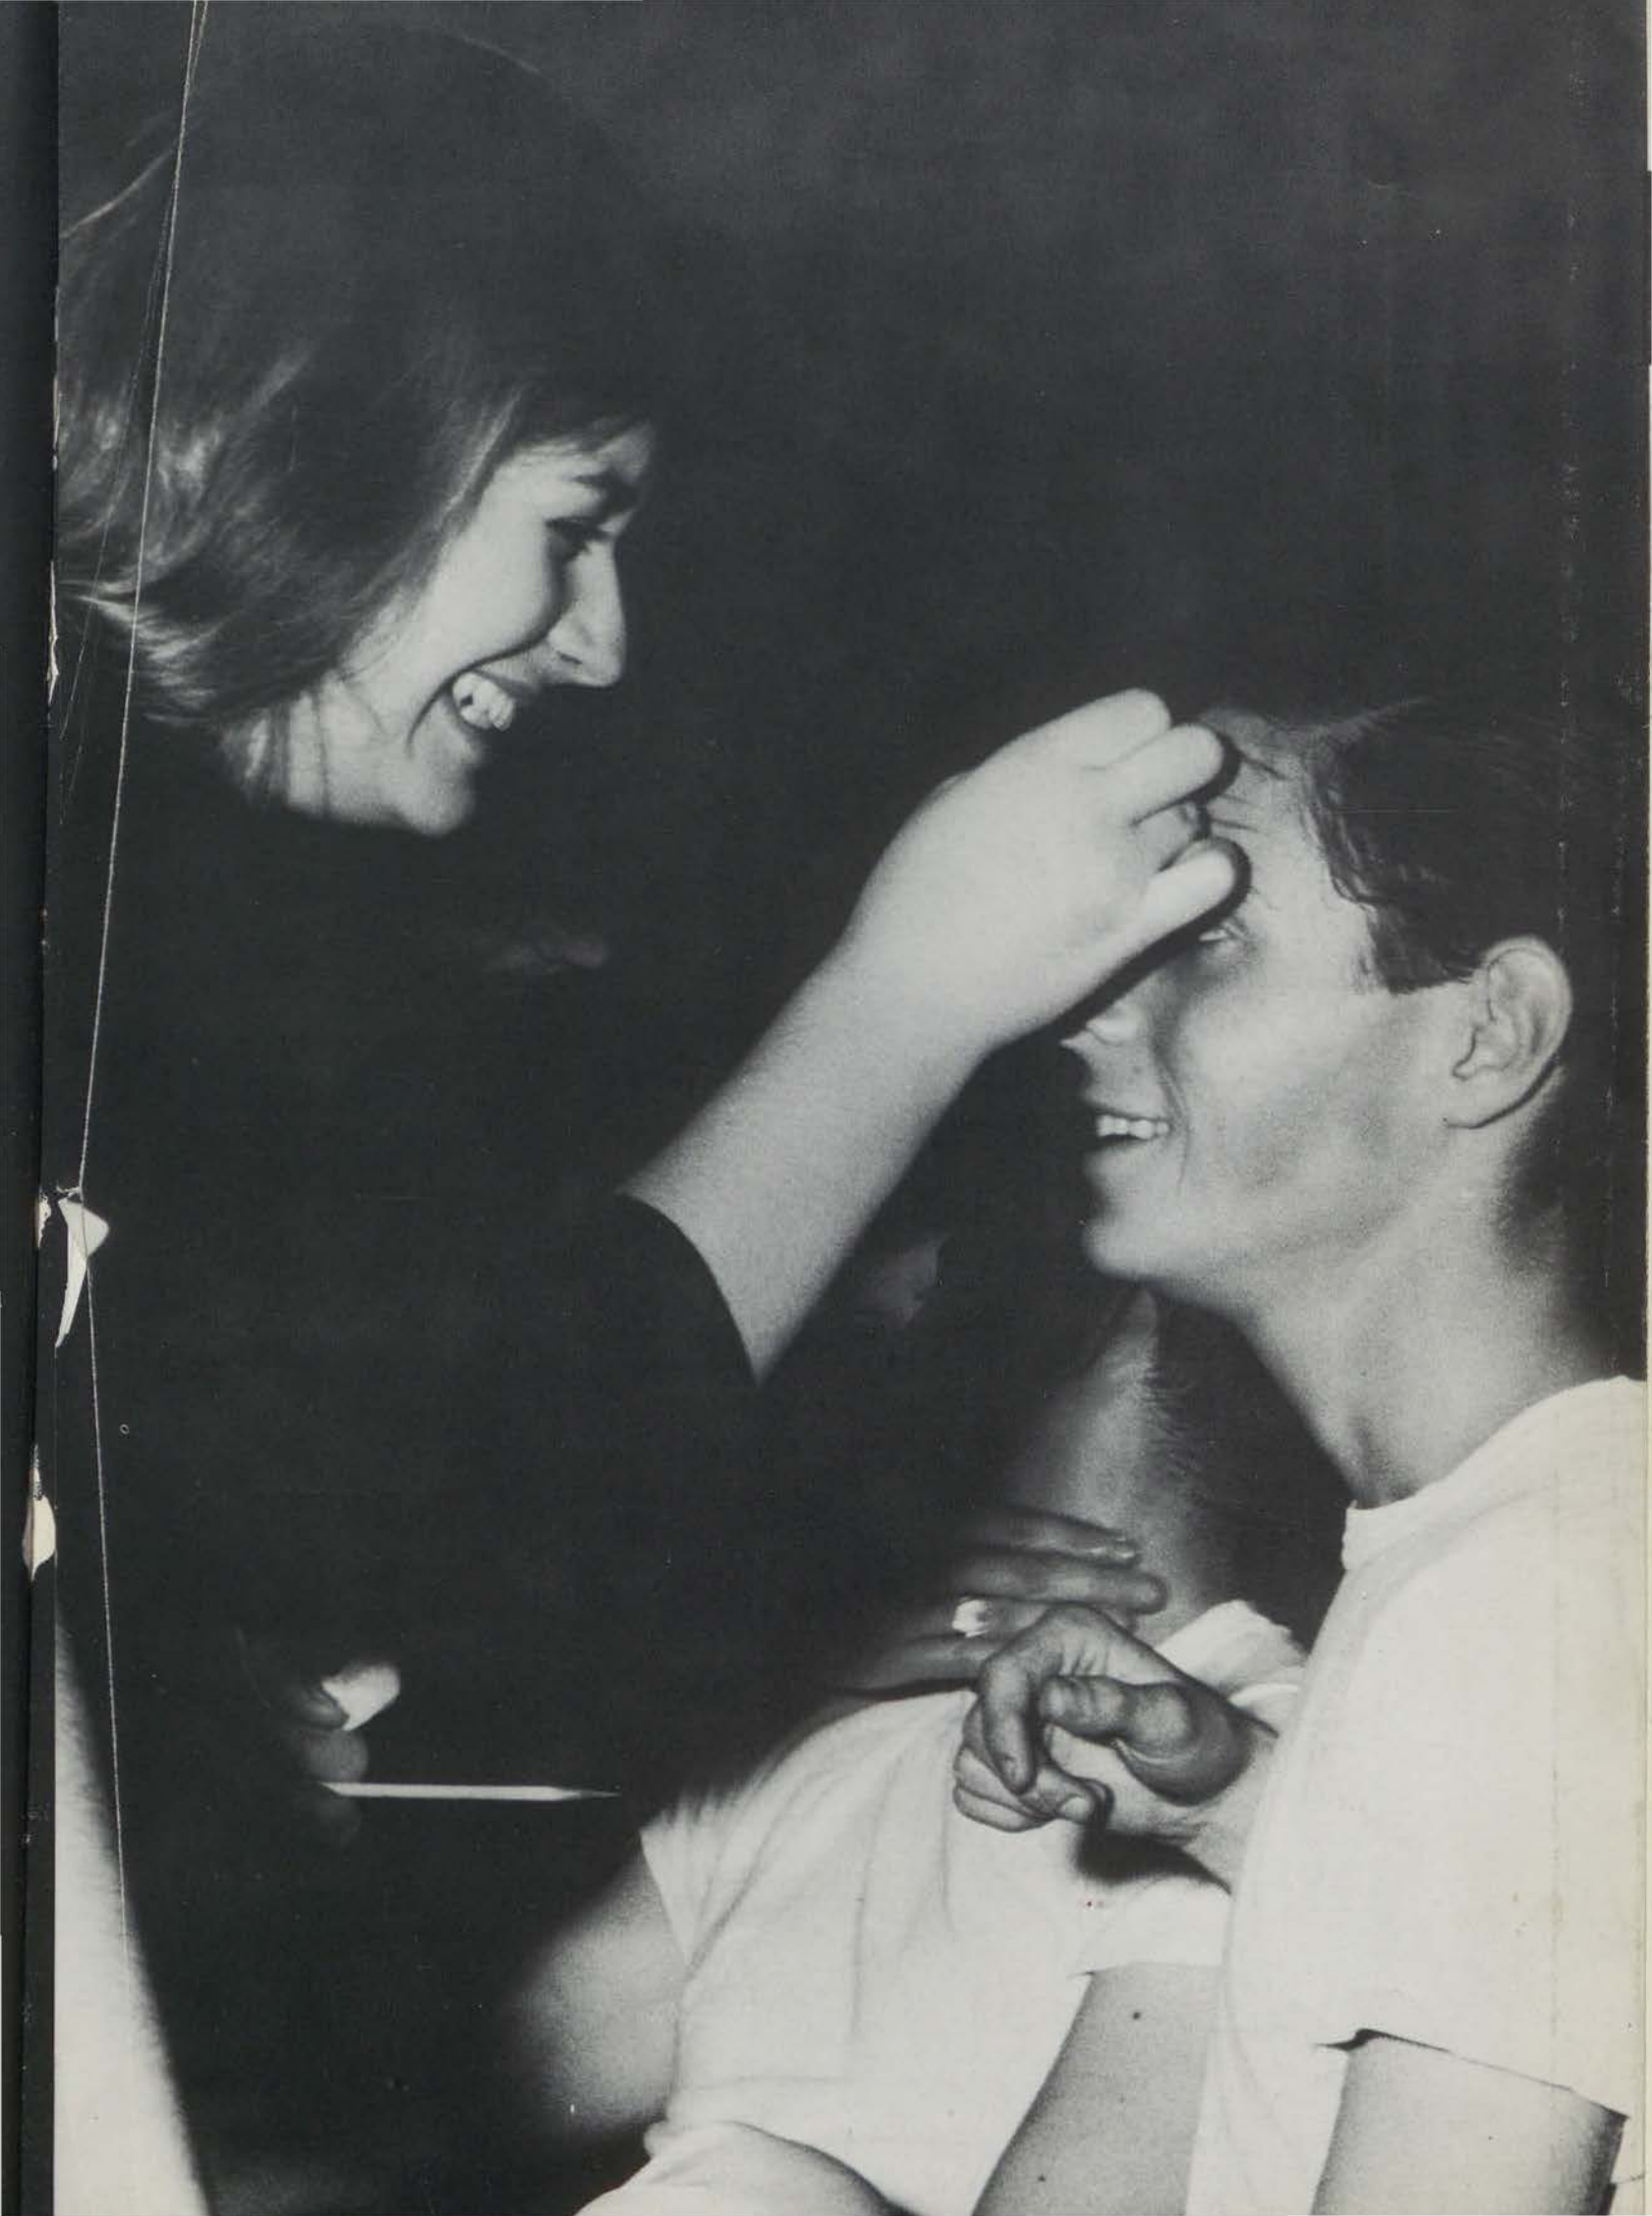

"Damn those Wilson mixers!"

Student organized cultural events add stimulus to the intellectual atmosphere of the campus.

Athletic contests often turn into wild brawls of enthusiasm and excitement!

Hey ODee, ODee, ODee!!

THE FRESHMEN

Freshmen talent on display.

Be it a position ever so humble, nothing compares to the experience of being a college freshmen. Broken are ties with home and family, as the individual makes his first effort on his own—all to the accompaniment of the educative orientation of the members of the Wheel and Chain and ODK.

Me—hanged in effigy?

The bunny hop proved to be the dance craze of both men and women in the early Fall.

Morgan lawn party was the first of several successful parties organized by the class.

Getting to know each other was fun!

Discussion groups were a prelude to further orientation.

Freshmen choruses took special delight in serenading the upperclassmen.

Dink Day on the old stone steps.

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS

After a week of active campaigning, the freshman class elected officers who with several interested committees planned special events for their class. Among these events were a "necking" party and a cheering section for the Homecoming football game.

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS—J. Arndt, vice president; L. Rand, treasurer; A. Smith, secretary; J. Judelle, president.

THE BEGINNINGS

Freshman Counselors

One of the most important persons in the life of any Dickinson freshman is his counselor. Each year men and women of the junior and senior classes are carefully selected for this position by the administration on the basis of their leadership and guidance abilities and their past participation in campus activities. These upperclassmen live in the freshman dormitories for the entire year.

Besides offering guidance and advice during the freshman orientation period, the counselor acts as an advisor and confidant to his counselee group with not only academic but social and personal problems. He helps to make the freshman year a happy and profitable one for each and every counselee.

Freshman Orientation Leaders

A new program of morning and afternoon discussion sessions greeted incoming freshmen during orientation week this year. Twenty students and forty-five members of the faculty and administration headed the freshman groups that met to discuss thought-provoking books they had read over the summer and to get general information about Dickinson, its rules and services.

Foreign Students

Two types of scholarships help bring foreign students to Dickinson College. A four-year scholarship is offered by the Department of State, and the college itself offers a one-year fellowship to students whose native language is taught at Dickinson.

During their term of studies foreign students are often asked to lecture in Carlisle and the surrounding area. This year for the first time they are also appearing on television.

The National Student Association tries to strengthen student government on the campus and to organize students to represent America internationally. NSA at Dickinson performs such services as orienting foreign students, conducting elections, and administrating the "Campus Chest."

The Steering Committee coordinates the various committees of the Senate, as well as being responsible for all matters which are not immediately assigned to a specific committee.

Campus Chest is Dickinson's annual charity drive to raise funds the greater percentage of which go to national organizations directly concerned with students. Maintaining this idea of student-to-student giving, the Campus Chest committee urged the students toward their $2000 goal with the theme. "To us so little; to them so much."

Communications Committee

Published five times weekly by the Student Senate, the Daily Senator includes announcements of meetings to be held, times for special events and athletic scores.

This year's college handbook, containing descriptions of campus organizations, songs and cheers, the college calendar, and the college rules and regulations, was edited by Al Miller.

Barbara Greer, chairman of communications committee.

Al Miller, Editor of D-Book

Headed by Barbara Greer, the Communications Committee has been revived to facilitate faculty, student and administration understanding on issues of major concern to all in the Dickinson community.

The Cultural Affairs Committee, made up of representatives from each class, decides on the program by reading literature about the artists and talking to the artists' representatives. Among this year's events were several lecturers, the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra and the play Richard III.

The Dickin

To inform, to entertain,

The Dickinsonian has again, provided the campus with an interesting and entertaining source of news. Under the editorship of Ken Bowling, the Dickinsonian has first and foremost kept the student body informed of campus activities, problems and policies. Furthermore, it has included news of world affairs, controversial issues of general interest, humor and sports.

This year's Dickinsonian staff brought about a change in the constitution of the paper which allowed the incumbent editors to select their successors.

The Dickinsonian has, in its ninetieth year of publication, brought forth several innovations. The first is a column entitled "The Cloakroom" which relates interesting anecdotes which have been printed in past Dickinsonians. Cartoons satirizing campus situations, a bi-weekly column by the Student Senate President, and the humorous "Devlings" column round out the new additions.

Jack Carty, photography editor; Charles Wasilko, sports editor

The other editors of the Dickinsonian include Martha Young, Jane Bidwell, Joe Feraco, Jack Carty, Charlie Wasilko, Ramona Smith, Fred Kirchner, Whit Smyth, and George Stehley.

Belles Lettres Society

The Belles Lettres Society presented one cultural affairs program to the college each month. It also sponsored film classics, chosen not for quality of plot but rather for their deeper artistic value. Guided by Martha Young, President, the Society sponsored bi-weekly educational and cultural seminars.

Belles Lettres Press

The Belles Lettres Press, which is affiliated with the Belles Lettres Society, publishes quarterly two magazines, the Belles Lettres Revue and the Hornbook. Besides these publications, the press also encourages independent writing.

Hornbook

The Hornbook, which is the literary organ of the Belles Lettres Press, is published quarterly. Coeditors Michael F. Wurster and Walter Rosenstein publish fiction, nonfiction, poetry, drawings and photography, primarily of Dickinson students. But occasionally people vital to the Dickinson scene, although not students here, contribute. The Hornbook is sent to other colleges, and its editors are in correspondence with other quarterlies such as the Evergreen Review.

AFFAIRS

SRAC

The Student Religious Affairs Council is the common meeting ground for all the religious activities on the campus. It is composed of representatives from the various denominational groups at Dickinson. SRAC sponsors campus-wide religious programs that are of interest to the spiritual life at Dickinson. Committees working with SRAC are: Chapel Committee, Religious Emphasis Committee, and Religious Movies Committee. The member organizations of SRAC are listed below with their presidents.

Canterbury Club—John Harrison

DEBATE

This year's debaters welcomed back a former Dickinson debate team coach, John H. Broujos, a lawyer in Carlisle. The varsity debaters met with such colleges as Rutgers, Columbia, and Duquesne; and made public appearances in the Carlisle area before Rotary and Lions Clubs. Freshman debaters made up the Novice Team which in addition to their regular schedule was host at the re-enstated Dickinson Intercollegiate Novice Tournament, held early in the spring.

DEBATE SOCIETY—J. Nichols, G. Wadas, W. Laake, J. Roberts, L. Reichard.

MSC

Founded in 1867 as the Scientific Society and later renamed in honor of John Fred Mohler, professor of physics at Dickinson for thirty-four years, the Mohler Science Society is dedicated to helping science and non-science students alike keep informed of the latest trends in the sciences and related fields.

IRC

The study and discussion of contemporary world affairs constitutes the purpose of the Dickinson College International Relations Club. The group hears papers and talks by students and faculty with special knowledge of various countries. Founded in 1932 by the Carnegie Endowment for Peace, it is associated with IRC organizations at other colleges.

SNEA

The Benjamin Rush Chapter of the Student National Education Association was organized for students who plan a career in education. Meetings held each month are designed to broaden interest in education as well as provide information and practical knowledge for the prospective teacher. Highlights of the 1961-1962 SNEA program included films, speakers, and round-table discussions.

AUSA

Dickinson College Company of the Association of the United States Army was chartered by the National Association on November 14, 1956. The purpose of the company is to serve as a means whereby Advanced Course R.O.T.C. students may find incentives for increasing their military skills, add to their Army background, and acquire information about the place of the Army in the defense of the nation.

UPS

The Union Philosophical Society, founded in 1789, consists of students interested in politics and in parliamentary procedure as well as members of the Young Republicans and Young Democrats. Activities include guest speakers on current political questions and participation in the Inter-College Conference on Government. Dickinson served as central regional director of the conference in 1961.

Concert Chorale

Directed by Mr. Mueller, the twenty-six voice Concert Chorale presents several on and off campus performances each year. Highlights of the Chorale's 1961-62 season were the Christmas and spring concerts, and the anthems for the President's inauguration early in the fall. The Chorale also contributed to the religious programs of the college by singing every other week in chapel.

Glee Club

The men's Glee Club has again finished a successful season. This year the forty member group was directed by Bob Donahue. Its high achievement and popularity has not been an accident. Twice a week the Glee Club met, sang old songs, learned new ones and practiced for their forthcoming concerts. The aim of this group is not only to provide entertainment for others, but also to allow the individual members to enjoy themselves and develop their talents for music.

The highlights of the Glee Club's activities included the annual Christmas and Spring concerts. Here they presented their repertoire of religious, campus and show songs. The Glee Club has also made several weekend tours to neighboring colleges where they were enthusiastically received.

This year's officers included Andy Horsley, president; Bob Malone, vice-president; Bill White, secretary; and Keith Cooper and Bob Duncan, librarians.

PLAYERS

Mermaid Players, Dickinson's dramatic organization, presents three major productions per year. Set up in 1952, the group is comprised of approximately ten per cent of the student body. Membership is open to all students who maintain their college average and participate consistently in dramatic activities. The group's program is coordinated by the Executive Council, composed of Mr. David Brubaker, Assistant Professor of Dramatic Arts; Frederick Morsell, President; Bonnie Brown, Executive Secretary; Jan Endrizzi, Recording Secretary; Thomas R. Stretton, Jr., Treasurer; and Joan Taussig, Historian.

Tartuffe, Moliere's comedy about a religious hypocrite, took place in November. The other two productions were scheduled for February and May. All three were directed by Mr. Brubaker.*

Mermaid Players sponsored its annual spring banquet, at which Alpha Psi Omega entertained. The evening's highlight was the presentation of the Gould Awards to the man and woman who contributed most to the drama program.

Follies

The setting for the show is an English university late in the nineteenth century. Charley's wealthy aunt (from Brazil—where the nuts come from!), Donna Lucia fails to arrive in time to chaperone a luncheon and Charley is forced to play the role of Donna Lucia until she comes. Hysterical complications arise when Charley plays his part too well and receives a proposal from Mr. Spettique, avaricious guardian of Charley's sweetheart as well as Charley's roommate's sweetheart.

President of IFC

The major contribution of the I.F.C. of 1961-62 was the establishment of a strict and tight rushing program which prohibits any verbal contact between freshmen and upperclass fraternity men until two days preceding Thanksgiving vacation, with the exception of a casual "hello." Under its president, Bernie Miller, the efforts of the I.F.C. resulted in two successful I.F.C. weekends and the presentation of outstanding player awards to athletes in every sport. The Council is composed of the president of each of the fraternities and an I.F.C. representative from each house.

Alpha Chi Rho

Phi Beta Chapter, established at Dickinson in 1905, encourages a united brotherhood and at the same time good scholarship. Crows were active on campus over the year and could boast of members on the swimming, tennis, football, squash, track, baseball, and wrestling teams. The brothers held the positions of president of student senate and IRC, editors on the Dickinsonian, Microcosm, and Daily Senator staffs, two freshman counselors, cadet commander of ROTC, and the chief engineer of the radio station.

The Crows enjoyed a well rounded social program which included pizza, pajama, Halloween, and Christmas parties; social events with each sorority; Pledge Formal, La Boheme, and Spring Formal.

In addition Alpha Chi Rho fostered community projects for worthwhile organizations and IF teams for their own recreation. Above all, however, Alpha Chi Rho recognized the purpose of coming to college is to get an education and developed many methods for maintaining a high level of scholarship.

Beta Theta Pi

The Alpha Sigma Chapter of Beta Theta Pi was founded on the Dickinson campus in 1874. Its principles are intellectual achievement, fidelity, mutual support, loyalty and assistance.

Alpha Sigma returned from the summer with a vastly improved academic standing and has, during the past year, had leaders in many fields of campus activities. Among them are George Stehley and Barney Field, two of the seven members of Raven's Claw. Field was also co-captain of the football team. Stehley is past president of Skull and Key, fraternity editor of the Dickinsonian, and Chapter President. Joe Andrews is president of Skull and Key and a member of SFJC. Gordon Fronk is Chairman of the Social Committee. Bob Harlowe and Rob Williams were outstanding, along with Field, on the gridiron, while Lance Rogers spent another winter breaking swimming records. Bob Paull was initiated into Alpha Psi Omega.

Through co-operation and mutual assistance, the Alpha Sigma's will help to contribute to the college and remain one of the outstanding fraternities on the campus.

The "warmth" of brotherly love.

Kappa Sigma

Once again the castle-on-the-corner assumed its traditional role in leading the campus in a variety of activities and athletics. Kappa Sigma was proud to claim two members of ODK as well as the editors of the Microcosm and D-Book, presidents of Follies, Glee Club, MSM; class officers, business manager of the Dickinsonian, two freshman counselors, and officers and members of IFC, D-Club, Pi D E, Alpha Psi Omega, Phi Mu Alpha, Pi Gamma Mu, SFJC, SREC, SRAC, senate, Skull and Key and many other organizations.

In addition to the co-captains of both teams, nine Kappa Sigs participated on the wrestling and swimming squads while many of their brothers were members of the cross country, baseball, and rifle teams.

Despite the busy schedule of activities and athletics, the brothers maintained their high scholastic standing (second out of ten fraternities) and sported fine IF teams.

Socially, the Kappa Sigs had one success following another feting parents, alumni, sororities, and faculty at special events. The brothers themselves chugged through a round of parties, picnics, and big weekends—highlighted by the Freshman Bar B Q, the Christmas Party, "El Cid," and the Spring Pledge Formal—all with great success as evidenced by the numerous pinnings and engagements over the year.

As usual, a fine body of Freshmen was pledged and was soon drawn within the warm bonds of friendship and close brotherhood which has made the brothers of Kappa Sigma outstanding in every phase of college life.

Phi Delta Theta

Pennsylvania Epsilon Chapter of Phi Delta Theta, since its founding in 1880, has sought to exemplify its three basic principles: friendship among its brothers, attainment of a high plane of scholarship, and a high level of individual morality.

This year, as always, Phi Delt enjoyed an active calendar of social events. Always outstanding in I.F. sports, the house has become a "power" in football and basketball by virtue of its winning the 1961 basketball and football championships. For its outstanding Homecoming Display, Phi Delt captured the first place trophy. In scholarship, the house stood third on campus. In extra-curricular activities, the "Delts" have capably executed the duties of many important offices, as well as being represented in the various campus honoraries. Each year, Phi Delt sponsors a community service day project for the town of Carlisle.

Big decisions to make.

Phi Epsilon Pi

The strong unity among the brothers of Phi Epsilon Pi manifests itself in the close friendships that form among them and in the image they create on campus—a group of friends working together in many activities for the benefit of the college, the fraternity, and themselves.

This year, the President's Cup, for outstanding campus citizenship, was presented to Phi Epsilon Pi. As is almost custom, the Phi Beta Kappa awards for freshman and house scholarship were again claimed by Phi Ep. Balancing its academic achievements, Phi Ep is the defending champion in IF softball.

Brothers of Phi Epsilon Pi are active in Student Senate, Follies, IFC, Psychology Club, Mohler Scientific Society, Religious Affairs Council, Mermaid Players, and many other campus activities. The swimming, squash, tennis and track teams all count among their member brothers of Phi Ep.

Continued brotherhood and campus activity are constant reminders that in Phi Epsilon Pi friendship binds eternally.

How come the punch always goes so fast?

Phi Kappa Psi

For one hundred and three years Phi Kappa Psi has maintained her ideals at Dickinson College. The keynote of her success has been the ability of her brothers to work together for the benefit of all. Experience has taught us the value of brotherhood. Phi Psis work well as a group and as individuals. Members of the "house behind the pines" are active in almost every sport and in many campus activities. Phi Psi has always done well in interfraternity athletics.

The brothers realize the value of scholarship, keeping the house consistently in the top half of the fraternities academically. Many of her men are planning to go on to graduate school, especially in the fields of law and medicine.

Phi Kappa Psi believes in a well rounded college career including social life as well as academic achievement. Therefore, we sponsor a full social season which climaxes in the famous spring Roman Toga Party.

House efforts for a community project!

Phi Kappa Sigma

Not spending every working moment at the books, The Phi Kaps again achieved a creditable record in their participation in campus affairs. From studies to sports, the Brothers exhibited their diverse abilities and interests by their prominence in campus activities. This year, as last, saw the Phi Kap warriors trudge home from the athletic battlefield of sublimation with coups in IFC sports and with the Kronenberg trophy which was set back in its well-worn groove on the mantle.

Constantly in search of new diversions to ease the grind, the Phi Kaps remained very active socially, as some of the year's more gala week-end parties were interred in the basement sepulcher at the home of the Skull n' Bones. But, as all good things must come to an end, the Brotherhood, ever-mindful of their book of verses, left wine, bread and thou in the wilderness to return, during the year to their academic paradise.

And as the result of a successful rushing season, the Phi Kaps now have the new blood necessary to perpetuate their amiable fraternal atmosphere and to uphold their tradition and reputation.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

Over seventy years ago Sigma Alpha Epsilon moved into the fraternity circle of Dickinson College. Then a young national organization, SAE was armed with a spirit and a purpose.

Today SAE is the strongest national fraternity—swamping all-comers in total membership. Why? Because thousands of college men have found truth in the founders' example: a fraternity becomes a success when it pools its strength for the scholastic, moral and social betterment of all. "National Leadership School," held yearly in Evanston, Illinois, instills this true fraternal spirit in representative brothers of all the 143 chapters.

The SAE's at Dickinson have captured the true meaning of brotherhood. As a group they have established principles and goals—all working toward their chapter's and their fraternity's improvement. In practically any aspect of college life one will find "Sig Alphas." And they are becoming stronger every year.

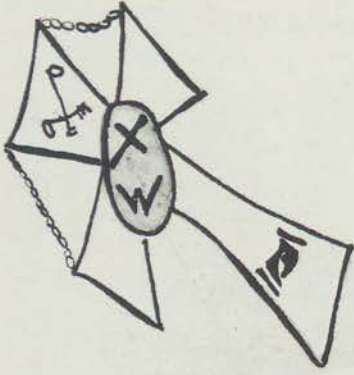

Pennsylvania Sigma Phi Chapter follows a fine example. Success follows naturally.

Sigma Chi

The men who are proud brothers of Omicron Chapter, Sigma Chi look back on the year of 1961-1962 as one of their most successful.

Academically the brothers could point to many of their number headed to graduate and professional schools. The Sigs were active and enthusiastic athletes, producing good teams in each I.F. sport. The social world was one of the Sig's biggest areas of success. Mid-winter weekend with its suave to swinging atmosphere was one of the best on campus. The men of Omicron Chapter could also boast of the many brothers who held positions as class officers and who participated in varsity athletics.

Once again the Sigs got a top pledge class who made many contributions to the house. However, there were more intangible achievements during the past year, when Sigma Chi reaffirmed that the real wealth of the fraternity lies not in its trophies or status, but in the reciprocal bond of fellowship of its brothers.

Theta Chi

Alma Mater first; Theta Chi for Alma Mater. The pursuit of this credo has led the brothers into many campus organizations. Theta Chi's are active in the Ravens Claw, Student Senate, I.F.C., the Hornbook, and the Skull and Key. Always a physically active fraternity, members contribute to the varsity football, cross country, and track teams as well as fielding successful I.F. teams.

Theta Chi's have been a service to the community by providing transportation for the Golden Age Club. Each year the brotherhood also sponsors a Christmas party for the mentally retarded children in the area.

Such events as the Bowery Ball, Parents Weekend, Pledge Formal, Midwinter Formal, and many desserts and parties with sororities and various girls' dormitories fill the social calendar.

Active participation in these many and diverse activities promotes the brotherhood of Theta Chi. Through the bond of brotherhood the aims of the fraternity—promotion of knowledge, advancement of culture, and the building of character—are advanced.

Panhellenic Women's

Composed of two representatives from each of the women's fraternities, the Pan-Hellenic Council is the governing body of all sorority activities. The group seeks to promote inter-fraternity cooperation and good will. The Council formulates and administers rushing rules. Its annual charity projects include Doll Dance and a Christmas party for under-privileged children.

The excitement of bid night is well expressed by the varied facial expressions pictured on these pages.

Council and Rushing

The Panhellenic Council followed the policies of previous years and permitted free association between freshmen and upperclass women throughout the first semester. The bustling activity in South College and in the library testified to the full use of the privileges of free rushing. Fraternity parties and campus activities also helped the upperclass coeds to acquaint themselves with the freshmen women.

Rush Week, the first week of the second semester was well organized by the PanHellenic Council. The week, keynoted by excitement and tension, consisted of three rounds of functions: song parties, invitationals, and preferentials, and culminated with bid night the following Monday.

Chi Omega

The Deltas of Chi Omega commenced a busy year by acquiring and moving into new rooms. Fall started in a flurry with the annual football game and spaghetti dinner with Phi Delt.

Through community projects such as the annual Christmas song party for the ladies of the Lydia Baird Home, an Easter party for the orphans and volunteer work for the Carlisle Y-Teens and Tiny Tots, the Chi O's have endeavored to maintain their spirit of service.

A social season of fraternity desserts and breakfasts, parties for faculty, alums, and patronesses was highlighted by a reception for president and Mrs. Rubendall. Also high in the spotlight was the Senior Formal, "Moon River."

The sisters could well be proud of their many leaders and participants in college activities and of their scholarship jump which took them to second place among sororities.

Spring semester saw the pledges in the center of attention with a tea, a formal and a serenade in their honor. Through all these activities, Chi Omega have established fond memories, lasting friendships, and enthusiasm for the future.

Phi Mu

Beta Delta arrived at D-son in 1919 and has gained through the years some measure of fame (or infamy) for several members' excellence in athletics (confession: the Phi Kaps beat us in football), scholarship and socializing. Sports and scholarship don't occupy all of our time as the wearers of the badge serve the campus in many ways: two Wheel and Chainers, Sec'y of Student Senate, President and Secretary of President's Council, Director of Acquacade, Director of Follies, and Homecoming Queen to name a few.

One small beloved member of our group, Kim In Key, a Korean orphan adopted by the chapter, is the center of our social service activities. And although we concentrate on making Kim happy through the year, we contribute time and service to the T.B. center and have an annual Christmas party for needy children in Carlisle.

And then what happened Susy?

Extra! Extra! Get your paper!

Pi Beta Phi

The Pi Phi arrow arrived at Dickinson in 1903 to add initial sorority on campus to its list as first national and first international sorority . . . and sixty years later its position remains the same.

Leading the hockey team to victory in true Pi Phi tradition were Joan Stohr, Canny Sutton, Patsy Hitchens, Sandy Currier, and Sandy Wolfe. In a more feminine line, the sisters presented their second annual parade of fashion for the winter season "Fashion Flurry" under the sponsorship of the local center of style, The Boutique; models were Kathy Kihn, Mel Templeton, Dottie Lohman, Jo DeMonte, Barb Price, and Judy Schenck.

Fraternity breakfasts were the thing this year with Beta and Phi Delta Theta; Phi Ep and Kapp Sigma joined the Arrows for a Halloween dunking party and caroling at Christmas.

Pi Beta Phi sponsors a settlement school and Arrowcraft shop for the health and education of mountain children and the development of folk craft in Gatlinsburg, Tennessee. This national philanthropy is supported by funds from our town rummage sales, bake sales, and the fashion show.

Zeta Tau Alpha

Dear to the heart of all Zetas of Beta Beta chapter is a tiny turquoise and grey kangaroo (rumored by some to be a mouse) called Atez. From his lofty position on the piano, he chaperones our dessert parties, teas, and meetings. Upon occasion he has even attended our annual Song Fest and chimed in on the chorus of "No, No, A thousand times No!" Being a perpetual pledge, he is also well acquainted with kidnappings, treasure hunts, picnics at Camp Chand and skits.

The Crown and Shield of Zeta Tau Alpha, now 108 chapters strong, first appeared on the Dickinson campus in 1924. Since that time individual members have been active in campus and community projects. On campus Zetas are represented on President's Council, Panhellenic Council, Wheel and Chain, and almost every other extra-curricular organization.

An annual Christmas party for underprivileged children, a float for the League of Women Voters (this year's being a rather tipsy Lame Duck), and Song Fest for the benefit of Cerebral Palsy children highlight Zeta activities in and for the community.

Its Party Time!

Congratulations to three beaming new pledges!

WOMEN'S HOCKEY

The women's field hockey team closed its 1961 season with a 2-3-2 record, a marked improvement over last year's 1-6 slate. The formation of a junior varsity team strengthened the varsity considerably, and the outlook for next year is optimistic since there were no seniors on either team. "The girls showed steady progress this year and learned to play as a team," stated Mrs. Barber, varsity coach.

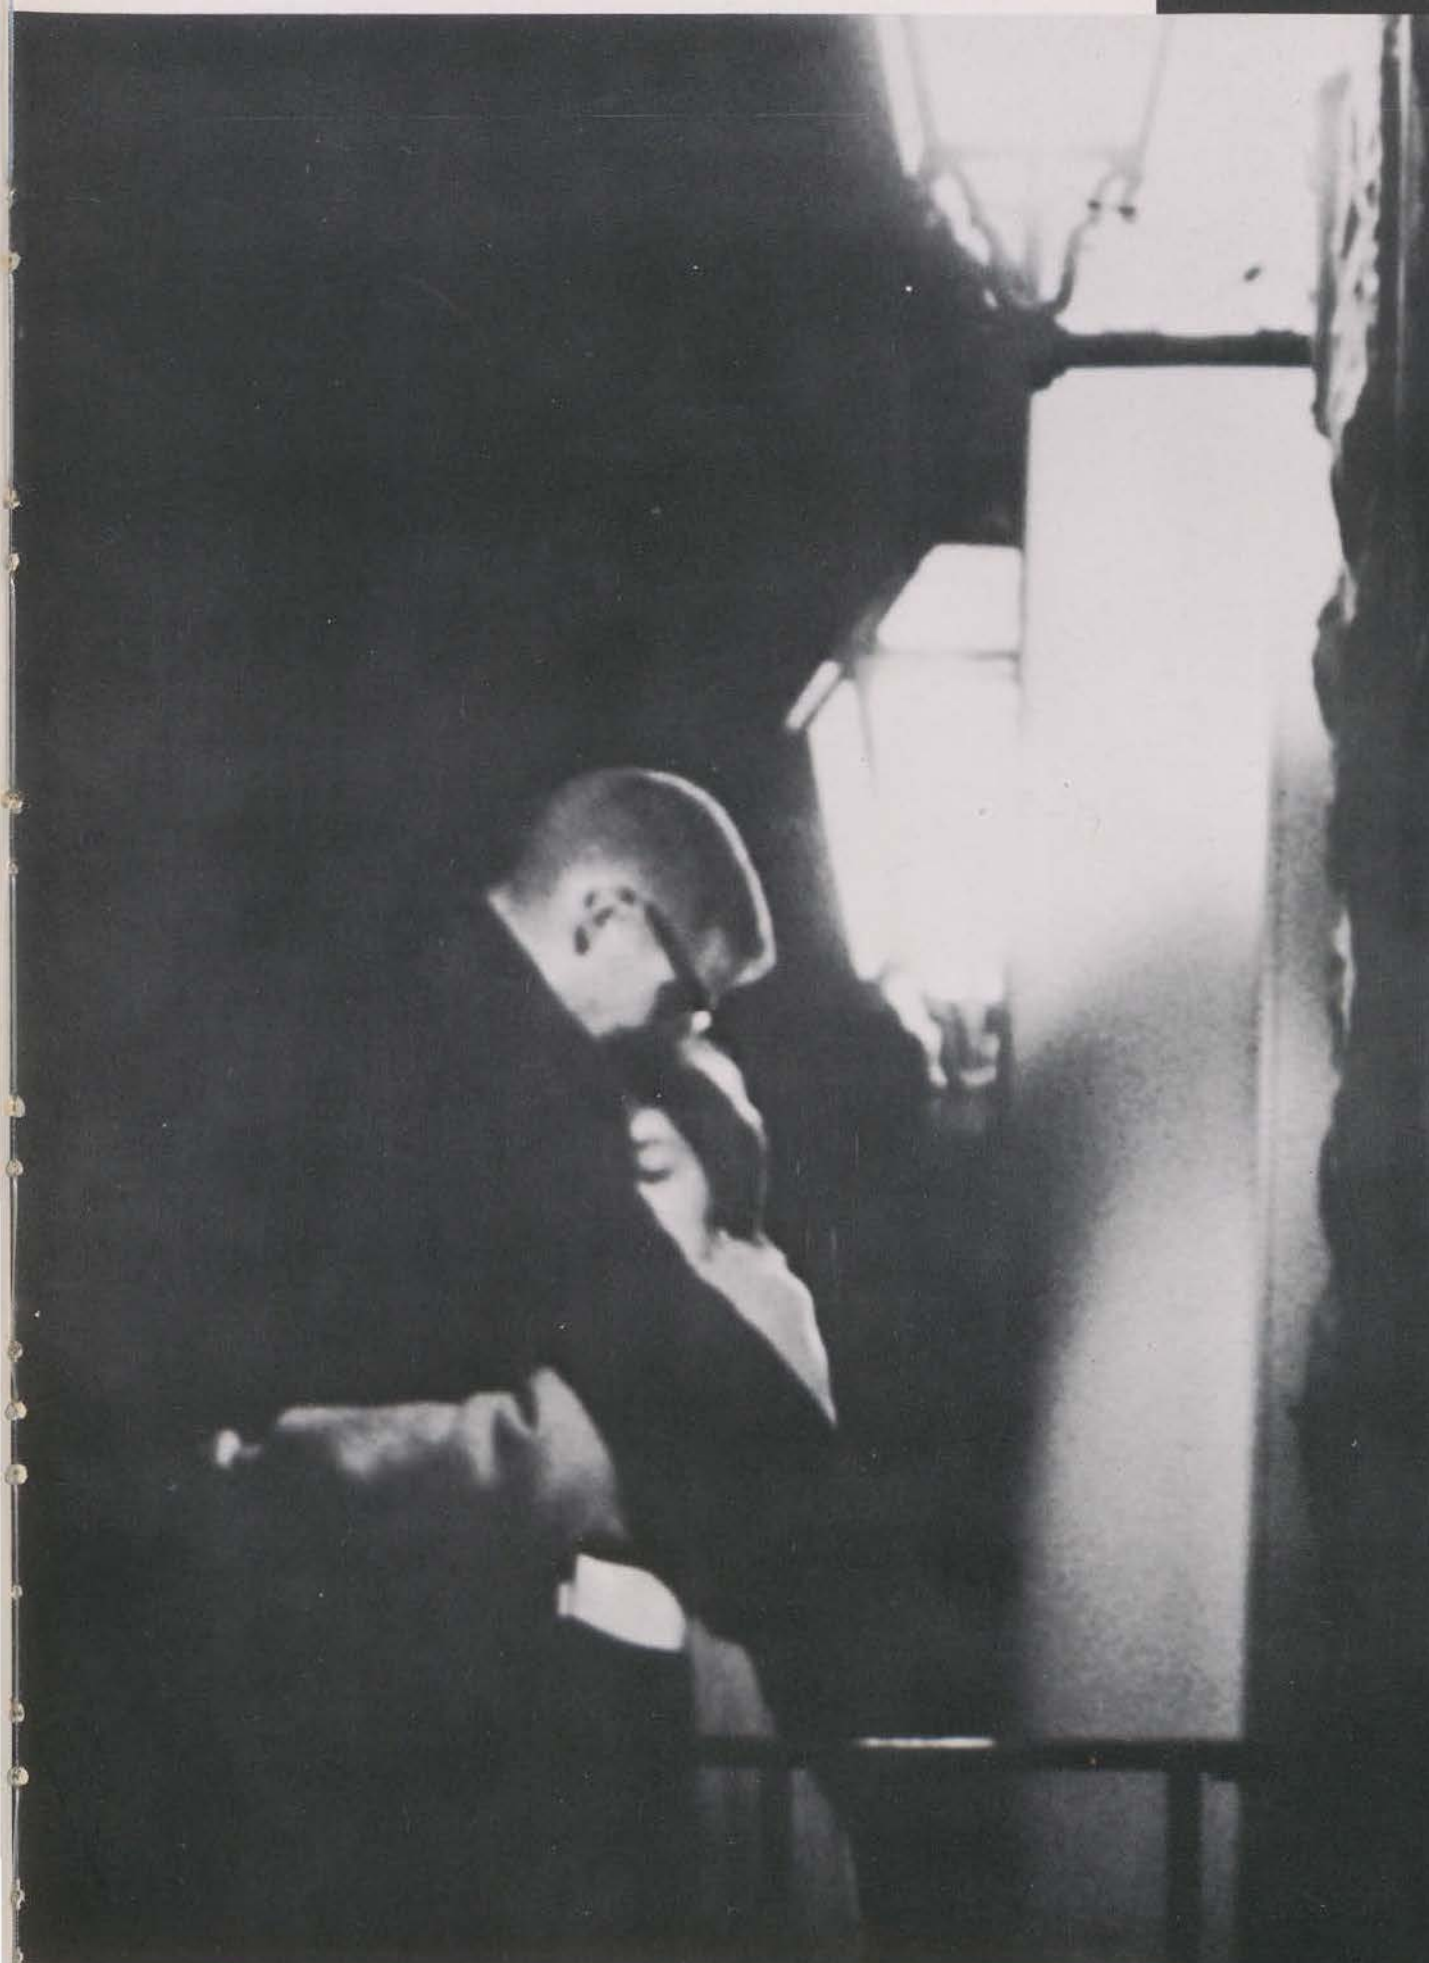

Concentration is the keynote as hockey players hunt for that ever-elusive ball.

Military Ball

Invaded by the forces of the Blue and Grey, the Military Science Department presented a very successful 1961 Military Ball centered around a Civil War theme. The trumpet and orchestra of Billy Butterfield provided a wide variety of most danceable selections. Carney Green was crowned "Little Colonel" from a court consisting of Shirley Bahrs, Lynn Davis, Barbara Duvall, Ellen Hassenritter, Pat Sterling, and Ginny Sutton.

Dickinson formally opened the Christmas season with the gala Mid-Winter Ball. In the midst of the first touches of red and green a huge tree donned a cloud of angel hair around which swirled the bright silks and satins of the guests. Walt Simpson, whose band provided the evening's music, chose lovely freshmen Pam Searles as the queen of the ball from the nominees of the fraternities.

The beautifully decorated tree added to the holiday atmosphere.

This year's annual Senior Formals were as gala as ever. At Chi Omega the seniors were presented under the boughs along Moon River. Guests were rocking on Phi Mu's Riverboat. The Zetas saw their seniors presented in an Arabian Night theme, and the Pi Phi's feted their seniors in a Las Vegas theme. Placed in a crystalline setting of the first snowfall of the year, another successful dance night was held at Dickinson.

Doll Dance and Sorority Pledge Formals

The Spring social season swirled into Dickinson with the annual Panhellenic Weekend of Doll Dance and Pledge Formals. First prize for the Doll Dance pledge class skits was won by Pi Beta Phi's "Bunnies" with Zeta Tau Alpha taking honorable mention for scenery and costumes.

Pledge Formal themes ranged from the sidewalks of New York to the sunny Southland with Chi Omega's sparkling "Broadway Pledge Premiere" and Zeta's lovely "Tara." The fun of the "Carnival" came to town with Phi Mu's decorative interpretation, while Pi Phi entertained in the twisted "Peppermint Lounge." So sped Spring's first weekend of fun.

Zeta's runner-up award winning skit was animated by colorful costumes and lively dance steps.

Beautifully decorated pledge formals rocked with all night twisting.

Beaming pledges made their debut to the applause of the delighted sisters and their escorts.

Spring Formal Weekend

The soft atmosphere of the beautiful "Twilight Gardens" captured the first bits of Spring for guests dancing through the Spring Formal. Two bands provided alternating musical moods for the ball.

A rainy Saturday afternoon was brightened by one of the most entertaining concerts ever held at Dickinson. The Whiskeyhill Singers delighted the large crowd of students for two hours with clever folk songs and bits of dialogue.

Fraternity parties with varying themes hosted the campus to make Saturday night an exciting climax to the weekend as couples party hopped from one to another.

For those who were able, many fraternities held Sunday dinner for their guests and Phi Mu presented its pledges at a reception on Sunday afternoon. All in all, a most varied and fun filled weekend!

School spirit is the primary responsibility of the cheerleaders, and at all home football and basketball games and numerous out-of-town contests they lead songs and yells for Red Devil partisans. Dressed in bulky white letter-sweaters and red-and-white pleated skirts, they add pep and enthusiasm to athletic events.

FOOTBALL 1961

For the first time since 1949, Dickinson enjoyed winning football. This was truly the most exciting and hardhitting football team that the school has seen in years. It was a team blessed with unusual talent. Although lacking depth up front, the fierce line play of such stalwarts as Field, Wagner, Lipinski, Morrissey, Smith, Packard, Shoff, Jacks, Creps, and Zuyus was consistent and inspired. It would be difficult to find another Red Devil backfield that could compare with this years. Harlowe, Thomas, DiOrio, and Shaver were among the finest breakaway runners in the MAC. Walt Buckley's pinpoint passing made him invaluable when the going got rough. Lou Verdelli, the unsung hero at fullback, ran and blocked with authority. This spirited squad was a rewarding tribute to the long-awaited efforts of the patient coaching of Don Seibert and Web Gobrecht, who were ably assisted by Thomas DeMarino and William Smith.

In their opening game against an aggressive Swarthmore team, the Red Devils jumped into a 6-0 lead. But the Maroon gridders with Lillie's pinpoint passing and three Devil fumbles won 23-18. The D-son offense looked great in a losing effort, as Thomas, Packard, and Harlowe shared scoring honors.

The following week the Devils traveled to Haverford. In her first "must game" D-son romped to a 26-6 victory. The offense was led by DiOrio who scored twice, Lipinski, and Harper. The line played magnificently. D-son's new offensive weapon, the field goal, was very successful. John "the toe" Harper kicked two long ones for 6 points.

In another "must game" against Franklin and Marshall, the inspired Devils washed out a 36-year jinx with a 25-0 victory. This was the most exciting game of the year. DiOrio continued his stellar ball playing as he moved the team to a TD on the opening kickoff, scoring himself from the 9 yard line. In the second quarter Shaver took a Diplomat punt on his own 20 and raced 80 yards for the scorb. Halfback Thomas went 57 yards for the third score. In the fourth quarter Buckley threw to Warden for the final 6 points.

The Devils next faced Wagner, one of the top small college teams in the East, and played one of their finest games but lost 18-13. They weren't outplayed, just outmanned! Strong points were the outstanding play of the line led by Bill Smith, the unveiling of the new "shotgun" offense, and the powerful running of Thomas and DiOrio.

Powerful Packard press coming up

Against Lebanon Valley the team played well but lost 16-7 because of poor officiating. The Devils were penalized 140 yards which made the difference in the score. Thomas made the lone score with Harper converting.

Another soggy day at Wilkes but a 7-6 score gave the Devils their third win. The defensive line was outstanding. Alert signal calling by DiOrio on a 20 yard pass to Lipinski resulted in the TD. Harper kicked the winning point.

Against Hopkins the sputtering Devil attack exploded to a 20-8 victory. Harlowe ran well all afternoon scoring once. Probably the most outstanding Devil play of the year came on a 52 yard "wrinkle go" pass from Buckley to Thomas, early in the fourth quarter. The third score came on a 1 yard plunge by DiOrio.

In the final game of the year the Red Devils soundly defeated Drexel 28-8 for their fifth victory and the winning season. The Devil defense led by Wagner and Lipinski was very tough. DiOrio scored three times, once on a spectacular 57 yard run. This was the final game for seven outstanding seniors: co-captains Wagner and Field, Thomas, Harlowe, Howell, Lipinski, and Morrissey.

CROSS COUNTRY

Coach DuCharme

The Dickinson cross country team continued its winning ways by compiling a 4-3 record for the fifth consecutive winning season.

The team was led by captain Bill Steckley, Jim Hatch, Mike Nemic and Bill White and supported by runners John Leroy, Lew Wilson, Bill Aldred, John Griswold, Alan McDaugh, Bob Mumper and Ed Blanchard.

With everyone returning next year except senior Bill Steckley, prospects for another successful season are excellent.

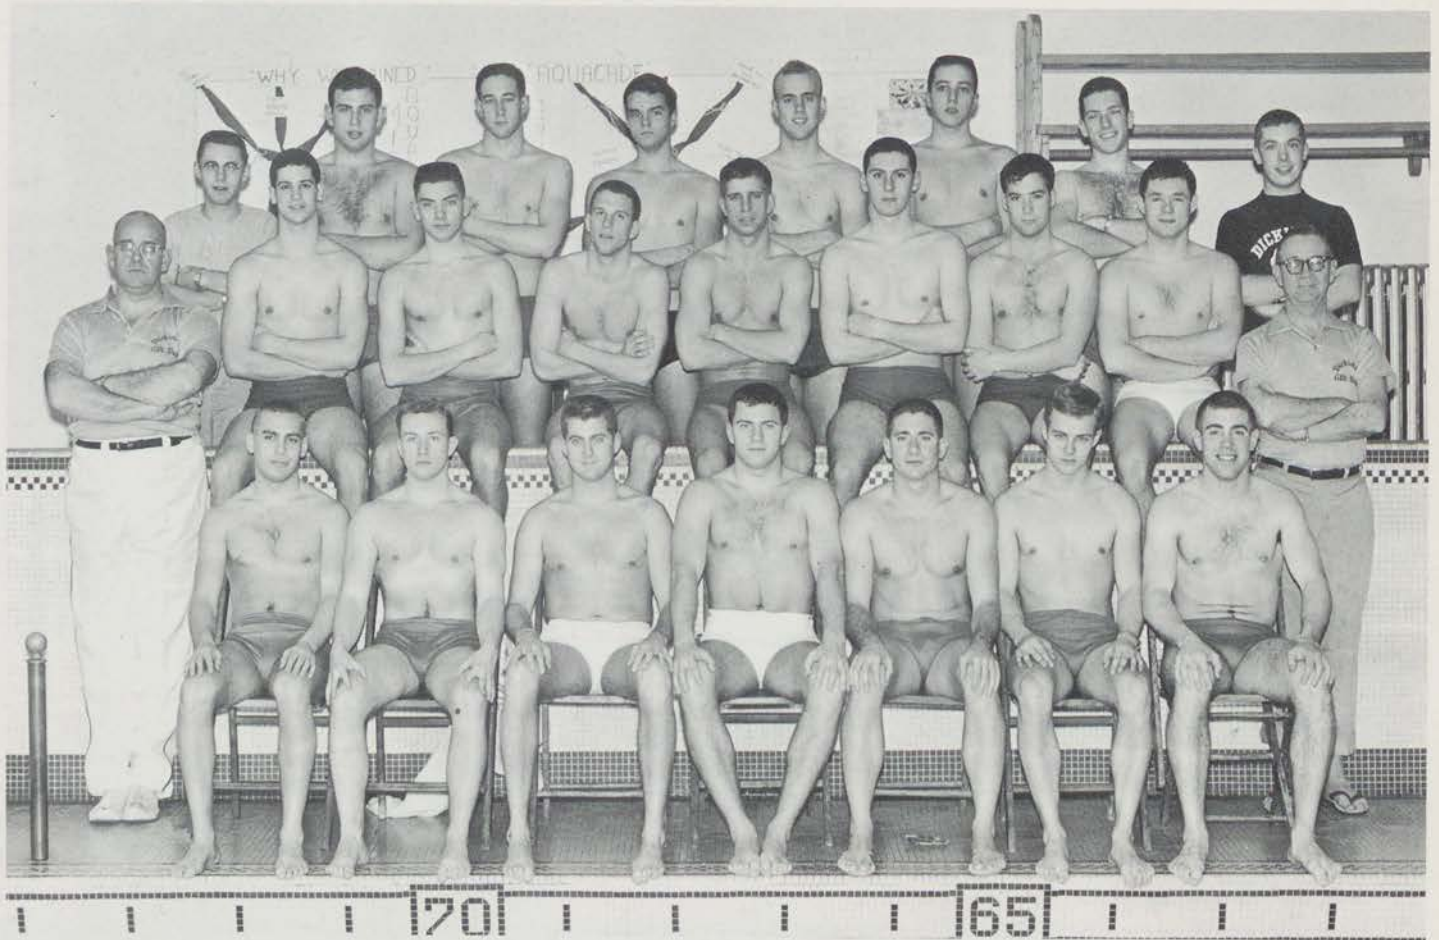

Sophomore Bill White was elected captain for the 1962 season.

Under the able coaching of Dave Eavenson and Dean Alan Coutts, Dickinson's Mermen had a .500 season. This was quite a change from past years when the team has won a high percentage of its meets.

Although the team had only a 4-4 record, the season was highlighted by the setting of four new records. The holders of the new records include: Doug Shatto in the 200 yard butterfly, Gus Bird in the 200 yard individual medley, and Lance Rogers, who set two—one in the 440 yard freestyle and the other in the 220 yard freestyle, the latter having been the oldest record on the boards.

Through graduation, the team loses diver Jim Whitesell and co-captains Dave Rilling and John Talley, Co-captains elected for '62-'63 are Doug Shatto and Gus Bird.

Wrestling 1961-62

The season began with high hopes of bettering 1960's 9-2 record. But with injuries and the loss of both heavy-weights, the team ended up with a very respectable 7-4 record, losing to Temple, Washington and Jefferson, Juniata, and powerful Moravian. Led by two outstanding Co-captains, Ben Cero and Joe Icenhower, the team was comprised completely of underclassmen: Jr. Ben Cero 157, Sophs. Joe Icenhower 137 — 147, John LeRoy 147-177, Jim Gauntt 130 — 137, and Dave Waight 177, Frosh. Tom Hallam 123, Jim Hallam 130, and Paul Crawshaw 167. Much credit goes to Sr. Jack Clough and Jr. John Rich who filled in ably when called upon. This year's Devils were a "never say die" team who gave better than their best when the going got rough. Much credit is due also to Coach Glenn Flegal who is greatly admired by "his boys." This year's M.V.P. award went to Captain Joe Icenhower.

With the same starting eight returning and the excellent coaching of "Go, Go, Go" Flegal, the '62 team will be looking to better 60's 9-2 record.

BASKET

Wes-the man in charge

The Dickinson College five, hurt by lack of height, went through their season with an unimpressive four win thirteen loss record. The victories came over Washington, Ursinus, Lycoming, and F. and M. The one bright spot that the team had was senior Gene Becker finishing the season with a total of 1004 points after scoring 11 points in the final game.

Dickinson loses three seniors this year; Capt. Gene Becker, "Flip" Smedley, and John Butera. Next year the prospects look much better for the Red Devils with returning letterman Bill Schantzenbach to lead the team. Returning with Shantz will be freshmen Tony Hermann, Richie Shapiro, and John Treicis, and sophomores Glenn Hitchens and Ed Eater. These boys are all excellent prospects with several seasons to play. With a little more height Dickinsonian basketball can have a very good season in '62-'63.

The squash team compiled a 5-6 record for the 1961-'62 season. They scored impressive victories over the Harrisburg and York YMCA's and lost to a powerful U. of Pitt. team only 6-3. With the installation of a coach, Professor Stanley Nodder halfway through the season and the return of nine lettermen, prospects for next year are excellent.

Coach Hays' netmen finished a stellar 1961 season with a perfect 8-0 record in regular competition. Sackett Cook, Whit Smyth, and Jeff Gorham all went undefeated. Both Dick Tull, the squad's captain, and John Harper logged respectful 5-4 records. Undoubtedly, the squad's finest performance was the opening victory over F & M. In post-season playoffs the Devils lost to Swarthmore in the Atlantic Southern Division competition.

This year all 5 men returned, and freshmen Mickey Shapiro and Larry Rand are expected to add depth to the squad. Another fine season is highly probable.

Under Coach Eavenson the Devils compiled a 4 wins—9 losses record last spring. Opening the season on April 8, the baseballers downed Wilkes 5-0. The next week they upset E-town 2-1 in 11 innings. Later the Diamond men beat a strong Temple team 7-3. The D'son nine completed the campaign by dropping favored Juniata 3-2. Throughout the spring poor weather thwarted the squad's efforts. The team relied heavily on pitching, as senior Bob McNutt led the moundsmen with a 3-4 record and 1.197 E.R.A. At the plate Mike Herman paced the squad with a .372 B.A., followed by this year's captain, Jack Thomas, at .250.

Although losing McNutt and Herman, the team has eleven lettermen returning. The pitching corps, riddled by graduation, may be the squad's trouble spot. Returning here are Meals, Ostien, Fillman, and Widmeyer. The infield is solid, the outfield is fast and experienced. The team will rely on speed and a strong defense. If the pitching jells, D'son could have a highly successful 1962 season.

TRACK

Last spring the Red Devil cindermen garnered their fifth consecutive winning season with a 2-1 record in dual meet competition. Coach DuCharme's men downed Susquehanna 106-23 and Lebanon Valley 87-39, and lost to P.M.C. 51-80. The team also competed in several tri-meets. Several men were outstanding. Bill Green and John Talley were fine dashmen. Kermit Gosnell, Al Wicks, and George Whitwell were big point men in the hurdles. Wicks was also a top pole vaulter. Bill Steckley was a valuable quartermiler. In the javelin and 2-mile, the graduated Jim Bartoli was outstanding. Roger Smith, also graduated, placed second in the Mid-Atlantic high jump.

Although Bartoli and Smith are gone, others are able to fill their shoes. This spring fifty-eight men reported, the largest squad in many years. With sixteen returning lettermen and a host of new freshmen and upperclassmen, all signs point to another winning season. This spring D'son will compete in 7 dual meets and 2 tri-meets, one for the "Little Three" Championship.

This year the Dickinson linksmen return with high hopes for a possible undefeated season. Only one man, Captain Al Sackman, has graduated and the lettermen returning number five. As it looks now this year's lineup will be: 1) G. Reish, 2) C. Kerrick, 3) T. Test, 4) T. Rogers, 5) C. Markely, 6) D. Kaufman. Number 4, 5, and 6 positions are new additions to last year's team that posted a 5-3 mark. The schedule calls for 9 matches plus the Middle Atlantic Championships. T. Test and C. Kerrick will serve as co-captains this year.

Editor's Note

In order that the senior class may have a public spokesman, an opportunity not available in the traditional commencement ceremonies, the 1962 MICROCOSM has initiated a new feature—the Senior Message. As thrice elected secretary of the class, as president of her sorority, and as president of the Wheel and Chain, Suzy Sheffer stands as one of the most respected and best liked members of the class. Thus it is only fitting that she be selected by the '62 MICROCOSM editorial board to be the senior class's spokesman to all of Dickinson.

Suzy Sheffer

Senior Message

Dear Dickinsonians,

The Dickinson College we now leave is not the one that greeted us four years ago. Since our arrival we have seen three presidents, two deans of women, two academic deans, and even a winning football team. The class has been a member of an apathetic student body and a member of a catalytic one. We have seen bad professors leave and good professors come and the opposite. We have worked against a naive, superficial administration and we have worked with a receptive, dynamic one. In short, we have seen mutability erode that hard shell of traditional tradition which circumscribed and symbolized Dickinson College.

The Class of 1962 is unique, not only for what it has witnessed, but also for what it has contributed to this transition.

Four years ago the Student Senate operated as adequately as it could under partial paralysis. Senate contributions to the college community were anaemic; Senate power and influence were pathetically feeble; and Senate activities were a campus enigma. It would have taken a rather elaborate miracle to correct all these disorders, so consequently many remain. However, by publicizing Senate proceedings and activities, sending delegates to college conferences, and sponsoring good film programs for student enjoyment, the Student Senate has made a positive contribution in eliminating the very popular and patented "individual" lethargy. This year the Communications Committee and S.R.E.C., infant and adolescent committees of Student Senate, have become strong and influential liaisons between students and administrations; they have further become mutual insurance policies against misunderstanding and injustice.

When the new Editorial Board inherited The Dickinsonian last year, it received a rather weak and supine legacy. One year later The Dickinsonian emerged an empathetic media, sensitive to every phase of the college, on and off campus.

As the Class of 1962 leaves, it prescribes one course of action for the undergraduates. In the next few years, students must work with Dickinson College just as one would with a patient coming out of a general anesthetic. Exercise every fiber of every muscle of every limb to insure complete recovery in the very near future.

Sincerely,
Suzy Sheffer

Phi Beta Kappa

Election to Phi Beta Kappa is the highest scholastic achievement that can be attained by a Dickinson student. As a special honor, certain "A" students are elected and initiated at the end of their junior year. The Dickinson Alpha chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, installed in 1887, was the first established in Pennsylvania.

For the past four years the Alpha chapter has awarded plaques at Convocation to the sorority and fraternity pledge classes having the highest academic average, and to the sorority and fraternity with the highest percentage of its members having a 3.5 average or better.

Pi Gamma Mu

Pi Gamma Mu, the national social science honorary society, serves to honor students of high scholastic attainment and proficiency in any one of the social sciences and to improve scholarship in the social studies. The Pennsylvania Upsilon chapter of Pi Gamma Mu was founded at Dickinson in 1959 and is under the leadership of Dr. Secor. This honorary fraternity is one of the newest at Dickinson.

Delta Phi Alpha

Gamma Beta chapter of Delta Phi Alpha, national honorary fraternity for students in advanced German courses, was founded at Dickinson in 1947. Monthly meetings, conducted in German under the supervision of Professors Royce, Sandels, and Weigle, are devoted to the intensive study of German language, literature, art, and science. One of this year's projects was the annual German Christmas program. Ten new members were inducted last fall.

Phi Mu Alpha

Phi Mu Alpha, an international music fraternity, is a relatively new group on the Dickinson campus. The group is composed of the outstanding participants in the various musical organizations on campus. Our Theta Chi chapter is devoted to furthering the appreciation of music not only on the Dickinson campus but throughout America as well, and have therefore planned to sponsor various concerts and other musical activities to further the cause of music.

Alpha Psi Omega

Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatic fraternity, has its Lambda Phi chapter here at Dickinson. Founded on campus in 1948, the fraternity encourages dramatic activity and recognizes students whose interest and participation in the drama program are outstanding. Taping takes place twice a year, and numerous projects are sponsored, such as receptions, dramatic readings, and Freshman Plays.

Omicron Delta Kappa, national men's leadership honorary, established its Upsilon Circle at Dickinson in 1927. On campus, ODK is the honorary society for the outstanding senior men. Membership is based on scholarship and leadership in the college's activities and athletics. The ten men who composed OSK this year were leaders from many phases of college life.

In the fall, ODK organized and ran the freshman men's orientation program and later in the term, held a series of seminars on current campus problems. The members served as hosts at the inauguration and at other important college affairs throughout the year as well as acting as a liaison between the administration and student opinion. In the spring, ODK holds an interfraternity songfest, presents awards to the outstanding sophomore man and to an outstanding campus activity, and taps junior men for the coming term.

Because of the leadership, service, and character of its members, ODK stands high in the respect and admiration of Dickinson College.

Election to Who's Who at Dickinson is one of the last and one of the highest honors which can be bestowed upon a Dickinson student. Those selected are the twelve most outstanding members of the senior class as based on the standards of scholarship, character, and participation in college affairs and extra-curricular activities. The committee of judges is composed of the Dean of Women, the Dean of Men, the managing editor of the MICROCOSM, and a junior student at large.

Active in government, publications, athletics, music, dramatics, and religious affairs, the members of Who's Who provided the leadership and much of the hard work necessary for successful campus activities.

1962 MICROCOSM

Ben Giorgio, Editor-in-Chief

Carol Durbin, Business Manager

Dear Dickinsonians,

You have almost come to the end of the 1962 Microcosm. Within its covers you have seen the contribution of many students and friends, long hours of work, dashes of confusion, and a lot of fun.

In putting the book together, we have tried to capture a year. Activities, scores, important events, and other tangibles were relatively easy to record. Our difficulty lay in another area, that of the atmosphere or spirit which pervaded throughout the past academic term. This spirit was new to Dickinson, heretofore under a spell of provincialism. This spirit was invigorating, exciting, and vibrated into every aspect of collegiate life.

The credit for the reawakening must be extended in many directions and to many people. Primary among those persons is Dr. Howard Rubendall, our energetic new president who, in addition to so much else he has done, led the spirited crowds to cheer on our first winning football team in years. The victorious season of a longtime losing squad did much to boost student morale from the start.

The reactivated student senate, the crusading Dickinsonian, and the regenerated student leader societies did much to channel the enthusiasm of the students into concern for Dickinson's problems and their solutions. Fraternity men began to recognize the faults of their system and made preliminary attempts toward their correction, one of the most significant of these being the elementary growth of an interfraternity spirit. Activities such as Mermaid Players and Belles Lettres continued and enlarged their fine programs and contributed much to the growing intellectualism of the campus.

While many more could be named, let us suffice to state that the signs are bright and numerous, that their results are already being felt. Let us realize that Dickinson College has entered a new era which may well be entitled a collegiate renaissance, an era of which the 1962 Microcosm is proud to be the herald.

Sincerely,

Ben Giorgio

EDITORIAL BOARD

The year 1961-1962 has been one of great change for Dickinson. Dedicated to this change, this year's MICROCOSM has chosen the "Face of Dickinson" as its theme. The editors and staff have reorganized the yearbook so that it may serve as a recorder of the past year, as well as include the standard features.

As a result of the capable and devoted leadership of editor-in-chief Benjamin Giorgio and his editors, the 1961-1962 MICROCOSM will be a constant source of enjoyable memories of college days for graduates and undergraduates alike.

PROUD PRODUCERS OF YOUR ANNUAL

It is with a spirited picture of excitement that we finally close the '62 Micro-cosm as a symbol of our hope that this new-found spirit at Dickinson shall not end with this year but shall live through the infinite years to come.
