Preparing for Crowds at 152nd Commencement

WITH hotel keepers reporting nearly all rooms already reserved and reunion chairmen sending out their last call notices, while the largest graduating class in years invites relatives and friends, there is every indication that the throng which will swarm to the 152nd Commencement from June 7 to 10 will be the greatest in history.

Though it had been thought earlier that the coming of alumni for Sub-Freshman Day in April and for the Inauguration on May 4 would curtail the attendance at Commencement, it is now apparent that there will be a greater throng present in June than ever before. All plans are being made to handle capacity crowds at every function.

While the Commencement program will largely follow the schedule of other years, many alumni will be reminded of their own college days when the President of the College enters the pulpit to preach the Baccalaureate Sermon. Dr. Corson will deliver the sermon in this, his first Commencement. He will be assisted in the service by Dr. W. H. Norcross and Dr. J. H. Morgan. This service will be held in the Alumni Gymnasium on Sunday morning, June 9, at 11 o'clock instead of in Allison M. E. Church. The change will be made to provide seats for those desiring to attend for many have been turned away from the Church in recent years.

Friday, June 7, will be Senior Day. There will be a special chapel exercise at 10.15 o'clock in the morning when representatives of the Class of 1902 will attend and when the 1902 Award will be presented. Class Day Exercises will be held in Bosler Hall in the afternoon, and will be followed by the Senior Induction at the 1910 Flagpole.

The Senior Ball, which will be the third of its kind, will be held in the Alumni Gymnasium beginning at 8 o'clock in the evening. Benny Goodman and his fifteen piece orchestra, nationally known radio stars, will furnish the music. Meetings of the Executive Committee and of the Board of Trustees will be held Friday afternoon and evening.

Several of the reunion classes have planned get-together parties for Friday night. These will be held either at the homes of classmates in Carlisle or in the various class headquarters in Old West.

Once again, Saturday will be Alumni Day though the program is slightly different than it was last year. The members of Phi Beta Kappa will start the day's proceedings with a 9 o'clock meeting in Memorial Hall. This will be followed by the annual meeting of the General Alumni Association. President Corson will appear at this meeting having accepted an invitation of the Alumni Council to present a report of the work of the year and his views on the relation of the alumni to the program of the college.

Refusing to gamble with the vagaries of Carlisle weather, the Alumni Day Committee has decreed that the Alumni Luncheon will be held in the Alumni Gymnasium at noon on Saturday. Last year a hurried retreat was made from the expensively planned Mooreland Tract affair to the Gymnasium when a genuine shower opened fire shortly before noon.

Following the luncheon will be the Alumni Parade, though it will terminate on the Mooreland Tract instead of at Biddle Field. The baseball team cannot appear during the Commencement season for on Saturday afternoon it will be the guest of Bucknell at Lewisburg. However, the Commencement visitors will have the opportunity to witness an alumni team engage a championship faculty team in a mush-ball contest on the Mooreland Tract.

Once again the President's reception returns to the Commencement program and from 4 to 6 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, President and Mrs. Corson will receive all visitors at their home.

Fraternity banquets are scheduled for 5:30 o'clock and will start off on time to permit a wind-up without conflicting with the evening program. A concert featuring the 1935 and 1915 Glee Clubs will be given under the direction of Charles A. Goodyear in Bosler Hall at 8.30 o'clock. A plan is also afoot to have the college orchestra which has been delighting hearers all year, and the Women's Glee Club participate in this program.

Plans are also underway to reestablish the campus sing on the Old Stone Steps following the concert. The College Band will be invited to turn out and all present and former glee club members will be invited to join the chorus which will be directed by Mr. Goodyear. The campus will be illuminated especially for the Commencement season and for this function.

The Baccalaureate Services will open with an academic procession which will form at West College at 10.45 o'clock. In the evening of Sunday, the Women's Glee Club, under the direction of Mrs. Leslie M. Karper, will give a sacred concert in Allison M. E. Church, beginning at 8 o'clock. For the first time last year, this concert took the place of the one time Vesper Service and it met with enthusiastic and immediate approval. Thus, the Women's Glee Club has probably won a permanent place and a definite assignment in the Commencement program.

The majority of the reunion classes are planning dinners which will be held on Sunday following the Baccalaureate Services. The reunion classes will also have designated tables at the Alumni Luncheon on Saturday.

The Hon. Josiah Oliver Wolcott, Chancellor of the State of Delaware, will be the orator at the 152nd Commencement Exercises which will be held in the Alumni Gymnasium on Monday morning, June 10 as the concluding event for the four day program. The academic procession will form at 9.45 o'clock and the exercises will begin at 10 o'clock. Graduates of the college and law school will receive their diplomas and ten honorary degrees will be conferred in these exercises.

The attention of Commencement visitors is directed to the fact that Carlisle operates on Eastern Standard Time, and also that every one upon arrival should register in the Registration Room in Old West. Tickets will be available there for all events and information will be given concerning any function.

New Coach Visits Campus

Arthur D. Kahler, Dickinson's football coach-elect, paid a brief visit to the campus during the first week in April, and received a welcome from the undergraduate body fit for a man who had successfully accomplished the job he undertakes here this Fall.

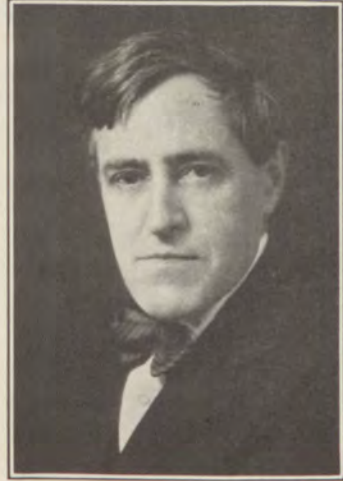

The new gridiron mentor was introduced to the entire undergraduate body by President Corson during one of the chapel periods and in addition he had a personal interview with each member of his 1935 squad. The enthusiasm resulting from the personal contacts with the new coach resulted in the students organizing their own spring practice under the direction of Captain William Ackerman. Some twenty-odd candidates participated in the workouts which consisted principally of conditioning exercises and ball handling.

Kahler and his family will move to Carlisle the first week in June.

To Confer Ten Honorary Degrees at Commencement

HARRY W. NICE, '99
Governor of Maryland

JOSIAH OLIVER WOLCOTT, D.C.L.
Chancellor of Delaware

TEN honorary degrees will be conferred by the College at the 152nd Commencement Exercises in the Alumni Gymnasium, Monday morning, June 10. Three of them will be awarded to alumni.

Harry W. Nice, '99, Governor of Maryland, will be one of three who will receive the degree of Doctor of Laws. Governor Nice, one of Maryland's foremost lawyers, was elected as Maryland's chief executive last November.

Josiah Oliver Wolcott, Chancellor of Delaware, and Senator George Woodward, of Philadelphia, are the others who will receive this degree. Chancellor Wolcott will be the Commencement orator. As Chancellor of the State of Delaware, he is a member of the State Supreme Court, of which he is the presiding Judge. Dr. George Woodward, who completes the trio to receive this degree, has been a member of the Senate of Pennsylvania since 1918 and has played a prominent part in the civic life of Philadelphia.

The degree of Doctor of Science will be conferred upon Martin W. Clement, President of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and Brigadier General Matthew A. DeLaney, commandant of the United States Medical Field Service School, Carlisle. Clement, who graduated from Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., in 1901 rose successively from rodman on the Sunbury (Pa.) division of the Pennsylvania Railroad until he succeeded Gen. W. W. Atterbury as president this year.

Brigadier General DeLaney, who was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal by General Pershing for "exceptionally meritorious and distinguished service" in France during the late War, was White House physician to President Taft from 1909 to 1913. He was made commandant of the Medical Field Service School, January 1, 1933.

O. R. Howard Thompson, librarian of the James V. Brown Library, Williamsport, Pa., will receive the degree of Doctor of Literature. He is also known as an author and poet, and as a contributor of poems to magazines and the press.

Two alumni will receive the degree of Doctor of Divinity when this award is made to the Rev. Lester Ward Auman, '14, pastor of the First M. E. Church, Jamaica, N. Y., and to Commander W. W. Edel, '15, U. S. Navy, who is now stationed at the staff headquarters of the 12th Naval District, San Francisco, California.

The degree of Doctor of Divinity will also be conferred upon Edgar Cordell Powers, Executive Secretary of the Maryland Bible Society, and upon the Rev. Thomas J. J. Wright, superintendent of the Bridgeton District of the New Jersey Conference of the M. E. Church.

1935 Joins Alumni Association

Indications are that the Class of 1935 will lead the way in membership in the General Alumni Association as already more than sixty per cent of the Class have subscribed to one year memberships. With seventy-nine members already, the Class of 1935 will probably better the mark set by the Class of 1934, which boasts a sixty-five per cent class membership.

Scientists Meet in Convention

One hundred and four scientists of the State attended the two day session of the Pennsylvania Academy of Science and Junior Academy of Science at the College last month. There were fifty-nine demonstrations and papers presented at the convention.

All of the meetings during the two day period were attended by from thirty-five to sixty persons. 191 people attended the lecture by Dr. William W. Cort on "Biological Studies on Human Parasites."

Elmer C. Herber of the College faculty informed the convention that "persons born in August run better chances of winning fame than those of any other month of the year." His paper was based on a survey of 40,000 names in the "American Men of Science" and "Who's Who," which showed that August produced more famous men and May less people than any other month of the year.

Prof. M. W. Eddy of the faculty made all plans for the convention.

Inaugurate President Corson in Fine Ceremonies

DR. Fred P. Corson, graduate of the Class of 1917, was inaugurated the twentieth president of Dickinson College on May 4. A student tribute preceded the formal program on Friday evening, May 3.

Delegates from about 100 educational institutions and learned societies attended the Inaugural Exercises which were held in Bosler Hall, following the traditional academic procession through the campus, in which the faculties of the College and Law School, Trustees and Incorporators also participated.

The invocation by Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes of the Washington Area of the M. E. Church, and trustee of the college, opened the exercises. Unusually fitting addresses were made by Dr. Paul H. Musser, dean of the University of Pennsylvania, representing the Association of Pennsylvania Colleges, of which he is president; Robert H. Richards, '95, prominent Wilmington attorney, representing the alumni, and Prof. William W. Landis, who will complete his fortieth year in June as a Dickinson teacher, representing the faculty.

Three honorary degrees were conferred at the exercises. Dr. Isaiah Bowman, president-elect of Johns Hopkins University, received the degree of Doctor of Laws. He was presented for the degree by Prof. Landis. In the conferring of the same degree upon Edward M. Biddle, Jr., '86, former president judge of the Cumberland County Courts, Raphael S. Hays, '94, made the presentation. The Rev. Wilbur V. Mallalieu, S.T.D., '99, pastor of the Grace M. E. Church of Harrisburg, received the degree of Doctor of Divinity, and was presented by Dr. J. Horace McFarland, member of the Board of Trustees.

Following the inaugural address, the mantle of the presidency was formally placed upon Doctor Corson by Boyd Lee Spahr, LL.D., '00, president of the Board of Trustees, who in his charge to the President set forth the creed and standards of the college.

Former President J. H. Morgan pronounced the benediction and the college orchestra, under the direction of Prof. R. S. Schecter furnished the music for the occasion.

Following the Inaugural Exercises, a luncheon was tendered to the delegates in the Alumni Gymnasium, which had been attractively decorated by Plack, of Harrisburg, for the event. Parsons catered.

No formal program had been planned for the luncheon. President Spahr filled the role of toastmaster and there were three extemporaneous speeches by Judge Joseph Buffington of the Federal Court; Judge E. M. Biddle, Jr., and Dr. Isaiah Bowman.

From four to six o'clock in the afternoon, there was a reception at the home of President and Mrs. Corson which was attended by hundreds of delegates, alumni, students and townfolk who came to add to the greetings of good wishes which poured into that house for days. The receiving line was composed of President and Mrs. Corson, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Lee Spahr, Dean and Mrs. E. A. Vuilleumier and Prof. W. H. Norcross. Members of the faculty and their wives filled various roles in the reception.

The faculty committee on Public Affairs of which Prof. Norcross is chairman, was in charge of all inauguration planning and management.

On the eve of the inauguration, a fine student tribute was paid to President and Mrs. Corson in a program tendered in Bosler Hall. Following an exceptional address by Edward C. First, who will graduate in June, President Corson was presented with a scroll containing a pledge of loyalty and bearing the signatures of the student body. Miss Ruth Shawfield, also a Senior, presented

Mrs. Corson with a basket of flowers. William T. Gordon, president of the Men's Senate, presided.

Senator Lester J. Dickinson, of Iowa, was the orator at this student function and he spoke on the part a college can play in national problems. He was introduced by Henry P. Fletcher, national Republican chairman, former ambassador and honorary alumnus of the college.

Sees Presidency As A Cooperative Task

A LIMITED student body, carefully selected will continue to be the policy of Dickinson College, President Fred P. Corson declared in his inaugural address after he had been inducted as the twentieth president of the College on May 4.

Dickinson will continue to provide an education for those capable of using it, Doctor Corson stated in noting that the traditional "Rah-Rah" boy, who goes to college for everything except an education, has passed and in his place has appeared the student with a more serious mind who is willing to invest his talents in the service of society.

Doctor Corson challenged the government subsidization of chosen educational institutions in his address in which he outlined his administrative policies as well as making a keen analysis of the educational problems of the small colleges of today.

After delving into the historical development and growth of the College, Doctor Corson outlined the future problems. "The necessities of our situation," he said, "call for experimentation, exploration and discovery. And the outcome depends primarily upon the mental capacities, moral stamina and spiritual resources which we can command for the task. We must have men and women who can lead as well as follow, and who can create valid principles as well as perform useful skills.

"We must be ever alert to differentiate between education and propaganda. The end we seek in all of our teaching must be truth rather than any preconceived position or system. This is a difficult outcome to accomplish. Its costs are great in mental effort and at times it must be prepared to withstand the storms of passion, prejudice and bigoted criticism. But we are safe as a nation only when we have a people trained to recognize the truth and prepared to pay the price for its possession."

Turning to the maintenance of liberal arts colleges, Dr. Corson said: "The practical concerns of maintaining the liberal arts college in our educational system must also engage the serious attention of this generation if its efficiency and effectiveness are to be maintained. The attention of both the state and private philanthropy has been too largely diverted from these small liberal arts colleges.

"State supported schools have grown up and flourished by the benefactions of current taxation. The maverick relief or emergency junior colleges have multiplied in some sections with the fecundity of the fabled family that lived in a shoe. But the rank and file of our small liberal arts colleges doing a worthy work and bearing their share of the educational load, have had to make their educational bricks without sufficient financial straw. Too often they have felt themselves the step-child in the educational family.

"This situation cannot continue without grave consequences to our democracy. A study is needed of the relation of government to all of our educational instruments, which would result in an intelligent allocation of function and would safeguard the life of that group of institutions which with their own resources are carrying so much of the educational load."

In touching upon conditions here, Doctor Corson said,

"Dickinson College has been exceedingly fortunate during these days of depression, due largely to wise management and the drawing power of its magnificent record in the educational field. But its future service will be most seriously jeopardized unless the endowment can be materially increased, scholarships created for the student of unusual promise and new equipment provided as need requires. Perhaps we can no longer expect their provision by the few, but I am convinced that they can be made possible by a democracy of giving which distributes the responsibility and privilege to everyone in the larger constituency according as he has prospered.

"For the support of our policy and for the provision of these means whereby it can function efficiently, we must look to the voluntary interest of that host beyond the campus walls among whom are numbered the trustees, the alumni and friends of the College. Just as the Dickinson of yesterday was the lengthened shadow of those who loved her, so the Dickinson of today and tomorrow will be the lengthened shadow of these composite groups.

"Internally the college task is one of adaptation and hinges upon the continued ability of self-criticism which will enable us to judge our procedure in the light of its results and to adapt it and to change it, if need be, in the light of our findings. We must ever be alert to differentiate between education and propaganda. The end we seek in our teaching must be truth rather than any preconceived position. We are safe as a nation only when we have a people trained to recognize the truth and prepared to pay the price for its possession."

Concluding, Doctor Corson asserted that "the interests of the small liberal arts college must be considered as a co-operative task. If it is to continue its necessary work of education for citizenship and leadership, if it is to keep alive the vital tradition of our democracy, if it is to quicken and strengthen those spiritual capacities necessary for abundant living, discriminating parents must send it their sons and daughters, the church must create for it a sensitized constituency, the alumni must feed it by their interest and their gifts and the trustees must manage it through loving and sacrificial service."

The matter of immediate interest at the present moment is Commencement and I am tempted to devote the President's Page in this issue to an exhortation to every alumnus to return to the College on June 7, 8, 9 and 10. The campus never looked more beautiful, the reunion class committees have never been more active, and everything points to one of the best commencements in the history of the College. Both Mrs. Corson and I would be most happy to greet you on the campus and to welcome you in our home. It may take an effort to arrange your affairs in such a way as to permit your return, but I feel certain that you will be well repaid for coming.

There is another matter which is engaging our thought at this particular time. It concerns the members of the graduating class. This class I believe is the largest ever graduated from the College and in scholarship attainment and personality traits the members of this class will rank with any graduating class in America. Some of them are going to graduate schools for further study. Some have jobs waiting for them. Others are looking for work. I recognize the difficulty in finding jobs for young people in this day, and I am therefore appealing to you to help us in this matter. If you are in a position to employ young people, will you write to me in order that we may put the names of these young people on your list. If you are school principals, or superintendents, School Trustees, or teach in school systems where vacancies are to occur, will you also write to us in order that we may give you the names of our recent graduates who would be available to fill such positions; and if you have friends who are employers, either of teachers or of other workers, will you speaking a word for these Dickinson young people and also write us, in order that we may make those contacts. The alumni can help us greatly in following the example of other institutions where the alumni take an active interest in the placing of the younger graduates. If you will send us any information that you may have, or any helpful suggestions within the next few days, it would be very greatly appreciated.

The many evidences of interest and support expressed to us at the inauguration were not only greatly appreciated, but also, I trust, are an omen of the future well-being of the College.

There is still time to make a contribution to the Scholarship-Loan Fund. We need about $1,500 to reach the $6,000 goal.

Finally, let me urge you again to return to Commencement.

Alumni Dine in Altoona

The Dickinson Club of Altoona held its annual dinner meeting at the Penn Alto Hotel, Friday evening, April 12. Fifty-five alumni from Altoona and vicinity attended the affair at which the Hon. J. Banks Kurtz, '93, presided as toastmaster.

The speakers at the dinner were President Fred P. Corson, Walter Harrison Hitchler, Dean of the Law School and John B. Fowler, graduate manager of athletics.

The newly elected officers are: Thomas L. Jones, '01, president; Richard H. Gilbert, '11L, and Mrs. E. W. Stitzel, '19, vice-presidents; Park H. Loose, '27, secretary and John M. Klepser, '22, treasurer.

One Hundred Forty-eight Lifers on Alumni Roll

A GAIN of six names over the list published last May is shown on the roll of Life Members in the General Alumni Association published by the edict of the Alumni Council in this number of the magazine. The roll now lists 148 names.

Last year's report in the May issue listed 142 names while the previous year the total was 137. In 1932 it was 132 and in 1931, 121. The one hundred mark was passed for the first time in May, 1930, when 106 names were reported.

The six new names added to the Lifer Roll were those of William H. Rogers, '05; Colonel Charles M. Steese, '07; Miss Linette E. Lee, '09; Dr. Fred P. Corson, '17; Dr. William G. Kimmel, '19; and Mrs. E. A. Vuilleumier, '24.

During the fiscal year the name of one alumnus became memorialized through death and an asterick now appears before the name of Harry L. Dress, '02.

The addition of six single names to six different classes in the year did not change the position of classes and 1902 still leads all other classes in the total number of Lifers by a large margin, having fifteen enrolled. The Classes of 1903 and 1912 were for second place, each having six Lifers. The Classes of 1910 and 1915 formerly tied for third place with five each, now share a four way tie with 1905 and 1907 in view of the addition of the names of William H. Rogers, '05, and Col. Charles M. Steese, '07.

As was true a year ago, the Classes of 1871, 1873, 1875, 1877, 1879, 1890, 1892, 1894, 1920, 1929, and 1931 are not listed in the Life Membership Roll. To this list must now be added the Class of 1934.

One hundred forty-eight alumni having paid $40.00 each, the total Life Membership Fund of the General Alumni Association is $5,920.00. This principal sum is invested and the income only is used for Alumni Association purposes.

Two New Lifers

Two more alumni became Life Members of the General Alumni Association since the publication of the last number of THE DICKINSON ALUMNUS.

William H. Rogers, '05, attorney of Jacksonville, Fla., sent in his check in March.

Col. Charles M. Steese, '07, of the Ordnance Corps, U. S. Army, filled in his check following the dinner of the Dickinson Club of Washington in May.

Life Membership costs $40.00 and may be paid in two installments of $20.00 each. It carries with it a life subscription to the Dickinson Alumnus and entitles the Lifer to all the rights and privileges of active membership in the Association. It ends the annual payment of dues. Checks for Life Membership may be sent to the DICKINSON ALUMNUS, West College, Carlisle, or to the Treasurer of the Association, Rev. Dr. Harry B. Stock, Carlisle, Pa.

Contributes to Magazine

L. W. Eshleman, '23, published in The Living Age for December, 1934, the feature article upon "The Truth About the Protocols." This article deals with a notorious forgery alleged to reveal a Jewish plot. Mr. Eshleman proves that they were composed to encourage Greek orthodoxy in Russia.

In the March, 1935, number of the same magazine Mr. Eshleman also had an article on "The Coming Fourth Reich," a discussion of the efforts of Germany to acquire the old provinces of Austria-Hungary. At present Mr. Eshleman is engaged in teaching in New York City, where he is on the faculty of Friends Seminary.

Subscriptions Pour In For Scholarship-Loan Fund

ONE hundred forty-six subscriptions have been received up to May 15 in response to President Corson's appeal for gifts toward the Scholarship-Loan fund. The subscriptions total $4,300.00 and range in amounts for $1.00 to $500.00 of which there were four. There has been paid in cash $4,175.00.

With the opening of the college year when he entered upon his duties on October 1, President Corson found a shortage in the amount needed for student help. Requests had been received for $45,000.00 from College funds, and the Trustees had authorized the use of $30,000.00. After a careful study of all applications and the amounts needed in each individual case, President Corson found it would require $6,000.00 additional to aid these students and at the same time balance the college budget for the year.

Setting the goal at $6,000.00, President Corson issued an appeal to the Trustees first and then to the alumni by mail. Subscriptions began* to come in at once, and it is the hope that the remaining $1,700.00 will be subscribed by or before Commencement. Alumni may send subscriptions for this purpose directly to President Corson, making their remittances payable to the order of Dickinson College.

Washington Club Plans Annual Scholarship Grant

A resolution directing the officers of the club to solicit funds to be used for scholarship aid for students in the college from the territory of the Dickinson Club of Washington was adopted at the annual dinner of that body held at the Brook Farm Tea House on May 14. Thirty-seven attended the dinner at which the Hon. John Dickinson, Assistant Secretary of Commerce of the United States, who received the degree of LL.D. from the college at the last Commencement, was the guest of honor.

The proposal to establish a scholarship fund was suggested in a letter from Miss Grace Vale, '00, who for some time has been in poor health and was unable to attend the dinner. With her letter she sent a check for the purpose, providing that twenty others give $10 each to the fund. By resolution the officers were directed to proceed with the plan and several alumni pledged their support to the project. It was indicated that several scholarships of $100 each will probably be awarded by the club for the academic year beginning next September.

J. Fred Laise, president of the club, presided. Merle Protzman officiated at the piano. Rev. Luther Neff had as his guest two members of his congregation in Chevy Chase. The one, Mr. Irving Tulley, sang several numbers following the dinner while the other guest accompanied him on the piano.

Brig. Gen. Frank R. Keefer introduced Secretary Dickinson, who spoke inspiringly and kept the interest of his hearers. Following the presentation of Mrs. Fred P. Corson, President Corson delivered his address.

All of the officers were reelected for another year. They are as follows: J. Fred Laise, President; Charles F. Kramer, Vice-President; Maude E. Wilson, Secretary and J. Mahlon Selby, Treasurer.

EDITORIAL

THE INAUGURATION

THE inauguration of President Corson as Dickinson's twentieth President, May 4 was in every sense a felicitous occasion, well managed, in good taste and marked by dignity. A savage jest would be to express no surprise, after the considerable experience with this sort of thing the College has had in recent years.

Sister colleges over the East showed their regard for Dickinson by sending official delegates to the number of considerably more than a hundred. The official ceremonies of induction had an agreeable scholastic flavor and the luncheon which followed was delightfully informal.

President Corson's address was as well received as it was delivered. He reaffirmed the time-tested educational principles to which Dickinson has adhered from its birth. As a matter of fact there was a kind of ecstasy for all Dickinsonians in the exposition by Dr. Corson that the things for which the college stood in education all during the years when the mode was otherwise have been proved by the experience of troubled times to be sound pedagogically.

There is small satisfaction in being odd in education merely for the sake of being odd, but if devotion to sound curriculum is a bit freakish then Dickinson or any other institution can endure that classification. Even in a changing world, some things do not change and ought not.

ALUMNI CLUB LOYALTY

IT IS quite obvious from the record written this year that some of the Dickinson Clubs scattered about the country are not content to merely meet and greet at annual dinners. That in itself is a fine contribution to the welfare of the College, but some of the clubs believe in advancing from sentiment to substance.

Thus the Washington Club this year took steps to provide a scholarship for a worthy son or daughter of its area. Rather than endow it, the Washington alumni have adopted the plan of collecting $10 a year from 20 of their number. Something of the same sort has been initiated by members of the club at Trenton, N. J.

Naturally the old Baltimore Club looks upon these actions with satisfaction for it was there that the club scholarship idea was adopted first. For several years Dickinsonians in that city have been sponsoring a student from that vicinity. There is every indication that the alumni enjoy it quite as much as the fortunate student.

Here clearly is a plan that is likely to appeal to other clubs. It is an effective way of supporting the College. More and more the conviction grows that colleges of Dickinson's type,—the sturdy little liberal arts college,—must in these days of huge endowments for larger institutions and tax subsidies for state institutions depend for its support upon its own graduates. Graduates may send their own children or through the scholarship plan send the children of somebody else, if enrollments are to continue flush.

Several of the alumni clubs seized the opportunity to entertain prospective students of the College at their annual dinners. For several years the Baltimore Club has done this as well as to invite the parents of Maryland students and Conference representatives to be present. The Trenton Club entertained a good delegation this year, and not to be outdone the Baltimore Club carefully arranged a motorcade to bring a dozen prospective students and their parents to Carlisle for Sub-Freshman Day. This is another great field for alumni club activity for which all club officers should plan.

LIFE MEMBERSHIP

LIFE membership rolls in the Alumni Association continue to grow, perhaps slowly but surely. This year six graduates took the pledge for life, thus bringing the total to 148.

It is rather surprising that some classes that might be expected to be well represented among the "lifers" are still without any delegate in that select company. How class pride has escaped being painfully pricked by this exhibition is rather a mystery.

On the basis of $40 memberships, the life group has built up a principal of nearly $6,000. Only the income may be used for general alumni purposes but this has been large enough in recent years to make possible alumni association activities which otherwise would have been out of the question.

In the years to come if graduates continue to take out life memberships the income may be adequate to do a lot of missionary work in behalf of alumni interests. It is regrettable that not every graduate is receiving THE ALUMNUS. Those who do not or cannot subscribe need the magazine more than the subscribers if interest is to be widespread and wholesome.

There are many other places where such income could be spent with profit to the College. On the basis of life expectancy it is economically prudent to get into the "life" class as soon after graduation as possible. Forty dollars pay twenty years of membership. It's a "melancholy Dane" who will not take a risk like that.

CAMPUS CHARM

BEST evidence in the world that Commencement this year will attract an unusually large attendance is that hotel and other reservations for the last month have been far in advance of recent years. There is no mistaking that the interest of old grads, visitors and others in this annual and delightful college event is widespread.

Doubtless improved economic conditions help explain this situation. Dickinsonians along with others had "tough times" during recent years. Class reunions were not up to par. Crowds were thinner. The reason was obvious.

But there is another factor accumulating strength during the years. More and more alumni are finding that Commencement time offers them one of the finer experiences of post graduate years. No longer is an alumnus a "lone wolf" on his beloved campus. His friends are there, if not those of his campus days, then others he has met and made during the years he has been returning for Commencement.

To many an alumnus, however, the mere sight of the campus in the early part of June is compensation enough. With every respect for other beautiful college grounds, there is a charm about the Dickinson campus for a Dickinsonian that cannot be duplicated. The landscape culturists each year seem to be doing a better job of making the campus attractive to the eye. Add to this the memories awakened by the sight of Old West and the other buildings and only the man entirely bereft of sentiment can fail to respond to the appeal of the setting.

Mail Ballots in Election for Trustee and Council

BALLOTS were mailed to members of the General Alumni Association in April in the annual election for members of the Alumni Council and Alumni Trustee. The ballots are returnable on or before May 31 when the Tellers will notify the victors and then announce the results on Alumni Day.

Three sets of candidates appear on this year's ballot and these were named by a nominating committee selected by President Harry L. Price which was composed by Prof. C. J. Carver, '09; Frank B. Sellers, '97; and J. Boyd Landis, '31. For the office of Alumni Trustee the committee named Edmund J. Presby, '01, of New Kensington, Pa., former officer of the Wear-Ever Aluminum Company; S. Walter Stauffer, '12, of York, the present incumbent, who is also Secretary of the General Alumni Association and Frank E. Masland, Jr., '18, Carlisle manufacturer.

The nominating committee for the first time named fair co-eds for offices on the Alumni Council. While three were named, one will surely be elected for in one instance but one of the two is to be elected. Mrs. Florence Ralston Belt, '07 and Marjorie McIntire, '10, were named, one to be chosen for the one year term expiring in 1936 to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Lewis M. Strite.

Mrs. Belt married J. Edward Belt, '03. She lives in Harrisburg where she is vice-president of the Harrisburg Alumnae Club. Miss McIntire is the daughter of Dr. B. O. McIntire. She teaches in the high school in Atlantic City, N. J., where she is vice-president of the Dickinson Club. She is a Life Member of the General Alumni Association.

Linette E. Lee, '09, another Lifer and a teacher, is the other co-ed nominated. She is one of the ten candidates, five of whom will be elected for the three year term of the Alumni Council which will expire in 1938. She lives in New Brunswick, N. J., and is President of the New York Alumnae Club.

Once again, Dr. Harry B. Stock, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Carlisle has been nominated for the Alumni Council. He is treasurer of the General Alumni Association and is a Life Member.

Thomas L. Jones, '01, a coal operator of Altoona, where he is President of the Dickinson Club, was a member of the Alumni Council when it was first created in 1923. He is a Lifer, a member of Phi Kappa Sigma, and a regular visitor to the campus throughout the year.

Dr. Warren N. Shuman, '02, practices medicine in Jersey Shore, Pa. He is a Sigma Chi, and has long been actively interested in the athletic program of the college.

Another nominee is J. Ernest Crane, '11, principal of the Summer Avenue School of Newark, N. J. He is President of the Dickinson Club of Northern New Jersey, a Life Member of the Alumni Association and his daughter, Eleanor, is completing her Sophomore year as a student of the college.

A. H. Aldridge, '12, is known best as "Judge" Aldridge. He is the national secretary of Theta Chi Fraternity and has his office in Trenton, N. J.

Thomas H. Ford, '14, is Superintendent of Schools of Reading, Pa., and also the President of the Dickinson Club of Reading-Berks.

George C. Hering, Jr., '17, is a Deputy Attorney General for Delaware and has his offices in Wilmington. He is a member of Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity.

Dr. Harry D. Kruse, '22, is a former officer of the Dickinson Club of Baltimore. He is an associate professor on the faculty of Johns Hopkins University.

The tenth nominee is Robert W. Crist, '22, a member of Beta Theta Pi, and the Assistant Secretary of the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce.

Announce Several Changes in Faculty

PRESIDENT FRED P. CORSON recently announced the resignation of three members of the College faculty and the appointment of an instructor in German. The men who have tendered their resignations, effective at the end of the current college term, are Professors Francis A. Waterhouse, C. R. Walther Thomas and Mr. Robert L. Brunhouse. Chandler Lazenby has been appointed instructor of German for the next academic year.

Professor Francis A. Waterhouse, professor of Romance Languages at the College since 1930, resigned to accept a similar post at John B. Stetson University at DeLand, Florida. Prof. Waterhouse, who graduated from Harvard in 1905, previously taught at University of Pennsylvania, University of Texas, Hamilton and Kenyon colleges. His two daughters, Frances and Annie Marie, are members of the Freshman class of the College.

Professor Thomas, Associate Professor of German, resigned to accept an appointment as instructor of German at the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Maryland. Professor Thomas, who came to Dickinson as instructor in German in 1928 and has since received his master's and doctor's degree at the University of Pennsylvania, will assume his new duties at the Naval Academy, June 1.

Mr. Robert Brunhouse, instructor of History and Registrar of the College, has resigned to continue graduate study in history at the University of Pennsylvania under the Harrison Scholarship which he received recently. Brunhouse graduated from Dickinson in 1930 and was appointed to the College faculty the same year.

Chandler Lazenby, son of a prominent Methodist minister, has been named to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Professor Thomas.

The new instructor is a graduate of Birmingham-Southern College, Class of 1930. He has done extensive graduate work in Berlin, Germany and Switzerland. At the present time Lazenby is assistant secretary of the Carl Schurtz Memorial Foundation.

Lazenby is 26 years old, was born in Alabama and is the son of the Rev. Dr. M. E. Lazenby, Methodist minister and editor of the Alabama Christian Advocate.

To Reopen Summer School

After a lapse of a year, the 13th annual session of the Dickinson Summer School of Religious Education will be held at the College, June 22 to 29, inclusive. Seminars will be offered on Leadership Education, Evangelism and on Building a Church program in addition to several other courses.

Rev. E. C. Keboch, '05, director of Religious Education of the Central Pennsylvania Conference, will serve as Dean of the School while Rev. Andrew L. Bixler will be the Registrar. Prof. R. I. Thompson, and Prof. Paul H. Doney of the College faculty, will conduct several courses and other well known instructors will be members of the summer school faculty.

The tuition will be $4 while board and room will be provided for $10. Applications for registration should be mailed to Andrew L. Bixler, 2212 Sixth Ave., Altoona, Pa.

More Grads Pass Law Exams

Nine members of the Class of 1934 of the Law School passed the Pennsylvania Law Board examinations in January, it was revealed recently.

They are: Roland Cannan, Philadelphia; Miles L. Cohen, Lewistown; William C. Hazlett, Dry Run; Harry B. Hogemyer, Altoona; William J. Kearney, Dunmore; Joseph Nissley, Middletown; and John J. Walsh, Pittston.

Becomes State Senator of Delaware

A man who left Dickinson in 1917 to join the military forces of Uncle Sam in the World War was elected State Senator of Delaware last Fall by the largest majority on record.

He is William Edward "Bill" Matthews, Jr., class of 1919.

An undertaker by profession, he threw his hat into the Delaware political "merry-go-round" last year and on November 6th was elected Senator from the First Senatorial District, Kent County. Matthews is the second Republican Senator from this notoriously strong Democratic district during the past 40 years.

The popular Delaware senator was born in Hollands Island, Maryland, June 26, 1894. He was educated in the Smyrna, Delaware, public schools, and at the Wilmington Conference Academy. He entered Dickinson College in September, 1915. With the United States' entrance into the War in 1917 he joined the army and did not return to Dickinson for his junior year. He served the entire war period with the 79th Division.

Returning from the War he studied for a time at the University of Maryland and at Eckels College of Embalming in Philadelphia. In 1922 Matthews became identified with the funeral directing business at Smyrna, Del.

Since 1924 he has been secretary of the Smyrna Chamber of Commerce; was elected first secretary of the Smyrna Rotary Club in 1927 and president in 1928. He was Department Commander of the Department of Delaware American Legion during 1928 and 1929, and national alternate committeeman of the American Legion from 1929 until 1934. For the past two years Matthews was a member of the Kent County Relief committee.

Since his election as Senator he has served on a committee of five of the American Legislators Council and on eight important Senate committees, two of which he has headed.

Senator Matthews married Miss Pauline V. Wiley of Ridgely, Maryland, in 1928. They have two children, William Glenn and Alice Jane.

Alumni Meet in Salladasburg

With 35 present, the Dickinson Club of the West Branch Valley held a dinner in the Salladasburg Hotel on May 17. It was the second dinner of the club during the year, a fall party having been staged in Williamsport.

Lee M. Bowes, president of the club, presided and then introduced Robertson Cameron, who acted as toastmaster. He drove to the dinner from Wellsboro, Pa., with Emory B. Rockwell, '14, and the latter's twelve year old son.

Following the speeches of President Corson and Gilbert Malcolm, Mr. Cameron called upon Judge Max L. Mitchell, '87, and Dr. Wm. C. Mann, '83, who described the college of fifty years ago. Harry Phillips led the group singing with Mrs. Bowes at the piano.

Prospective Students Attend Sub-Freshman Day

MORE than 300 prospective students, their parents and friends from New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware and Pennsylvania attended the second annual "Sub-Freshman Day" of the College on April 27.

The host of visitors were given every opportunity to inspect the college plant and to view various student activities. Office doors of college officials, class deans and department heads were cordially ajar for conferences with prospective students and their parents. More than fifty undergraduates, acting as campus guides, conducted the visitors in small groups through the buildings.

The all-day program was opened in the morning by registration, in charge of Omicron Delta Kappa, in Memorial Hall.

Professor Leon C. Prince addressed the guests at a special chapel service in Bosler Hall. Professor Prince extolled the virtues of "courage, sincerity, persistence and frankness" as more to be desired than excellence in the classroom.

"The student," he declared, "who undertakes a four year course of general study is apt to begrudge the time he must spend in preparation. It may ease the tension of impatience to realize that college is not much different from the life of the world at large. You may not do precisely the same things by and by that you do now, but you will do the same kind of things. Standard conduct and character are everywhere fundamentally the same."

At a luncheon held at noon in the Alumni Gymnasium, President Fred P. Corson, extended a cordial welcome to the visitors. President Corson was introduced by Dean E. A. Vuilleumier who later presented campus leaders. Spokesmen for the undergraduates were Miss Bernadette DeFalco and Whitfield Bell, of the senior class.

Edward C. First, president of Omicron Delta Kappa, presided. John B. Fowler, graduate manager of athletics and assistant to the treasurer, explained the purpose and program of "Sub-Freshman Day." The College glee clubs presented a musical program during the luncheon.

During the afternoon the visitors witnessed an Interscholastic Swimming Meet in the swimming pool and saw Dickinson defeat Lebanon Valley in a baseball game at Biddle Field.

Seek Alumni Help

Dickinson College is still rendering service to the training and placement of teachers, but it cannot perform the latter service efficiently without the active support and cooperation of school officers in the field. In another column of this issue, President Corson calls attention to this important service.

There are a number of splendidly equipped candidates who are seeking the opportunity to prove their worth. Besides that, there are several who have already had some years of teaching experience who are looking for opportunities and growth which come with promotion into better positions. The services of the Bureau are available at any time of year, and of course without cost.

Inquiries are invited, and should be addressed to professor C. J. Carver, Director, Teacher Placement Bureau.

Becomes District Superintendent

The Rev. George H. Ketterer, '08, who had been pastor at State College, was named Superintendent of the Altoona District of the Central Pennsylvania Conference at the 67th annual session held in Shamokin in April. He succeeds the Rev. Dr. J. Edgar Skillington, '05, who was named pastor of the church in Bloomsburg, after serving the six year term as district superintendent.

The Rev. W. W. Banks, '07, was conference host.

Rains Hamper Spring Sports Programs

THE Spring athletic contests of the College have been more or less "washed-out" this year. On five different occasions rain forced the cancellation of baseball games, three of which were scheduled with Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics. Tennis and track have suffered also, although not as severely as the diamond sport.

The only ray of sunshine on the otherwise cloudy horizon is the definite prospect of Dickinson's entertaining the Athletics at Carlisle next year. Following is a letter received recently by President Corson from Connie Mack:

May 6, 1935.

President Fred P. Corson
Dickinson College
Carlisle, Pa.

Dear Mr. Corson:

Many thanks for your nice letter of May 3d. Hope to have the privilege of playing your College Team next Spring.

With very best wishes

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) Connie Mack

Since this letter was received, John B. Fowler, Graduate Manager of Athletics, has received definite assurance from Manager Mack that he would bring his major league team to Carlisle during April or May of next year.

Despite a much postponed start the college baseball team is having a good year, having won five and lost two games to date. The Red Devil diamond victims include: Susquehanna, Lehigh, Swarthmore, Delaware and Lebanon Valley. Defeats were received from only Temple and Susquehanna on foreign fields. The baseball team boasts of an undefeated record on Biddle Field during the past two years.

In direct contrast to the splendid record of the varsity tennis team of last year that won eight and lost but one match, the team this year is having a rough time of it at the hands of Red and White rivals. The record of the tennis team to date stands at two victories and seven defeats. Dickinson scored wins over Lebanon Valley and Haverford and lost to Temple, Swarthmore, F. and M., Lehigh, Bucknell, Albright and Gettysburg.

Dickinson's green track team is experiencing much the same sort of treatment as the tennis team. The Red and White runners lost dual meets to Johns Hopkins and Gettysburg, the relay team finished third in its class race at the Penn Relays and our representatives at the Central Penn meet at Lancaster finished next to last.

Broadcasts Breezy Addresses

Over the Yankee Network for the past three months has been heard the voice of Announcer Cann, "We present to you tonight the . . . in a series of broadcasts by Lieutenant Colonel W. A. Ganoe, United States Army, on Soldiers Unmasked. Colonel Ganoe holds the degrees of A.B. and M.A. from Dickinson College, and is also a graduate of the United States Military Academy at West Point, etc."

All over New England there has been a widespread interest in Colonel Ganoe's broadcasts, but to a group of Dickinsonians who are now in New England, these brilliant little addresses have been of especial interest. They have been clean-cut expositions of the achievements of the soldier in our national life, breezy, incisive, interesting and very informing. In response to an avalanche of requests, Colonel Ganoe, '02, (Bill, to us), has edited his addresses, bound them in neat khaki board covers, and has placed them on sale at a dollar a copy (the author's portrait in the front of the volume is worth that). Since the edition is limited, he is handling the sale himself at Boston University, 525 Boylston Street, Boston, Mass.

Attendance Mounts at Annual Baltimore Dinner

WITH ninety-seven guests present, the largest number to attend since long before the War, the Dickinson Club of Baltimore held its annual dinner-reunion at Hotel Rennert on Friday evening, March 22nd.

In addition to the largest attendance, it was the prettiest, gayest, and most enthusiastic alumni party held in Baltimore since the night in 1915 when "Ham" Bacon, a fresh bridegroom, presided.

The banquet hall at the Rennert was decorated with red ribbon against a white linen background and each table was garnished with red and white sweet-peas and red and white menus, hand-made by Shepherd, '10. The head table was decorated with red and white roses, which were later presented to Mrs. Corson, in honor of her wedding anniversary, and to Mrs. Nice, the wife of Governor Harry W. Nice, '99, who could not attend.

William H. Davenport, '08, presided and introduced Dr. J. O. Spencer, president of Morgan College, Baltimore, as well as our own President Corson, Dean Hitchler of the Law School and Mr. Malcolm, who followed with interesting addresses.

The novelty of the event was three minute speeches by Respass, '17, Mundy, '25L, Fansen, '15L, and Earp, '14, on the most thrilling, most humorous or most inspiring experience while the speaker was a student at Dickinson. The most polished short address was made by J. Henry Baker, '93, when he paid a fine tribute to Prof. Henry M. Harman as his greatest inspiration when Dr. Harman taught him at Dickinson.

Another pastime that made the evening so enjoyable was the singing of old Dickinson songs led by Shepherd, '10.

The feature of the dinner-reunion was the presence of prospective students for Dickinson, the parents of present students and the Baltimore Conference friends of Dickinson.

The Baltimore Club makes the annual dinner not only an occasion of happy reunion for alumni but also a time of building up the goodwill and patronage of the Old College.

The officers for the coming year are: President, Rev. Frank Y. Jagers, '14; Vice-President, Clarence M. Shepherd, '10; Vice-President, Clarence W. Sharp, '14L; Vice-President, Mrs. Ruth Heller Bacon, '12; Secretary-Treasurer, Robert A. Waidner, '32.

School of Family Relationships to be Held in June

The third session of the School of Family Relationships sponsored by the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women will be held at the college from June 17 to 21 inclusive. Lectures and programs will be devoted to the philosophy of family life.

Among its instructors are those who are outstanding national authorities in the field of child development. These include Sidonic Watsner Gruenberg, Director of Child Study Association of America and Lecturer in Parent Education, Columbia University, Margaret Wells Wood, Lecturer American Social Hygiene Association, and Dr. James P. Lichtenberger, eminent writer and lecturer on "Marriage and Divorce."

Dr. Fred P. Corson, President of the College will address the opening session of the School. Dr. Russell I. Thompson, Associate Professor of Psychology and Education is Dean and also gives a course on "Character Building Agencies in the Community." Mrs. Josephine B. Meredith is hostess for the College. Mrs. Mulford Stough is chairman of the American Home Department of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women, is its Director.

Bishop McConnell Speaks At Scholarship Gathering

"The most productive intellectual power that we have is the power of imagination," Bishop Francis John McConnell of New York City told the Phi Beta Kappa initiates and "A" students at the College's annual "Scholarship Reception" held in Memorial Hall the end of February.

The Reception, attended by the faculty and guests of the College, was tendered to the five seniors initiated into Phi Beta Kappa and the thirty-two undergraduates who had attained an "A" average for the past year.

Bishop McConnell addressed the scholastic gathering on the "power of imagination" stating that "understanding one another should be the basis for our dealings with our fellowmen. Get the other man's point of view whether you accept it or not." Speaking of international relations, he said, "the reason peace negotiations fall through is because we don't see the other nation's viewpoint nor often do we make an attempt to do so."

The seniors initiated into Phi Beta Kappa are: Whitfield J. Bell, Leopold Cohen, Edith M. Machen, William B. Rosenberg, and Robert D. Wayne.

The "A" students are:

Seniors—Dorothy C. Dout, Lois B. Eddy, Dorothy L. Edwards, Edward C. First, Mary E. Handshaw, John A. McElroy, James W. Nelson, Andrew J. Oyler, Lena B. Ritner, and Alberta Schmidt.

Juniors—Philip F. Dettweiler, H. Lynn Edwards, Paul V. Kiehl, Sherwin T. McDowell, and Marion McKinney.

Sophomores—Margery Ann Black, John P. Haines, Nancy Hendrian, Jean Katz, Harold S. Machmer, Arthur R. Mangan, Kathleen M. Patterson, Charles E. Rudy, Ruth Schabacker, and Mildred C. Straka.

Freshmen—Alice Guzy and Frances Waterhouse.

Northern Jersey Alumni Meet

With 56 alumni present, the Dickinson Club of Northern New Jersey held a dinner in Day's Restaurant, Morristown, N. J., on the evening of May 7. The party was unique in alumni club doings for after the dinner, the guests played various games with paper money as the stakes and prizes were awarded to the winners.

J. Ernest Crane, '11, president of the club which was holding its second annual dinner having been founded a year ago, acted as toastmaster. Dr. Edwin L. Earp asked the invocation. The speakers were Dr. Fred P. Corson, Dean W. H. Hitchler and Gilbert Malcolm.

Victor Boell, '11, who has served as secretary-treasurer, was elected president of the club, while Mrs. Charles S. VanAuken, '12, was chosen vice-president, and Roy D. Tolliver, '31, was named secretary-treasurer.

Trenton Club Holds Dinner

The annual dinner of the Dickinson Club of Trenton was held with 51 present in the Hotel Hildebrecht on March 8. Henry G. Breneman, '10, president of the club, was the toastmaster. The Rev. J. Wilson Hollinger, '98, delivered the invocation.

President Corson, Dean Hitchler and Gilbert Malcolm were the visiting Carlisle delegation and formal speakers. Two of the four New Jersey Dickinsonian legislators Joseph C. Paul, of Essex County and J. Edward Knight, of Monmouth County, were introduced.

Raymond S. Michael, '16, was elevated from the vice-presidency to become president. W. M. Cooper, '01L, was elected vice-president and John H. Platt, '25, was named secretary-treasurer.

The Club voted to turn over to the College a gift of $34 which had been collected for Scholarship-Loan purposes.

Miss M. Katherine Loder has been elected to teach English in the High School at Bridgeton, New Jersey beginning in September 1935.

Class of 1934 Finds Various Niches

THAT more than a third of those who received their diplomas last June are continuing their education in graduate schools is shown by a survey of the whereabouts of the 106 members of the Class of 1934. Thirty-nine of them are either in schools of medicine, law, theology or other graduate work.

Medicine leads with eleven members of '34 in that field, while law is second with ten and ministry claimed but four.

Fourteen others are in various universities specializing in their chosen fields.

Even in a day when jobs are scarce, one fifth of the total found employment in the world of business for twenty-three members of the class punch the time clocks and six others found employment in various governmental agencies.

The signs of the times are evidenced in the fact that only thirteen are in teaching positions.

The directory of the class follows:

1935L

Byron Dolan of Pittsburgh, was married to Miss Delilah Sours of Carlisle at Sayre on March 2. The couple will reside here until Mr. Dolan's graduation from the Law School in June.

1935

Announcement of the engagement of Dorothy C. Shearer, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William R. Shearer of Carlisle, who will graduate from the College in June, to Lieutenant Richard R. Briner, United States Navy, was made at a luncheon at her home in April. Lieutenant Briner, whose home is in Montclair, New Jersey, was graduated from Annapolis in 1930 and a year ago from the Naval Flying School at Pensacola, Florida. The wedding is expected to be an event of the late summer.

1936

C. Wilbur Shelley, of Harrisburg, was married to Miss Gertrude Bucher of Palmyra, April 19. Following a motor trip through New England the bride and groom will reside in Harrisburg.

French Exchange Student Dies

Mlle. Janine Morillot, 19 year old French exchange student, died on April 26 of peritonitis following an emergency appendectomy in the Victoria Hospital, Miami, Fla., while her widowed mother was in mid-Atlantic en route to join her stricken daughter.

Mlle. Morillot came from Paris last September and was a member of the Junior Class. She had been awarded a scholarship by the Institute of International Education providing for her study in Dickinson and travel in this country. During the Easter season, she was granted a leave of absence to join other French exchange students in a trip to Florida and while on this visit she was stricken suddenly. She submitted to an immediate operation and her condition was grave from the outset.

She was a World War orphan, her father, a soldier in the French army having been killed shortly before her birth. Notified of her daughter's illness, the widowed mother, Mme. Marie Morillot-Sauve, hastily left her home on the first departing ship but she lost the race with death. She sailed again on May 10 for France taking her daughter's body home for burial.

OBITUARY

1870—Edward Robert Johnstone, well-known newspaper man, died on March 29, in the Abington Memorial Hospital of Philadelphia, at the age of 85.

He was born in Utica, N. Y., April 30, 1849, and prepared for college in the high school at Carlisle, Pa. He spent a year at Princeton University, and then entered the College in 1867, to leave in 1870 to enter the newspaper field.

He began his career as a war correspondent with the Indian wars in the West, and then from 1882-1892 he was city editor of the St. Paul Pioneer Press; from 1892-1895 he was city and county assessor of St. Paul, Minn. During the Spanish-American War, he was with the Associated Press and was in charge of a fleet of dispatch boats and was at the Key West and the Santiago blockades.

He later was editor of the Minneapolis Times, and then managing editor of the New York Commercial Advertiser and editor of the Cleveland Leader. In 1907 he was placed in charge of cargoes of famine relief flour for China, and from 1908-09 was National Registrar of the American Red Cross.

Mr. Johnstone was a member of Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity.

He is survived by one daughter. During the later years of his life he lived at Doylestown, Pa.

1881—The Rev. John Andrew Oakes, member of the New Jersey Conference, died on March 7.

Born on November 10, 1856, in Elkhart, Indiana, he prepared for college in the high school there. He entered the College in 1877 and retired in 1879. He taught school for several years and served as principal of schools in New Jersey. In 1884 he became a member of the New Jersey Conference and served various charges in that conference until his death.

1877—Rev. Samuel Wise Smith, retired M. E. clergyman, died at his home at Drexel Hill, Pa., on March 5. He was born in Baltimore, February 7, 1855. He prepared for college at Rugby Academy, spent two years at Wesleyan University and then a year in Dickinson College. He received his B. D. degree from Drew in 1880. That same year he entered the Philadelphia Conference and served various churches of the conference until his retirement in 1926.

He was a member of the Sigma Chi Fraternity.

In 1880 he married Sarah G. Primrose, who pre-deceased him. He is survived by a sister, Mrs. R. J. Cornelius, a son, Samuel S. P. Smith, and four daughters.

1938—Richard Beitzel, 18, of Carlisle, a member of the Freshman class died April 11 from acute nephritis in the Carlisle Hospital.

He was the son of John Beitzel, 504 Curtin Street, Harrisburg. He was graduated from the Carlisle High School in June 1934 and entered the College last September. He played center on the Freshman football team last Fall. He lived with his aunt, Mrs. W. G. Rice, '00, Carlisle.

Beitzel was a pledgee of the Phi Delta Theta Fraternity.

NECROLOGY

Rev. Dr. Jesse Fox Taintor, father of Miss Mary B. Taintor, a member of the College faculty, and former member of the faculty of Ripon College, Wisconsin, died at the home of his daughter in Carlisle on March 2nd. He was 83 years of age.

Dr. Taintor was graduated from Ripon College and Andover Seminary. He served for a time as pastor of the Congregational Church and later became professor of English Literature at Ripon. He retired in 1922. Then later for a time was librarian at Rollins College, Florida. He made his home with his daughter in Carlisle since 1928. He is survived by his wife and two daughters.

John Clarence Lutz, well known Carlisle undertaker and father of Mrs. Chester E. Watts, '16 and Urie C. Lutz, '19, died after a lingering illness at the Carlisle Hospital on March 6th.

Mrs. Mary Leaming Baird Stuart, widow of the late Hugh S. Stuart, died in Carlisle on April 23d. She is survived by her four children: Captain Joseph A. Stuart, Ottawa, Illinois; Dr. W. Baird Stuart, Carlisle; Mrs. Samuel L. Mohler, Lancaster; and Mrs. Wilson R. Ritter, of Carlisle.
