Dickinson Women Form Mary Dickinson Club

DICKINSON women now have an organization of their own with which to work together for the future of the College—the Mary Dickinson Club, named for the wife of the Colonial statesman whose distinguished name the College bears, John Dickinson, president of the first board of trustees.

The Mary Dickinson Club came into being in February out of a series of meetings of President Edel with women of the faculty, wives of faculty and trustee members and co-ed representatives. Mrs. Russell I. Thompson, wife of the dean of the College, was elected president.

From its promising beginnings on the campus the Club is reaching out now for a membership of hundreds of alumnae, wives and mothers and sisters of students and alumni, wives of faculty and trustees and all other women interested for any reason in Dickinson's welfare. In time branch clubs will be set up in all parts of the country where there are concentrations of Dickinson women.

The purpose of the Club is to aid and support the College and to bring Dickinson and its services, needs and aspirations to as wide a constituency as possible. Many other colleges, including some that are not coeducational, have thriving women's auxiliaries or guilds. It is fitting that Dickinson, to whom the loyalty of women has meant so much, should have as fine a one as any in the country.

The by-laws provide for two meetings a year—at Commencement in June and Parents Day in the fall. The first of these will be held on Alumni Day, Saturday, June 2, at 2 p.m. in Bosler Hall, and all women returning to the campus for Commencement are urged to be present.

The Club hopes to build up a large membership in its current campaign which runs through Commencement. Mrs. Henry E. Smith, membership chairman, announced that the list of charter memberships will remain open until then.

There are five classes of membership: regular, $1; contributing, $5; sustaining, $10; patron, $20; life, $100. President Edel became the first patron and Mrs. Mary Kurtz Smith, of Jarrettsville, Md., the 85-year-old mother of Prof. Henry E. Smith, '11, of the faculty, was the first to take out a life membership.

First officers of the Club with Mrs. Thompson, president, are: Mrs. F. E. Masland, Jr., first vice-president; Mrs. George Shuman, Jr., second vice-president; Mrs. Horace E. Rogers, recording secretary; Miss Charlotte A. Wilson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Frank Ayres, Jr., treasurer, and Miss Rachel A. Smith, assistant treasurer.

Committee chairmen are: Mrs. Masland, program; Mrs. Shuman, ways and means; Mrs. Smith, membership; Mrs. Benjamin D. James, student promotion; Mrs. Bertram H. Davis, publicity; Miss Joyce C. Ingham, student interest; Mrs. John C. M. Grimm, scholarship, and Mrs. Mulford Stough, student aid.

Serves As Delegate

Mrs. Alvin B. Biscoe, the former Helen Bowser, '27, was the representative of Dickinson College at the inauguration of Omer Clyde Aderhold, as president of the University of Georgia on May 9. Her husband, Dr. Alvin B. Biscoe, '27, who is Dean of the Faculties of the University of Georgia, presided over the ceremonies.

Two Dormitories Rising on Rush Campus

LAYING CORNERSTONE OF NEW DORMITORY FOR WOMEN

CONSTRUCTION of the new dormitory for women, the cornerstone of which was laid March 8 with appropriate ceremony under sunny skies, moves along on schedule and should be ready for September use if weather this summer is favorable.

By the end of April all of the heavy steel for the four-story, fire-resistant stone structure was in place and masonry work of the first and second stories completed. Concrete for the basement and first two floors was poured in mid-May and masons began raising third floor walls.

Good progress is also being made on the Law School's $500,000 brick dormitory, which was started in February by the same firm that is building the women's dormitory, Potteiger Company, Inc., Reading, Pa. Commencement visitors will want to see both buildings, which will be far enough along by then to provide a good idea of what the completed jobs will be like.

President Edelman, presiding at the March 8 cornerstone ceremony, saw the fast-rising building as further evidence that "nothing is impossible for Dickinson while we work together." He spoke with gratitude and admiration of the united manner in which all groups have worked in the nearly five years since he assumed the presidency.

Boyd Lee Spahr, president of the Trustees, said that the College always had been able to attract superior women students and that completion of the dormitory would give them "as fine a woman's dormitory as any in the country."

The ceremony very appropriately marked the first public role for the new Mary Dickinson Club following organization in February. The president, Mrs. Russell I. Thompson, wife of the dean of the College, pledged club support of every good undertaking for Dickinson.

"Dickinson women are coming into their own in the knowledge that this handsome new structure is going up just for them," said Mrs. Thompson, adding the hope that it would contribute to the highest scholarship.

Merle W. Allen, Trustee and chairman of the building committee, said that the dorm is the first project of the Development Program and that it would meet one of the most pressing building needs at Dickinson.

The prayer of dedication was offered by Bishop Walter Earl Ledden, '10, resident head of the Syracuse Area of the Methodist Church. The actual laying of the cornerstone was done by President Edel, Mr. Spahr, Mr. Allen and George Shuman, Jr., superintendent of buildings and grounds, with the expert help of James Casey, master mason on the project.

Mrs. Mary Margaret Kellogg, acting Dean of Women, and Dr. Whitfield J. Bell, Jr., historian of the College, placed the following items in the 24-inch square cornerstone: Morgan's history of the College, Bulwark of Liberty, THE ALUMNUS, copies of the Dickinsonian, Bronze Tablet and the Carlisle Sentinel, 1950 catalogue and student handbook, constitution of the Mary Dickinson Club and regulations of the Pan-Hellenic Council.

Dr. Rowland R. Lehman, assistant to the president, gave the invocation. The College Choir and Band participated. The brief but impressive ceremony closed with the singing of Noble Dickinsonia and the benediction by Bishop Ledden.

Receives American Legion Award of Merit

DR. KATHERINE LODER, '34, a high school teacher in her native town of Bridgeton, N. J., has received the American Legion Award of Merit for distinguished service in 1950 to that community of 18,000 persons. The presentation was made last March 4.

Dr. Loder's outstanding contribution, the award committee found, was her untiring work in integrating into respected and well-adjusted minorities the new racial groups in the community, notably Japanese-Americans, Estonians and the Southern Negroes.

When Estonian children unable to speak English began entering the local schools, Dr. Loder devised an English-Estonian dictionary of basic terms for them. She organized trips to Independence Hall, Philadelphia, to give foreign-born children a better knowledge of America.

She was recognized also for her work on the Governor's Committee on Youth Problems. She had been appointed chairman of the committee for her county and had been selected to attend the White House Conference on Youth Problems which was held in December in Washington.

Now head of the English department and curriculum coordinator, Dr. Loder began teaching at the Bridgeton High School on graduating from Dickinson with Phi Beta Kappa honors in 1934. She received her Ph.D. from the University of Pennsylvania and has studied also at the Sorbonne in Paris. She resides at 67 Washington Street, Bridgeton, with her father, an attorney and former judge.

To Hold Bi-Centennial

Carlisle will stage a week-long celebration, June 17 to 23, to observe the 200th anniversary of its founding. A historical pageant, "Thy Name is Glory," with a cast of 750, will be presented five nights on Biddle Field. Dr. Whitfield J. Bell, Jr., and Dr. Milton E. Flower of the College faculty helped the local committee write the pageant. An industrial exposition and displays of early American antiques and old photographs will be held in buildings of the College, which has given the bicentennial planners every possible cooperation.

Effect Binary Program With Rensselaer

DICKINSON COLLEGE, which in February entered into a cooperative agreement with the Case Institute of Technology, Cleveland, O., making a five-year combined liberal arts-engineering course available to students, effected a similar program in March with another great scientific institution, the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N. Y.

As in the binary plan with Case, the arrangements with Rensselaer make it possible for a student planning a career in any branch of engineering to combine a broad general education with engineering or science study and save time in the process—as much as a year and a half if summer work is included.

Students will take three years of liberal arts with science emphasis at Dickinson, then transfer to either Case or Rensselaer for two years of technical study. At the end of five years they will receive Bachelor of Arts degrees from Dickinson and the Bachelor of Engineering from Case or Rensselaer.

Founded in 1824, Rensselaer is one of the great engineering schools of America. It is proud of its claim that it is the first school, now in existence, to be established in any English-speaking country primarily for the purpose of teaching science and engineering. Situated on a rolling plateau overlooking the Hudson River, it is in the midst of a great industrial area. It has a student body of 4,460, a faculty of 384 and an endowment of $12,970,000. It is one of the few colleges having Army, Navy and Air Force R. O. T. C. units on the campus.

Rensselaer offers degrees in aeronautical, chemical, civil, management, electrical, mechanical and metallurgical engineering; architecture, biology, chemistry, fuel resources and physics. 12 in all.

Fine Attendance Marks Harrisburg Club Dinner

LEADING other alumni clubs, for the time at least, there were 110 persons present at the annual dinner of the Dickinson Club of Harrisburg held in the American Legion Hall on South Front Street on April 12.

Another feature of the dinner was the presentation of several scenes from the Dickinson Follies by members of the cast which staged the play late in April in Carlisle.

Dorothy H. Hoy, '41, retiring president, presided and served as an able toastmistress. Dr. Rowland R. Lehman, Assistant to the President of the College, offered the invocation.

LeRoy W. Householder, former vice-president, was elected to succeed Miss Hoy as president. Raymond A. Wert, '32, was re-elected a vice-president and Arthur R. Mangan, '37, former secretary-treasurer, also was elected vice-president while Mrs. Sara R. Goldie, '32, was elected secretary-treasurer. I. Emanuel Myers and Mrs. Harold Fredericks were named to the executive committee.

Charlotte Wilson, '49, assistant to the dean of women at the College, spoke briefly in presenting the plans of the newly formed Mary Dickinson Club. Other speakers were George Shuman, Jr., Treasurer of the College; Dean W. H. Hitchler; C. Wendell Holmes, President of the General Alumni Association; President William W. Edel; and Vice-President Gilbert Malcolm.

Becomes Hospital Trustee

Samuel W. Witwer, Jr., '30, trustee of the College, has been elected a member of the Board of Trustees of the Wesley Memorial Hospital in Chicago, where he is an attorney. This hospital is a Methodist institution and one of the largest Chicago hospitals.

Bestow Honors and Tributes on Founders Day

RECEIVES DEGREE ON FOUNDERS DAY

DR. E. A. VUILLEUMIER and Dr. Horace E. Rogers were named, respectively, first occupants of the newly-endowed C. Scott Althouse and Alfred Victor duPont Chairs of Chemistry at the Founders Day convocation May 1 when the College conferred an honorary degree upon the noted cancer research scientist, Clarence Cook Little, former president of the Universities of Maine and Michigan.

Announcement of the establishment of the chairs was made in December by President Edel. The Althouse professorship is named for C. Scott Althouse, Reading, Pa., chemist-industrialist and Dickinson trustee, in recognition of his chemical achievements in the textile industry and services to the College. Irene duPont, of Wilmington, Del., endowed the duPont Chair which is named for his grandfather, Alfred Victor duPont, a student at the College in 1814, who became one of the early presidents of the vast duPont enterprises.

Dr. Vuilleumier came to Dickinson in 1920 as associate professor and head of the chemistry department. He was advanced to professor in 1924. From 1933 to 1947 he was dean of the College while continuing to teach. A fellow of the American Institute of Chemists, he was president of the Pennsylvania Academy of Science in 1941 and just recently was elected President of the Southeastern Pennsylvania Section of the American Chemical Society.

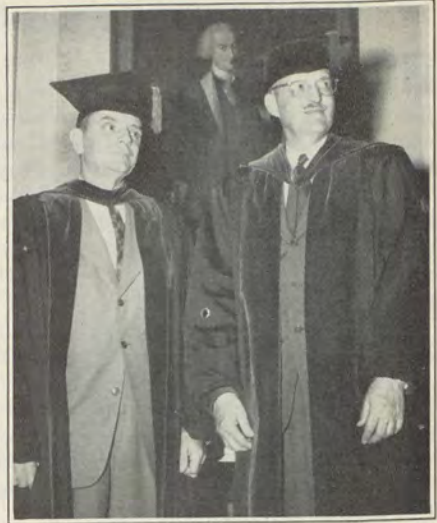

The author of more than 40 articles on scientific subjects, Dr. Vuilleumier is the inventor of the Dickinson Alchometer and Solids-Hydrometer and co-inventor of the Contractometer. He received the Bachelor of Science in chemistry at the University of Pennsylvania in 1914 and after some graduate work there went to the University of Berne in Switzerland where he received his doctorate, magna cum laude, in 1918. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa. Indicative of the affection in which he is held by his former students, his portrait was presented to the College two years ago by the Class of 1924. It hangs in the foyer of Bosler Hall.

Dr. Rogers, occupant of the duPont Chair, is professor of analytical chemistry. He graduated from the College with Phi Beta Kappa honors in 1924 and except for brief periods for graduate study has been on the faculty since 1925. He received the master's in chemistry in 1925 at Lafayette and the Ph.D. in 1930 at Princeton. He has also done work at Cornell. He has written articles for the Journal of the American Chemical Society and other publications and has done extensive research in the viscosity of liquid mixtures. He is a member of the American Chemical Society. His college fraternity is Kappa Sigma. A son, Philip, is a student at Dickinson.

President Edel, presiding at the Founders Day convocation, conferred the honorary degree of doctor of humane letters on Dr. Little, since 1924 the head of the Jackson Memorial Laboratory, famed cancer research center in Maine, and a former managing director of the American Cancer Society. "Dickinson is proud to honor you," Dr. Edel told Dr. Little, "because you personify the liberal ideal of the scholar in service of the community." Dr. Little, who was presented for the degree by Dr. Whitfield J. Bell, Jr., gave the address, "Democracy and the Search for Truth." Dr. Bell spoke briefly on "The Scholar in Action."

In a tribute to all founders and early teachers of the College, students went to the Old Graveyard in Carlisle to lay a wreath on the grave of Prof. James Ross, great Latin scholar and first member of the faculty.

PROFESSOR HORACE E. ROGERS, '24
AND PROFESSOR E. A. VUILLEUMIER

Honored at Hood College

Awards in recognition of outstanding achievement and services in various fields which reflect honor upon the Evangelical and Reformed Church and their home communities were presented to twenty outstanding lay members of the church in Maryland, Pennsylvania, and Virginia by Hood College during a three-day convocation in April.

One of those to whom an award was conferred was Charles R. Todd, '08, of Carlisle.

Inaugurated at Pennington

The Reverend Dr. Ira S. Pimm, '19, was inaugurated as the fifteenth headmaster of the Pennington School in exercises on April 10.

Dr. Rowland R. Lehman, assistant to the president, served as the representative of Dickinson College on that occasion.

Appointed Attorney General of Pennsylvania

ROBERT E. WOODSIDE, '26, '28L, who was then in his ninth year as Judge of Dauphin County, Pennsylvania, was appointed Attorney General of Pennsylvania by Governor John S. Fine, '14L, in March. He will receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws at the Commencement Exercises in June, when he will be celebrating his 25th reunion year.

The new Attorney General served an equal number of years in the judicial and legislative forms of government. From 1933 to 1942 he was a representative in the Pennsylvania General Assembly and in 1939 and again in 1941 was floor leader. In his boyhood, he had been a page in the Legislature.

After his graduation from the Law School in 1928 and his admission to the bar, he practiced in his native Millersburg and also in Harrisburg. From 1935 until his elevation to the bench in 1942, he was a partner in a Harrisburg law firm with Paul L. Hutchison, '18, and the late Phillips Brooks Scott, '21.

He married F. Fairlee Habbart, '28, in Dover, Del., on July 11, 1931. They have two sons and a daughter. Their eldest, William Edward, is now a student in the college and is 18. Robert Hames is 15 while their daughter Jane Fairlee will be five on July 15. The family home is at 276 North Street, Millersburg.

An active fraternity man in his college days, he was a member of Raven's Claw and has maintained his interests in Phi Kappa Sigma and Tau Kappa Alpha. He is a 33° Mason, a past master of his lodge and is active in the work of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania as a member of the Committee on Masonic Homes. He is also a member of the Red Men and the Royal Arcanum.

His professional memberships include the Dauphin County, Pennsylvania and American Bar Associations.

He is president of the Board of Trustees of the Pennsylvania Industrial School and former chairman of the Penn-

To Present Portrait

The Corpus Juris Society of the Dickinson School of Law is establishing a fund for an oil portrait of Joseph P. McKeehan, '97, '02L, and a scholarship in his memory. The portrait will be hung in the foyer of Trickett Hall. The fund will be administered by the School. Gifts should be sent to the Corpus Juris Society. A brilliant legal scholar, Mr. McKeehan taught at the Law School from 1902 until his death last June 28.

Serves as Representative

Once again, Herbert S. Reisler, '16, of Toledo, Ohio, has served as a representative of the College on an important occasion.

On May 9, he was the delegate at the inauguration of Asa Smallidge Knowles, as the ninth president of Toledo University.

Another Alumnus On Dauphin County Bench

GOVERNOR John S. Fine, '14L, named his Dickinson Law School classmate, Walter R. Sohn, of Harrisburg, in March to the vacancy on the Dauphin County bench resulting from the Governor's earlier appointment of another Dickinsonian, Judge Robert E. Woodside, '26, '28L, as Attorney General of Pennsylvania.

Sohn's was the first judicial appointment made by the Governor since taking office in January, and Fine told the press, "Mr. Sohn and I were graduated from the Dickinson School of Law in the same class and I am very happy that my first appointment to a bench is a former classmate who long has been worthy of highest honors. I have followed his career as a citizen and a lawyer with admiration. He has had the type of practice which especially qualifies him for the position of judge."

In 35 years at the bar Judge Sohn had tried civil, criminal, equity, divorce and Orphans Court cases by the hundreds and besides his large private practice he served as Dauphin County solicitor for 25 years. He was a member of the legal firm of Braddock and Sohn.

Three of Judge Sohn's four associates on the bench are Dickinsonians. They are Judge J. Paul Rupp, '25L, the president judge, who administered the oath of office on April 2; Judge Karl E. Richards, '10, '11L, and Judge Paul G. Smith, '08L.

Born November 15, 1890, in Harrisburg, the son of a banker, Judge Sohn attended the Harrisburg public schools, graduated from Dickinson College in 1912, from the Law School in 1914 and the next year was admitted to the Dauphin County Bar. In 1916 he married Anne Louise Norris, of Clearfield, Pa. They have no children.

Judge Sohn is a member of the county and state bar associations, the Westminster Presbyterian Church of Harrisburg, Euclid Lodge, No. 698, F. and A. M., Zembo Shrine, Harrisburg Consistory, the Elks Lodge, I. O. O. F. and the Harrisburg Republican Club. At college his fraternity was Alpha Chi Rho.

Becomes City Solicitor

Ralph H. Griesemer, '32, '34L, was unanimously elected city solicitor by the city council of Allentown, Pa., in February. Affiliation with the city's legal bureau is not new to him for he served as assistant city solicitor from the time that post was established in May 1940 until May 1944.

Admitted to the bar in 1937, he maintains offices in the Commonwealth Building in Allentown.

His wife is the former Katharine E. Keller and they have two children, Betty Kay, 7, and Judy Lynn, who is 4 years of age.

Announces for District Attorney

Markin R. Knight, '41, of Williamsport, was the first aspirant for the post of District Attorney in Lycoming County when he announced his candidacy on the Republican ticket in March.

Serving As Chaplain

BENJAMIN F. HUGHES

Lieut. Benjamin F. Hughes, '40, Chaplain Corps, USN, has just been transferred from the aircraft carrier Palau, where he served as chaplain for 20 months, to the U. S. Naval Receiving Station in Charleston, S. C. Charleston is the headquarters of the Sixth Naval District which includes the seven southeastern states.

Lieut. Hughes, whose home is in Lewistown, Pa., will serve as chaplain for the hundreds of men entering and returning to the service and being processed through the Charleston Receiving Station as well as to the many assigned to the various ships being reactivated from the Charleston Group of the Atlantic Reserve Fleet.

After graduation from Dickinson, Lieut. Hughes attended Yale Divinity School for four years and served as pastor of the Epworth Methodist Church in Whitestone, N. Y., prior to entering the Navy. He has had chaplain duty also in Navy hospitals, at a submarine base in Pearl Harbor, at Navy service schools in Great Lakes, Ill., and aboard a transport at the close of the war during the Magic Carpet operation.

Writes Another Book

The Rev. Alson J. Smith, '30, of Stamford, Conn., may properly be termed a prolific writer. His articles have appeared in many magazines including Harper's, American Mercury and New Republic. Not long ago, there was a review in this magazine of his book "Faith to Live By," a vigorous book on the practical aspects of an enlightened faith for solving daily problems. Shortly before that he wrote "Brother Van," a biography.

His latest book "Religion and the New Psychology" is reviewed by Prof. Walter T. James, '41, assistant professor of philosophy and religion.

Reverend Smith after his graduation at Dickinson studied at Garrett Biblical Institute and Yale University. He is pastor of Roxbury Methodist Church in Stamford.

Alson J. Smith, Religion and the New Psychology (Doubleday and Co., Inc.: Garden City, N. Y., 1951) $2.50

In his latest volume Dr. Smith has written an interesting account of the development of parapsychology from its origin in folklore to its contemporary status as a recognized area of research. Most of us are familiar with the famous experiments of Dr. J. B. Rhine at Duke in the field of "extra-sensory perception" but Dr. Smith stresses the much broader scope of the work now being done. He is particularly concerned, as the title suggests, with interpreting the implications of this "Psychological Revolution" for science, philosophy, and religion. The new perspectives on the power of the mind which the science of parapsychology reveals will prove to be, Dr. Smith believes, "the greatest victory for man since the birth of the Founder of Christianity." Certainly the fascinating material in this wide-ranging volume will provoke many readers to a new consideration of the basis of their own convictions.

W. T. JAMES

Becomes Superintendent in New Jersey Conference

THE Reverend William R. Guffick, '25, who is completing ten years as pastor of St. Paul Methodist Church in Trenton, was appointed superintendent of the Trenton District of the New Jersey Conference by Bishop Fred Pierce Corson, '17, in February.

He was named to succeed Dr. Ira S. Pimm, '19, who had been elected headmaster of the Pennington School and who was serving as superintendent of the Trenton District at the time of his election.

Prior to his ten-year pastorate at the St. Paul Church, the Reverend Mr. Guffick served five years in Absecon and a year at the Broad Street Park Church in Trenton.

Always active in Dickinson affairs, he is president of the Dickinson Club of Trenton. He married Henrietta Bardo, '24, and they have a son, William, who is seventeen years of age.

Born in England on April 12, 1903, he came to this country in his youth with his parents and graduated from Germantown High School. He graduated from the College in 1925 and later received his B.D. and M.A. degrees from Drew Theological Seminary. He is a member of Kappa Sigma Fraternity and a Mason.

To Conduct Student Tour

Professor Milton E. Flower, '31, will conduct a student tour for the Guild of Student Travel during the summer. The 41-day tour party will sail from New York on June 12 and return on July 23. The itinerary includes England during the festival of Britain, a grand motor tour of Holland and Belgium, and down into Switzerland, and then to Venice, Florence, and Italy before returning by way of the French Riviera to Paris during the Bastille Day celebrations.

The party will include students from colleges and universities in various parts of the country. The inclusive rate for the trip is $885.

WILLIAM R. GUFFICK

Delaware Club Meets

The annual dinner of the Dickinson Club of Delaware was held on April 19 at the Hob Tea Room in Wilmington. There were 58 in attendance. President Jack H. Caum, '34, presided as toastmaster. Dr. Rowland R. Lehman, assistant to the president, offered the invocation.

Dr. Herbert Wing, Jr., head of the Department of History, was the principal speaker and was delightfully received by his audience. The other speakers were C. Wendell Holmes, president of the General Alumni Association, Treasurer George Shuman, Jr., Dean W. H. Hitchler, and President William W. Edel.

A fine program was rendered by a quartet from the Orpheus Club following the dinner and before the opening of the speaking program.

Dr. John Shilling, '08, who had been a vice-president, was elected president of the Club, and the following officers were re-elected: Ernest H. Sellers, '12, vice-president; Mrs. Phyllis Mason Heck, '15, secretary; and Walter F. From, '49, treasurer.

Roster Lists 1,025 Names of Life Members

THROUGH the receipt of 20 additional subscriptions since the publication of the February number of THE DICKINSON ALUMNUS, to make a gain of 114 Lifers since May, 1950, there are 1,025 names listed in the roster of Life Members in the General Alumni Association published in this issue by direction of the Alumni Council.

In 1949-50, there was a gain of 94 Lifers as reported a year ago, which surpassed 1933-34, the highest previous year when 79 new names were added. The jump to 114 this year is largely accounted for by the Class of 1950, which now leads all the classes with a total of 40 Lifers.

Last year's leader, the Class of 1939 added three during the year and is in second place with 32. From that spot, many of the classes are bunched and a scramble for honors could easily be developed by class officers.

Twenty new subscriptions have been received since the February number was issued.

Two subscriptions came in the same mail to open the new series of Lifers. The first was from Anna M. Bacon, '10, of Meadow Dale Farm, Sparks, Md., and the other from Albert E. Smigel, '35, who is Eastern Division Manager of Fromm and Sichel, Inc., of New York City.

Two more subscriptions arrived the next day. The one was from Earl A. Gunter, '29, teacher of North Plainfield, N. J., and the other from John E. Peters, '39, district accountant in the Office of Price Stabilization, the Economic Stabilization Agency in Birmingham, Ala.

After the February number of the ALUMNUS went into the mails, three subscriptions arrived on one morning. The first of these was from Elmer T. McCready, '07, of Summit Hill, Pa., the second from Dr. Hartford D. Grugan, '39, physician of Williamsport, Pa., and the third from Dorothy

Reviewers Acclaim "My Heart Remembers"

A WARM, inspirational story about the distaff side of a Methodist parish, the first novel of a man who has passed the allotted three score years and ten, is being acclaimed by reviewers. The book My Heart Remembers is from the pen of Col. William A. Ganoe, '02.

A writer for over 30 years, he is the author of History of the United States Army and Soldiers Unmasked, as well as a contributor to American Yearbook, Dictionary of American Biography, Encyclopaedia Britannica, and Atlantic Monthly.

The son of a Pennsylvania Methodist minister, "Billie" Ganoe grew up in the section of the country described in My Heart Remembers. His novel is based on the people, events and minutia of his own boyhood and is the story of a preacher's family. Commenting on this Mildred Walker in the Chicago Tribune wrote "There have been so many books about parents who seem remarkable to their children, and so many about life in a parsonage that another book on either of these subjects has to be good to joggle the line already ahead of it. This one is good."

After graduation from the College in 1902, Col. Ganoe attended the United States Military Academy, received the commission of second lieutenant, infantry, U. S. Army in 1907. In addition to a distinguished military career, he has achieved an enviable reputation in the educational field. From 1916 to 1918, he served as assistant professor of English at the U. S. Military Academy; and was later appointed head of the history section of the U. S. Infantry School. He was professor of military science and tactics at Boston University from 1930 to 1936 and later commandant of the units at the University of Michigan.

Now retired, Col. Ganoe has finally found time to pursue his favorite hobby—fishing—at Shoestring Manor, the waterfront home in Sarasota, Fla., which he and his wife have recently built.

WILLIAM A. GANOE

William Addleman Ganoe, My Heart Remembers (Thomas Y. Crowell Company, N. Y., 1951) $3.00.

My Heart Remembers is a strikingly warm and human story of the varied life of a parsonage family living in the Susquehanna Valley in the 1880's. The author was a member of that family.

The narrative is centered around the forceful and attractive personality of the author's mother as she labors unreservedly for the community, church and her family. The typical woes of parish life are dramatically portrayed—the L's of the congregation—the leeches, leaners and learners, the Ladies' Aid Society, the Official Board, the proverbial church split, the gossip about the preacher's family etc. However, through it all the author displays the attitude of fundamental respect for the church and the work of the ministry in particular. The book is so human in its development that it frequently tugs at the heart strings of the reader.

Though the novel was not written as an ethical or moral treatise, its greatest value resides in the implications of the attitudes and reactions of its leading characters. This is particularly true of the leading figure, the mother, as seen through the eyes of a child and remembered in the mind of maturity. Here is a truly mature and spiritually discerning woman who sees through and beyond the side issues of a problem to its core and with a firm conviction insists that every decision be made with the spirit of Christ clearly in view. Obviously such a frame of reference and its insistent demand causes some embarrassment and uneasiness but she always wins out in the end because of the essential rightness of her position. This does not mean that she withdraws from the worldly scene. On the contrary, she is most human as illustrated in her extraordinary concern for human need, yet she achieves a level of spiritual maturity that transcends criticism.

Here is a book that not only entertains the reader but also challenges him to reexamine his religious life. It is very pertinent to the spiritual needs of our day and brings us back to the source of the Christian faith, Jesus of Nazareth.

J. WESLEY ROBB

Writes for Advocate

A guest editorial "Science and Religion," by Dr. Horace E. Rogers, '24, of the chemistry department at the College, appeared in a March issue of the Christian Advocate, widely-read Methodist weekly magazine. It was a scientist's affirmation of faith in God as creator of the universe and an appeal to church laymen "in a sick world" to lay hold on a deeper Christian faith. Dr. Rogers wrote: "One cannot make a study, as we do in chemistry, of the structure of matter and the primary units of matter which constitute the building stones of the universe without being challenged by the belief in a Supreme Intelligence back of it all."

Meet in Boston

The Dickinson Alumni of Boston and vicinity were guests at a Buffet Supper given by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Selby at their home, 219 Chestnut Street, West Newton, Massachusetts, on the evening of May 6, 1951. Wives and husbands, who are not Dickinsonians, were also guests. Mr. Selby, '13, is not only an alumnus of the College, but also is a member of the Board of Trustees. Mrs. Selby, nee Ethel Wagg, is a member of the class of 1915.

Approximately forty persons were present. Dr. Zatae Longsdorf Straw '87 the first woman graduate of Dickinson College, was present. Dr. Straw now lives at Manchester, N. H. During the evening she spoke briefly concerning her enthusiasm for Dickinson and referred to numerous members of her family who are graduates of the college.

Dr. William W. Edel, President of the College, and Dr. Rowland R. Lehman, Assistant to the President, were present at the meeting to represent the college. Dr. Edel addressed the group on the theme, "The State of the College." He discussed in detail the achievements of recent years and the on-going program which characterizes the activity of the College. Dr. Lehman spoke concerning the program of the General Alumni Association and of the Development Program. Until now, the Development Program has not been promoted in the Boston Area. During the coming summer, Dr. Lehman will direct an intensive program in this Area.

Promoted to Captain

The Rev. Albert M. Witwer, Jr., '24, pastor of Siloam Methodist Church, West Philadelphia, was recently promoted to captain in the U. S. Naval Reserves. He was the only inactive reserve chaplain of commander rank to be recommended for promotion to the grade of captain by the Selection Board. He is the son of the late Dr. Albert M. Witwer, '00.

Wins Recognition for Work in Art

Fortune magazine in its March issue referred to Lemuel B. Lines '39, Philadelphia artist, as "one of the finest technicians in the commercial-art field" and then illustrated its point by running an eight-page spread of his painting of a 30-car freight train under the title "A Portfolio of Paintings of Modern Rolling Stock."

The freight cars—box, flat, tank, hopper, gondola, refrigerator and the rest—are drawn with relentless precision and in their startling exactness look at first glance more like a photograph than a painting.

A painting of an American eagle by Line appeared in the February issue of Fortune, which liked the eagle so well that it was chosen for the cover of a booklet Fortune is preparing for publication soon.

Line, a free-lance commercial, advertising and illustration artist, has many nationally known firms among his clients, such as American Airlines, North American Insurance Company, Webster Cigar, Waltham Watch, Plymouth Car Corp., Telechrone Clock, Yardley Cosmetics, Sealtest, Pioneer Belt, Dole Pineapple, Regal Stores and many others.

His skill has brought him steadily increasing recognition. A Red Cross cover he designed for The Shuttle, a magazine published by C. H. Masland and Sons, Inc., was awarded an international prize by the Red Cross. A billboard for the Plymouth Car Corporation took an award at the Chicago Poster Exhibit and Joyce Shoe ads have won prizes at the San Francisco Art Exhibit, New York Art Directors Show and the Philadelphia Art Directors Club Exhibit.

After college, Line studied for two years at the Philadelphia Museum School of Art, then spent five war years in the Army which used his talents to make training films, film strips and field manuals. After the war, from which he emerged as a first lieutenant, he spent another year at art school. Line now is director of exhibitions at the Philadelphia Museum School of Art.

In December, 1946, the artist married Marion "Sandi" Clowes, '48, and they have two sons, Bruce Roberts and Charles Farnham. They reside at 318 S. Esiminger Street, Philadelphia, where Line also has his studio.

The artist, who was known variously as Lem, Brennie and Barney while at College, comes of a strong Dickinson family. His father, the late J. Harvey Line, was a member of the Class of '96. A brother, Henry, was in the Class of '38, and another brother, Robert, and a sister, Mrs. Sydnor Thompson, the former Harriet Line, were in the '45 Class. Mrs. Glenn E. Todd, '23, the former Mary K. Line, is an aunt.

Named Deputy Attorney General

Robert L. Rubendall, who graduated from the Law School in September 1947, was appointed a Pennsylvania Deputy Attorney General by Attorney General Robert E. Woodside, '26, '28L, in March. He is associated with the law firm of Hull, Leiby and Metzger, of Harrisburg. Prior to entering the practice of law, he was law clerk for Judge Woodside for about three years.

A graduate of Colgate University, where he was an honor student, Mr. Rubendall served in the Navy during World War II and participated in the invasion of Casablanca. He was valedictorian of his law school class.

He is married and the father of two children and makes his home in Paxtang, Pa.

Publishes Paper

A paper written by Professor E. C. Herber, of the Department of Biology, has been published in the proceedings of the Pennsylvania Academy of Science. It is titled "Studies on the Biochemistry of Cyst Envelopes of the Fluke, Notocotylus Urbanensis."

More Honors Come to Bishop Fred P. Corson

BISHOP CORSON BECOMES A KENTUCKY COLONEL

TWO widely divergent honors have come recently to Bishop Fred P. Corson, '17, president of the College 1934-44 and now head of the Philadelphia Area of the Methodist Church.

He has been elected vice-president of the Board of Bishops of the Methodist Church on the one hand and commissioned a Kentucky Colonel on the other.

As vice-president of the Board of Bishops heading the 72 bishops of the Methodist Church he has been placed in one of the most important positions in Methodism.

During the May 2 annual meeting of the Board of Education of the Methodist Church, of which Bishop Corson is president, he received a commission signed by Governor Lawrence W. Wetherby, making him a Kentucky Colonel. Judge Osso W. Stanley of Frankfort, Ky., a lay member of the Methodist Board, represented the Governor in the ceremony.

The Board of Education, with headquarters in Nashville, Tenn., supervises the Christian education of 6,000,000 Methodist Sunday School members and integrates 120 Methodist related universities, schools and colleges.

Readers of THE DICKINSON ALUMNUS will remember that earlier this year he was named Kappa Sigma Man of the Year, and also that he has recently been elevated to the 33° in Free Masonry.

Becomes Sales Manager

International Business Machines Corporation has announced the appointment of Lewis M. Sterner, '37, as manager of all IBM sales and services in the York area. He was previously a sales representative in Philadelphia.

Stough Library Fund

Since the death of Professor Mulford Stough was announced in the February issue of the ALUMNUS, several of his former students have sent small gifts to the College Librarian, Miss May Morris, for the purchase of books in the field of Professor Stough's interest. Books bought with such gifts or gifts of books will be inscribed as a "in memory of Professor Mulford Stough" before being placed on the library shelves.

Philadelphia Club Meets

With 76 present, the annual dinner of the Dickinson Club of Philadelphia was held at the Merion Cricket Club on April 5. Thomas V. Zug, '33, retiring president, served as toastmaster and Dr. Rowland R. Lehman, Assistant to the President of the College, offered the invocation.

Dr. J. Watson Pedlow, '29, of Chester, was elected president, while Christian C. F. Spahr, '33, and Mrs. Geraldine C. Obermiller, '20, were elected vice-presidents. C. Wendell Holmes, '21, President of the General Alumni Association, was re-elected secretary-treasurer of the Club.

The toastmaster presented Francis Lois Willoughby, '27, the first woman medical officer to receive the permanent rank of commander in the U. S. Navy. He then introduced three of the trustees who were present, Dr. Roy W. Mohler, '17, Dr. William C. Sampson, '02, and Dr. Boyd Lee Spahr, President of the Board, who spoke briefly.

The dinner speakers were Professor Benjamin D. James, of the Faculty, and Vice President Gilbert Malcolm. Besides these and Dr. Lehman, George Shuman, Jr., Treasurer of the College, was also present at the dinner.

North Jersey Club Meets

With 108 present, one of the largest attendances at an alumni club gathering, the Dickinson Club of Northern New Jersey held its annual dinner on May 8 at the William Pitt Inn, Chatham, N. J. The fine attendance rewarded the officers who had carried on with a committee a telephone campaign to better attendance.

Mrs. Helen D. Gallagher, '26, retiring president and secretary of the General Alumni Association presided. The invocation was offered by the Reverend Dr. Elmer E. Pearce, '05.

Lewis E. Young, '38, former vice-president was elected president of the Club and Mrs. William Smethurst, the former Helen Wiener, '25, was named vice-president. Fred H. Green, '35, was elected secretary-treasurer.

The speakers included C. Wendell Holmes, George Shuman, Jr., Professor Benjamin D. James, Director of Admissions at the College, Professor Whitfield J. Bell, Jr., President W. W. Edel, and Dr. Rowland R. Lehman.

Club Meets In Reading

The officers of the club were re-elected in a short business session. These are Mr. Eshelman, president, John B. Stevens, Jr., '42L, vice-president, and Mrs. Sidney D. Kline, '27, secretary-treasurer.

The speaking program included C. Wendell Holmes, president of the General Alumni Association, Treasurer George Shuman, Jr., Dr. Lehman, Dean Walter H. Hitchler, and Vice-President Gilbert Malcolm.

Few Reserves Hamper Basketball Team

A good starting team but a short bench fairly accurately describes last winter's basketball quintet which wound up a strong schedule with a record of seven victories and 12 defeats, scoring 1173 points to 1336 for all opponents and bringing Prof. Charles "Chick" Kennedy's four-year record as head coach to 43 wins, 27 losses.

Richard Zilling, a junior, who missed the last game because of a shoulder dislocation, was the scoring leader for the second straight year with 312 points. A brilliant sophomore record was made by William Stark who was second high scorer on 297 points. They had strong support from Bill Kinsella, junior, and the senior trio of Co-Captains John Slike and Elwood Long and Marvin Zucker.

Early season injuries that kept Slike and Kinsella out of the first few games contributed to a slow start and in the first seven games the team defeated only Western Maryland and Lebanon Valley. But the boys finished strong, winning four of the last seven including a thrilling two-point victory over powerful Bucknell in the finale.

Gettysburg took two from the Red Devils who split even with their other old rivals, F. and M. Albright and Elizabethtown claimed two victories apiece. Games were dropped to two newcomers, Trinity and Upsala, and to Carnegie Tech, back on the schedule after a long lapse. The game with Trinity at Hartford was the first appearance of any Dickinson team in Connecticut.

To Receive Doctorate

Walter T. James, '41, assistant professor of philosophy and religion at the College, will receive the degree of doctor of philosophy from Columbia University in June.

Prof. James received a bachelor's degree in theology from Drew University in 1944 and a master's in sociology from Columbia in 1946. He was pastor of the Woodycrest Methodist Church, N. Y. C., from 1944 to 1946 while studying for his master's. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa.
