Predict Fine Attendance At 180th Commencement

THROUGH diligent work by many class reunion committees it is believed that the 180th Commencement will bring more visitors to the campus in June than in any other year. Reunion chairmen are reporting excellent responses to their letters.

There will be several innovations in this year's program which is jammed with events from Friday afternoon, June 5 until the benediction at the Commencement Exercises on Sunday afternoon, June 7.

One departure is that the College and the Law School will hold separate Commencement Exercises. The Law School seniors will receive their diplomas on Saturday morning, June 6 in exercises to be held outdoors at the Sadler Curtilage, or in the event of rain in Bosler Hall. Bishop Fred P. Corson, '17, will deliver the address at these exercises.

As in past years, the College Commencement Exercises will be held in the Alumni Gymnasium at 3 o'clock. The Honorable Douglas McKay, Secretary of the Interior of the United States, will be the speaker.

Dr. Clyde E. Wildman, Visiting Professor of English Bible and President Emeritus of DePauw University, who came to the College in February and has made a great impression on the College community, will preach the sermon at the Baccalaureate Service on Sunday morning, June 7, in the Alumni Gymnasium at 10:30 A. M.

Saturday, June 6, will be Alumni Day, opening with a meeting of Phi Beta Kappa. Many alumni will arrive early to attend the Law School Commencement at 10 A. M. The annual meeting of the

DOUGLAS McKAY
Commencement Speaker

General Alumni Association will be held in Old West at 11 A. M.

At least three portraits and several class gifts will be presented at the Alumni Luncheon, which will be held at noon in the Alumni Gymnasium. After a buffet luncheon served by the Slater System these presentations will be made. The Class of 1903 will have the place of honor on the platform as the 50th Reunion Class, and will also be guests of the college at a dinner at noon on Sunday.

The portrait of the late Prof. William W. Landis will be given by the Class of 1933, and that class may also start a scholarship fund if enough gifts are received. The portraits of two Trustees, the late J. Hope Caldwell and the late Robert H. Richards, will be presented by their widows and children. Several classes have been accumulating funds for gifts, among them 1928, 1938 and 1943.

Immediately following the luncheon, the Mary Dickinson Club to which all women interested in the college are eligible, will hold its annual meeting in Bosler Hall. The meeting will begin at 2:00 P. M.

The President's Reception will be held at the President's House from three to five o'clock that afternoon and fraternity banquets are scheduled to begin at 6 o'clock, though some have set 5:30 as the hour.

The Mary Dickinson Club will hold a dinner at 6 o'clock in Drayer Hall, especially for those who will not attend fraternity or class dinners at that hour. This proved very popular when it was done for the first time last year, and is a great deal better than trying to be served in the town restaurants at that hour. Any one wishing to attend that function is welcome to do so.

The "something extra has been added" will be the presentation of the one-act play, "The Pot Boilers" with an all-senior cast in Bosler Hall on Saturday night

For the Unattached

A limited number of rooms in Drayer Hall will be provided for the accommodation of former co-eds during Commencement. These may be used either Friday or Saturday, June 5 and 6, or for both nights.

Accommodations will also be available in Conway Hall for men desiring them.

So far as possible requests should be made in advance to George Shuman, Jr., Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa., or at the Registration Room in Old West immediately upon arrival.

at 8:30 o'clock. It is directed by Irvine N. Smith, who has done an excellent job in each of the year's productions.

Following the play, the traditional Alumni Prom, Sing and Band Concert will be held on the campus beginning about nine o'clock. The day's concluding event will be the annual Raven's Claw Reunion which will get under way about 10:30 in the College Commons and last till morning.

To Do Surgical Research

Dr. Herbert L. Davis, '21, Senior Research Associate of Ethicon Suture Laboratories, New Brunswick, N. J., resigned last month to accept a position on the staff of Dr. M. M. Musselman, Director of Surgery, Wayne County General Hospital, Eloise, Michigan, as Associate in Surgical Research.

In his new position, Dr. Davis, who for some years was a member of the faculty of the college, will have the opportunity to pursue certain problems in fat metabolism, particularly fat embolism, in which he has been interested for twenty years, and about which he originally published an article in 1936.

Mary Dickinson Club Making Rapid Strides

By Mrs. Russell I. Thompson, President

IN FEBRUARY of this year the Mary Dickinson Club was two years old. A quarter of its third year has passed. What has been accomplished in that time? Three projects have been completed which center in Drayer Hall. These include a gift of entrance lights for the Hall, the gift of a copy in oils, from the original by Charles Wilson Peale, of the portrait of Mary Dickinson, and a Baldwin grand piano for the lounge. The first two are gifts of trustee wives, and their interest to this extent is a fine compliment to the Club.

Since its inception the organization has attempted to mean something in the lives of the girls of the College. When they moved to Drayer Hall they were welcomed with a donut and coffee pajama party.

Last year Dean Millicent McIntosh of Barnard College, who is now its president, was brought to the campus for an inspiring day with the women of the College. This year Judge Florence E. Allen of Cleveland came for the same type of program. She addressed the students, members of the local bar association and members of the Mary Dickinson Club at the morning chapel service. Women students were given the opportunity to meet her informally at a tea in the lounge of Drayer Hall, and Miss Allen again spoke at a dinner meeting in the evening. It was felt by those who heard her that her talk transcended anything we've heard for some time.

In the fall of 1951 a tea was held in Memorial Hall to which local high school girls pursuing the college preparatory course were invited. Members of the women's honorary society Wheel and Chain took the guests on a tour of the campus. If the much larger number of local young people who applied for admission to the Freshman Class is a fair indication, it can be considered a very successful event. In the fall of 1952 this activity was turned over to the Carlisle Mary Dickinson Club, and was a correspondingly successful affair, held in the lounge of Drayer Hall.

Membership numbers 854. Of these 19 are Life Members, and 101 are new. Of the new members 55 are the mothers of Freshmen. Four local branches have been organized, located in Carlisle, Baltimore, Harrisburg and Altoona. They show considerable strength and are constantly growing.

The membership chairman with the president of the Club visited the women's fraternities and the Freshmen to acquaint them with the purpose and aims of the organization. If the women students show an interest in the Club they will doubtless want to be active after graduation.

One of the goals of the Scholarship Committee is to establish a scholarship especially for girls. An increase in the number of Life Memberships will help us to meet this goal, as the interest could be used for this purpose. Why not become a Life Member?

During the coming summer we hope to provide a piano for Biddle House.

Always the Club has in mind its long range goal of helping the College establish a fully staffed department of music. More and more the duties of the officers on the campus, in addition to activities with students, will be to direct local groups and their projects.

At Commencement this year the semi-annual meeting will be held at 2:00 o'clock in Bosler Hall. Because the meetings are few they are important, and an effort is made to have them short. Come, and be an informed member. In the evening, at the time when the fraternity banquets are being held the Club will sponsor the third annual dinner in the dining room of Drayer Hall. To it are invited all the women who want to avoid the heat and rush of crowded eating places in town and who want a cool and delightful place to dine.

Recommend Election of Women Trustees

WOMEN will serve on the Board of Trustees of the College for the first time in history if a recommendation of the Alumni Council receives favorable Trustee action. The Board could act on the recommendation at its Commencement meeting in June.

The feeling of the Council as expressed at a special meeting held in Carlisle on April 11, for the consideration of proposed changes to the Constitution of the General Alumni Association, is that there are many women, alumnae and others, who would be willing and able to serve Dickinson in the role of Trustee.

A survey by Miss Dorothy Hoy, '41, secretary of the Council, covering 15 small, co-educational, privately endowed colleges in Pennsylvania, showed that all but one of them have at least one woman on their boards.

The survey indicated that all of the colleges with more than 150 women students have two or more women on their Boards and that Swarthmore, closest to Dickinson in enrollment, has 14 women trustees on a board of 32 members.

Three changes in the Constitution of the General Alumni Association were recommended for approval by the Association at its annual meeting at Commencement on Saturday, June 6, as follows:

Paragraph 1, Article VI, now reads: The Executive Committee should be composed of the officers who are also members of the Council. The president and any one member of the Committee shall constitute a quorum. Recommended change: The Executive Committee shall be composed of the officers who are also members of the Council, and the Secretary. The president and any one member of the committee, entitled to vote, shall constitute a quorum.

Paragraph 2, Article VI, now reads: The Executive Committee shall act for the Council between its meetings. Recommended change: The Executive Committee shall act for the Council between its meetings, and may delegate such authority as it may see fit to the Alumni Secretary.

Section 2, Article IX, now reads: Amendments to this Constitution may also be made at the annual meeting of the Association by a two-thirds vote of all the members attending, a quorum being present, provided the proposed amendment or amendments shall have been published not later than 10 days previously in THE DICKINSON ALUMNUS. Recommended change: Amendments to this Constitution may also be made at the annual meeting of the Association by a two-thirds vote of all the members attending, provided at least 20 are present, and provided further that the proposed Amendment or Amendments shall have been published not later than 10 days previously in THE DICKINSON ALUMNUS or mailed to members of the Association 10 days previous to the meeting.

Preaches In Chapel Series

Bishop John Wesley Lord, '27, was warmly received by students when he returned to the campus March 3 to deliver the sermon at the 10th worship service in the series of 15 held at the college this term featuring the preaching of representative American clergymen. The series, arranged by President Edel, closed this month with a sermon by Harry Emerson Fosdick.

Bishop Lord, resident head of the Boston area of the Methodist Church, told students that lasting world peace will come when men and nations have the strength to base their relations upon moral and spiritual forces rather than upon the power of "guns and money." He remained on the campus for student interviews and an informal panel discussion.

Seven Receive Honorary Degree At Commencement

JOHN C. ARNOLD

HOWARD E. MOSES

FIVE of the seven honorary degrees which will be conferred at the 180th Commencement Exercises in the Alumni Gymnasium on Sunday afternoon, June 7, will be upon Dickinsonians.

The Honorable Douglas McKay, Secretary of the Interior of the United States, who will be the Commencement speaker, will receive the degree of Doctor of Laws as will Justice John C. Arnold, graduate of the Dickinson School of Law and member of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court.

The honorary degree of Doctor of Science will be conferred upon Dr. John McK. Mitchell, Dean of the School of Medicine of the University of Pennsylvania; Howard E. Moses, '98, Chief Engineer of the Pennsylvania Department of Health, and Hobart Munson Corning, '11, Superintendent of Schools of Washington, D. C.

B. O. McAnney, '13, managing editor of the New York World-Telegram, will be awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Literature, and the Rev. William V. Middleton, '28, of the Board of Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Church, will receive the degree of Doctor of Divinity.

Justice Arnold was President Judge of the Courts of Clearfield County prior to his election to the Supreme Court last November. This was reported in the December number of THE DICKINSON ALUMNUS. He is a trustee of the College and of the law school.

Secretary McKay was in his second term as Governor of Oregon when he was named to the President Eisenhower cabinet last November. He was born a grandson of Oregon pioneers in Portland on June 24, 1893, and received his early education in the Ladd School there. He worked his way through Oregon State College, and was graduated with a degree in agriculture.

In May 1917, he left college to join the Army in World War I and was commissioned 1st Lieutenant in the 361st Infantry of the 91st Division. He was wounded in action in October 1918, in the Meuse-Argonne offensive and spent many months in army hospitals recovering from multiple injuries. He was vacationing in Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941, and organized a home guard unit at the request of local authorities. He served as a captain and major in World War II in Service Command Unit 1911.

Following World War I, Mr. McKay became an automobile salesman in Portland, and in 1927 established his own business in Salem, Ore. For the past 25 years he has been a dealer for Chevrolet and Cadillac in Salem.

He was a member of the Oregon State Senate from 1935 to 1949. In 1933-34 he was mayor of the city of Salem. He was elected Governor in November 1949 and was re-elected for a four-year term in November 1950. A Mason, he is a past commander of the American Legion, a member of the V. F. W., the Military Order of the Purple Heart and other fraternal organizations.

In 1917, Douglas McKay was married to Mabel Hill. They have two daughters and five grandchildren. His chief hobby is horseback riding.

Dean Mitchell

Dr. John McK. Mitchell, who will receive an Sc.D. degree, has been a member of the faculty of the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine since 1927 and Dean since 1948. He is a native of Centreville, Md., and received his A.B. from Trinity College in 1920. In 1924 he graduated cum laude when he received his M.D. degree from the School of Medicine of Yale University. His alma mater awarded him a Doctor of Science degree in 1949, and Temple University conferred the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws upon him in 1951.

Following an internship and residency at New Haven Hospital, Dr. Mitchell was Instructor in Pediatrics at Yale University School of Medicine in 1925-26 and the next year went to Pennsylvania in a similar post advancing to Associate Professor in 1950. While at Pennsylvania he has been on the pediatric staff at Bryn Mawr Hospital and in 1937-40 was lecturer in the Graduate Department of Social Research at Bryn Mawr College. In 1937, he became a licentiate in the American Board of Pediatrics, and is now Executive Secretary of that board.

The bibliography of Dean Mitchell lists more than two-score contributions to national and state medical journals and several monographs of addresses delivered before learned societies and academic meetings.

Dr. Mitchell saw service in both world wars. He was in the Connecticut National Guard in 1917 and served as a first lieutenant with the 319th Infantry from August of that year to July 1919. He has four battle stars and the Silver Star for service in the A. E. F. from May 1917 to June 1919. In March 1941, he was commissioned a major in the Medical Corps and while serving in the China-Burma-India theater advanced to Colonel in May 1945. He was discharged in October 1945.

Dr. Mitchell holds membership in a number of national, state and local medical societies. He is a member of Alpha Omega Alpha, Sigma Xi and Alpha Epsilon Delta fraternities. He is also active in civic affairs in Philadelphia.

H. MUNSON CORNING

Howard E. Moses

Howard Eugene Moses, the son of a Methodist minister, will be celebrating his 55th Reunion when he receives an Sc.D. degree in June. He is one of the few Dickinsonians to become distinguished in engineering. He has been with the Pennsylvania Department of Health since 1908 and for some years has been Chief Engineer and Director of the Bureau of Sanitary Engineering.

After his graduation he studied at the University of Maryland and then at the Johns Hopkins University in Hygiene and Public Health. Before going to the state post he was a draftsman and chief designing engineer with the Harrisburg Foundry and Machine Company. In his present post his bureau has supervision of all public water supplies and administration of the state's stream pollution control program.

Mr. Moses participated in the preparation of American Waterworks Practice, a publication of the American Waterworks Association. He is a frequent contributor to various technical periodicals and has assisted in preparing legislation relating to public health. National associations have thrice honored him with awards for outstanding service.

A member of Beta Theta Pi Fraternity, he is affiliated with a great many national, state and interstate agencies. Last month, he was elected president of the Ohio River Valley Sanitation Commission.

Hobart Munson Corning

Hobart Munson Corning, '11, who will receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Science, has been superintendent of the schools of Washington, D. C., since March 1946.

Born in Washington he attended the Central High School there and received his A.B. from the College in 1911 and an A.M. in English in 1912. In 1931 he received the A.M. degree in Administration from Columbia University, and Colorado College has honored him with the degree of Doctor of Education.

Upon his graduation from the College he taught in the high school at Johnstown, Pa., until 1913 and then served four years as superintendent of schools at Newport, Pa. In 1917 he took a similar post in Trinidad, Col., and held it ten years. From 1927 to 1940 he was superintendent of schools at Colorado Springs and went to Omaha, Neb., in 1940 in the same position, where he served until his appointment at Washington, D. C., in 1946. During the summer he taught at the University of Missouri, Denver University and Colorado State Teachers College.

Dr. Corning is a Life Member of NEA and a member of the American Association of School Administrators. He is a member of the executive board of the Boy Scouts of America and is also a member of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, the National Council of Chief State School Officers and vice-president of the Committee on License. At Dickinson he became a member of S. A. E. fraternity and he also has memberships in Phi Delta Kappa, Kappa Delta Pi, the Horace Mann League and the 96 Club. He is a member of the Rotary Club and the Cosmos Club of Washington.

B. O. McANNEY

On March 13, 1913, he married his classmate, Florence R. Kisner, of Carlisle. They have two children, a daughter, Catherine, who is Mrs. Harold R. Packard, and a son, Hobart M. Corning, Jr.

B. O. McAnney

Burnett Olcott McAnney, '13, will receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Literature in recognition of an outstanding career in journalism.

Many Dickinsonians will remember him as the son of Mrs. Lucretia McAnney, who taught oratory and was Dean of Women at the College in the early 1900's.

A member of the staff of the New York Telegram since 1928, he was named city editor when that newspaper merged with the New York World to form the New York World-Telegram in 1933 and has been its managing editor since 1948. He began his newspaper career as a reporter on the New York Tribune after service with the Marine Corps in World War I and has risen through the posts of re-write man, assistant night city editor, night city editor, feature editor to city editor and managing editor. During that time he was also on the New York Evening Post and the New York Times.

WILLIAM V. MIDDLETON

Born in Tarrytown, N. Y., on October 26, 1891, he prepared for college at Conway Hall, received his A.B. degree in 1913 and a B.L. degree from the Columbia University School of Journalism in 1914. He was an instructor of English at DePauw University in 1914-15 and assistant professor at the University of Maine, 1915-17.

A 32° Mason, he is a member of Phi Kappa Psi and Sigma Delta Chi fraternities and a member of the New York Society of Newspaper Editors.

In 1932, he married the former Mabel Wells of New York. They have a daughter, Jill Joan. He is a brother of Lorraine Y. McAnney.

William V. Middleton

The Rev. William Vernon Middleton, '28, who will receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity, has been executive secretary of the Section of Church Extension Board of Missions of the Methodist Church since 1945. He held a similar post in the Philadelphia Conference from 1939 to 1945 and prior to that served in various pastorates of the conference. In 1944, 1948, 1952 he was a member of the Northeastern Jurisdictional Conference of the Methodist Church.

Born in Baltimore on December 25, 1902, he is a graduate of the Baltimore Polytechnic Institute. He received his A.B. from the College in 1928 and a B.D. from Drew University Theological Seminary in 1931. The next year he received an A.M. from New York University, and then from 1933 to 1934 he was a student at Mansfield College, Oxford, England. He received his Ph.D. degree from Drew University in 1946. His dissertation was "Marxist Criticism in Twentieth Century America Judged by Humanistic Standards."

A Mason, he is a member of Phi Kappa Sigma and Omicron Delta Kappa fraternities and a member of the Phi Alpha Ministerial Club and the Phi Beta Ministerial Club.

Dr. Middleton married the former Miriam K. Horst, '30. They have two children, Patricia Jean, born May 30, 1937, and William Horst Ladd, born September 21, 1940.

Becomes Vice President

H. Monroe Ridgely, who has been with the M. P. Moller, Inc., Company of Hagerstown, Md., since a month after his graduation, was elected vice president in charge of sales at a meeting of the Board of Directors in April.

He spent his first two years with the company working in the factory and helping to install organs in order to learn the business. From 1928 until 1931, he was a salesman working from the home office and then he was manager of the Philadelphia office from 1931 to 1938. After three years as manager of the New York office, he was recalled to Hagerstown in 1941 to become sales manager, when he was also elected to the Board of Directors.

Active in Dickinson affairs, his daughter graduated from the college last June and his son is now a student. He is a member of the Alumni Council and president of the Dickinson Club of Hagerstown.

Dedicates New School

Eustace Laurence Springer, '24, the headmaster, led the well-known Pingry School, which has a long record of accomplishments, into a new era of usefulness with the opening of an imposing $1,600,000 building on a new school site in residential Hillside, N. J. Dedication of the structure in February capped transfer of Pingry, country day school for boys, from its former quarters in nearby Elizabeth.

Such noted Pingry alumni as Edward A. Weeks, editor of The Atlantic Monthly, and Admiral William Halsey assisted Headmaster Springer at the ceremonies. President Harold W. Dodds of Princeton was a speaker. With an enrollment of 450 students living in 50 communities within commuting distance, the school has long been the largest country day school in New Jersey and now is the finest equipped also.

Situated behind a grove of trees, the new brick building is early American architecture in design and is set off by a white columned portico and a tower for its bell and clock. There are separate wings for the lower, middle and upper classes. Springer has been at Pingry since 1936.

Awarded Degree

The honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon the Rev. Herbert E. Richards, '41, by Dr. Paul M. Pitman, president of the College of Idaho. The ceremony took place at the evening service of the First Methodist Church in Boise, Idaho, of which Dr. Richards is the minister.

Before going to Boise, Dr. Richards was a member of the faculty of Drew Theological Seminary.

The Easter Bulletin of his church contained a new hymn "He Is Risen Victorious," the words of which he had written and the music was composed by Frances R. Havergal.

Philadelphia Club Sets New Attendance Mark

ALL modern records for attendance at an alumni club dinner were shattered on April 15, when a lot of doorbell ringing, phoning and personal calls by President "Chris" Spahr, '33, Vice-President "Larry" Davidson, '31, and their cohorts paid off. There were 150 present at the annual dinner of the Dickinson Club of Philadelphia at a very fine affair held that night in the Merion Cricket Club.

A few years ago, 120 attended the dinner of the Dickinson Club of Northern New Jersey at Chatham. That mark has stood unchallenged since it was set.

Dr. Whitfield J. Bell, Jr., '35, Boyd Lee Spahr Professor of American History, was the principal speaker. His theme dwelt on the past, present and future of the College. He was introduced by "Chris" Spahr, the president who acted as toastmaster. President William W. Edel offered the invocation and was also one of the speakers.

Dr. Frederic W. Ness, '33, now in his first year as Dean of the College, also spoke briefly as did C. Wendell Holmes, '21, president of the General Alumni Association, who for years has been the secretary-treasurer of the Philadelphia Club.

After the more formal program, R. H. MacAndrews was introduced and "Mac" told several of his stories as only he can tell them. The evening was then concluded when "Red" Malcolm with J. Ohrum Small, '15, at the piano, sang three of his "Holler Louder" numbers.

During the dinner, Mr. Spahr introduced Mr. Small, who the night before was elected president of the Dickinson Club of Delaware. He also presented Joseph G. Hildenberger, '33, '35L, who was elected president of the Dickinson Club of Lehigh Valley on April 7 and now spends a good part of the week in Philadelphia as the recently appointed United States Attorney.

There was a fine round of applause when Mr. Spahr recognized Frysinger Evans, attorney of Philadelphia and Clementon, N. J., a former treasurer of the College, as the earliest graduate present. He graduated 61 years ago in 1892.

An innovation which proved popular with the alumni was the enlarged delegation from the College. In addition to President Edel, Professor Bell and the Vice-President, there were Dean Ness, Dr. Herbert Wing, Jr., Dr. Milton W. Eddy, Treasurer George Shuman, Jr., and "Mac."

Addresses Reading-Berks Club

Judge W. Clarence Sheely, president of the Dickinson School of Law and president of the Pennsylvania Bar Association, was the principal speaker at the annual dinner of the Dickinson Club of Reading-Berks on April 8. With 65 present for the best attendance in some years, the dinner was held in the Walnut Room of the Hotel Berkshire in Reading.

Judge Sheeley made an excellent address on the history of the Dickinson School of Law in which he traced the development of legal education from the days of Judge Reed in 1834, when the "law department of the College" was established to the present day.

Joseph B. Stephens, Jr., '42L, retiring president, acted as toastmaster. Others who spoke briefly were Dean W. H. Hitchler, President William W. Edel and Vice-President Gilbert Malcolm. Prof. Benjamin D. James, director of admissions; George Shuman, Jr., treasurer of the College, and Henry Otto, alumni secretary of the law school, were also guests.

Horace F. Shepherd, '20, secretary of the Reading Y. M. C. A., was elected as the new president. He offered the invocation and a closing prayer at the dinner. Harry W. Speidel, '42, was elected vice-president and Mrs. W. Richard Eshelman, the former Mary P. Mackie, '43, was named secretary-treasurer.

Dickinsonian Judges In Pennsylvania

By BOYD LEE SPAHR

MORE graduates of Dickinson have become lawyers than have entered any other profession, teaching, the ministry and medicine following in the order named. From the incomplete records of the earliest days in the Eighteenth Century it appears that Presbyterian ministers were in the lead, but in the succession of years the lawyers have outstripped all other professions. No doubt this is in part due to the fact that the College had a chair of law presided over by Judge John Reed from 1830 to 1850 and then after a lapse of 12 years by Judge James H. Graham from 1862 to 1882. Following Judge Graham's death in that year the teaching of law in the College lapsed. In 1890 the Dickinson School of Law was organized under a separate charter, but its affiliation with the College has been a close one ever since then.

Thus it is natural that in Pennsylvania there have been or now are many judges who were or are graduates of either the College or the Law School or both. Of course the outstanding national figure among the College graduates is Roger B. Taney, of the Class of 1795, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States from 1836 to 1864, but without going outside of Pennsylvania the list of appellate, common pleas and orphans' court judges is quite remarkable. At the present time there is one graduate of the Law School on the Supreme Court, one on the Superior Court and there are 28 common pleas and orphans' court judges on the bench throughout the Commonwealth.

The following is a list of the Dickinson jurists in Pennsylvania, historically and presently. If there is any omission it is purely inadvertent.

Entertains Chicago Alumni

Mrs. Proctor D. Foucht, daughter of the late Col. Alexander A. Sharp, '83, was hostess to 36 at the annual dinner of the Dickinson Club of Chicago held in the exclusive South Shore Country Club there on February 17.

Dr. Fred W. Ness, Dean of the College, and Vice-President Gilbert Malcolm were the representatives from Carlisle and the principal speakers. Paul C. BeHanna, '27, retiring president, presided and introduced the toastmaster, J. Leeds Clarkson, '11. Samuel W. Witwer, Jr., '30, Trustee of the College, delivered a tribute to the memory of Colonel Sharp.

John W. Garrett, '19, who had been vice-president the past two years, was elected president, while Mrs. William D. Gray, the former Mary Rombach, '27, was reelected vice-president and Mrs. Paul C. BeHanna, the former Elsie Burkhardt, '27, was chosen secretary-treasurer. Howard A. Heisey, '36, Leeds Clarkson and Paul BeHanna were named to the executive committee.

Honored By Yale Club

Dr. Edwin E. Willoughby, '22, was recently elected an honorary member of the Elizabethean Club of Yale University. He is chief of the Shakespearean Section of the Folger Library in Washington.

Dr. Willoughby returned in April after spending some months of study in London, England, and some weeks of travel through the British Isles.

Pass State Bar Exams

John D. Hopper, '48, Camp Hill, Pa., and John M. Watkins, '50, Harrisburg, Pa., were among 10 Dickinson School of Law graduates who successfully passed the Pennsylvania State Bar examinations given last January in Philadelphia.

Others in the group from the Law School were William F. Euker, Harrisburg, Pa.; Donald E. Albright, Hanover, Pa.; Frank Allen, Tamaqua, Pa.; Ralph C. Hood, Beaver Falls, Pa.; Earl Kaplan, Scranton, Pa.; Clement R. Kyle, Glenshaw, Pa.; Walter R. Rice, Jr., Williamsport, Pa., and Barris Siegel, Rochester, Pa.

Becomes Judge of Bedford County

RICHARD C. SNYDER, '33L, was appointed judge of the several courts of Bedford County, Pa., by Governor John S. Fine on March 17, 1953. He will serve until the first Monday of January, 1956.

Judge Snyder has been engaged in the general practice of law from the time of his admission to the bar in 1934 until his appointment to the bench.

Born in Clearville, Bedford County, on January 13, 1902, he attended Juniata College, graduated from the Law School in 1933. He also did a year of post-graduate work at New York University.

A Methodist and a member of Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity, he also is a Mason, a member of the Consistory of the Shrine. He also holds membership in the Elks and Lions Club. He is a member of the Bedford County and Pennsylvania Bar Associations.

Judge Snyder was married to Miss Louise F. Beachley of Hagerstown, Md., on October 6, 1934. They have two children, Sharlet Louise, aged 14, and Richard Van, aged 11.

In Social Work

Since last November, William H. Moyle, '46, has been executive Secretary of the Family Service Association of Meriden, Conn. Prior to that for four years he was a social case worker with the Family Service of St. Paul, Minn.

While a student in the New York School of Social Work of Columbia University, he was associated with the Jewish Family Service in the Bronx, N. Y. He received his Master's Degree in Social Work in January 1949.

He is a member of Alpha Chi Rho fraternity, the Baptist Church and the American Association of Social Workers.

His wife is the former Jane Hartzell, '45. They have three children, Janet Kathleen, born July 14, 1945; Richard Allen, born January 21, 1947 and Cheryl Lynn, born August 5, 1952.

Pittsburgh Holds Luncheon

With 38 present, the annual luncheon of the Dickinson Club of Pittsburgh was held at noon on Saturday, March 28, in the Hotel Pittsburgher. James M. McElfish, '43, president of the club, acted as toastmaster.

The Rev. Adam Nagay, '14, vice-president of the club, offered the invocation. He will retire from the Pittsburgh Conference of the Methodist Church at the end of the conference year in May and move to Washington, D. C., with his wife to make their home there with their son.

Among the alumni attending the luncheon were Judge John A. Drew, '41L, who is a candidate for reelection to the bench, and John Haverly, '25L, who is also a Republican candidate for a Common Pleas judgeship.

George Shuman, Jr., treasurer of the College, opened the speaking program. He was followed by Dean W. H. Hitcher of the Law School, Dean Frederick W. Ness of the College, and Vice-President Gilbert Malcolm.

R.O.T.C. Unit Wins Praise At Open House

HIGH-RANKING officers had words of praise for Dickinson's Army R.O.T.C. unit when they visited the College in large numbers on April 17 during a day-long "open house" arranged by the military department to show Army men, educators, parents of the 160 cadets at the College and the public the progress made by the unit in its first year of operation.

Described by President Edel as a highly successful undertaking, the many-event program drew 5,000 persons to the campus and Biddle Field and many more saw it described on the radio or saw parts of it televised.

A luncheon for 100 officers and Carlisle civic leaders, a dress parade of the Dickinson corps, a competitive drill with the Diamond Rifles of Temple University and a concert by the famous 125-piece U. S. Army Field Band crowded the day. Latest Army equipment and weapons featured exhibits set up on the Rush Campus and in the Alumni Gymnasium. Many service organizations in Baltimore, Washington and elsewhere contributed to the exhibits.

Lt. Col. Daniel W. Rachal, professor of military science and tactics at Dickinson, his executive officer, Maj. Walter Tucker, and their efficient staff of instructors, all came in for praise and commendation from the host of visitors.

Because of its proximity to Washington, Dickinson is the "pilot model" for the Branch-General curriculum being tested by the Army in a score of colleges this term for possible use in all R.O.T.C. colleges. The experiment, in contrast with the specialization of traditional R.O.T.C. training, gives broad general instruction without reference to any one branch of the service. Cadets make their choice of branch after the second year.

"I am proud of Dickinson and its R.O.T.C., and I can say that it appears now that the type of training being tested here is to be made a regular part of Army policy," said Maj. Gen. Hugh

M. Milton, executive for Reserve and R.O.T.C. affairs at the Pentagon. He brought greetings from Defense Secretary Charles Wilson and Chief of Staff Lawton Collins.

Maj. Gen. L. D. Carter, head of the R.O.T.C. in the Second Army and deputy commander of Fort Meade, said he had received "most favorable" reports of the Dickinson corps and that he was happy to see its enthusiasm and efficiency.

From Brig. Gen. Verdi Barnes, acting commandant of the Army War College, Carlisle Barracks, came words of congratulations on "Dickinson's fine start in R.O.T.C." The commanding officers of six other important military installations in Central Pennsylvania were among the two-score officers in attendance.

The luncheon in the Commons was followed by ceremonies on Biddle Field. Here Gen. Milton addressed the cadets who then staged their first formal "pass in review." M/S Joseph Kolodinsky, one of the unit's instructors, gave a flame thrower demonstration and then followed a competition between the Dickinson drill team and Temple's Diamond Rifles, one of the best teams in the East. It was a new spectacle for Biddle Field. The visiting team won the decision of a board of judges from Carlisle Barracks.

The corps received a permanent trophy from the Carlisle Barracks chapter of Sojourners on which will be engraved each year the name of the cadet making the greatest contribution to the unit.

From Biddle Field the crowds went to the Rush Campus where an hour's outdoor concert by the great U. S. Army Field Band was given and where military equipment and weapons sent in from Washington and camps in the area were on display.

Two radio stations and a television station broadcast the activities of "Open House," which turned out to be such a successful event that it may be repeated each spring as a public service.

Sworn In As United States Attorney

JOSEPH G. HILDENBERGER, '33, '35L, was appointed and sworn in as United States attorney for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania on March 24. In 1944, he was appointed an assistant U. S. attorney and served until 1948, when he resigned to become solicitor of Northampton County, Pa. After four years in that office, he was again appointed assistant U. S. attorney for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania in March of 1952 and was in that post when he was appointed to the top spot. The appointment was made by Presiding Judge William H. Kirkpatrick and the four other judges of the district court upon the recommendation of U. S. Attorney General Herbert Brownell and Hildenberger's predecessor in office, Gerald A. Gleason.

After serving as a project attorney for the U. S. Resettlement Administration and also with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, he was assistant district attorney of Northampton County, Pa., from 1940 to 1942.

A star on the football team in his college days, Hildenberger coached the Dickinson freshman football team during his first year in the Law School. He has maintained his interest in Dickinson affairs and in March was elected president of the Dickinson Club of Lehigh Valley. He is one of the 10 nominees for the Alumni Council for this year's election in the General Alumni Association.

Born in Bethlehem, Pa., on May 15, 1911, he graduated from Bethlehem Catholic High School there. From the College in 1933 and the Dickinson School of Law in 1935. He is a member of the Commons Club, the Knights of Columbus, Men of Malvern, the Kiwanis Club of Bethlehem and the Pennsylvania and Federal Bar Association.

He married the former Catherine C. Bender of Bethlehem on October 6, 1945. They have two children, Martin J., born August 31, 1946, and Catherine R., born September 25, 1949. Their home address is 416 Carlton Avenue, Bethlehem, Pa.

Awarded A Fulbright Grant

Dr. J. Murray Barbour, '18, member of the faculty of Michigan State College, has been granted a sabbatical leave to accept a Fulbright Grant for research upon the pre-Haydn symphony at the University of Vienna for the academic year 1953-54. Mrs. Barbour will accompany him to Vienna.

The current issue of the Journal of the American Musicological Society contains an article he wrote, "Violin Intonation in the 18th Century." The forthcoming revision of the Encyclopaedia Britannica will contain a new article on "Pitch, Musical," which he rewrote to replace the former one.

Awarded Research Fellowship

Dr. Craig R. Thompson, '33, is a fellow of the American Council of Learned Societies for the present term, and is on leave from Lawrence College, where he is chairman of the Department of English. He has been awarded a grant-in-aid by the Folger Shakespeare Library in Washington, D. C., for research there during the coming summer.

Honors Include Gift of Solomons Ring

REV. Dr. Lewis D. Gottschall, '22, rector of St. Peter's Church, Oakland, Calif., and one of only seven perpetual canons (Canonicus Perpetualis) in the Episcopal Church, had two more honors in the past 14 months to add to many that have come his way in the course of a busy and remarkably varied life.

An honorary degree of Doctor of Laws awarded in absentia last year by St. John's University, Ambur, India, in recognition of his "distinguished work in the field of humanities, psychology, psychosomatics and philosophy" was presented to Dr. Gottschall last January in California by Shakuntala Devi, an East Indian student at the University of California.

The honor came to him in connection with writings he did for the university some time ago. Dr. Gottschall also holds a Doctor of Philosophy from Andhra University, in India; a Doctor of Religious Science from the Apostolic Church of the Indies, and the Doctor of Divinity and Doctor of Bio-Psychology.

Member of the Pastoral Psychiatrists in London, his foreign citations include the Grande Prix Haumanitaire de Belgique, Croix de Commandeur and the Institute Napoletano di Cultura Diplome O'Onore.

A unique honor came his way early last year in Memphis, Tenn., when he was presented with a just-then-complete recreation of the legendary siget ring of King Solomon. The presentation was made at a public dinner attended by 500 representative citizens of Memphis and arranged in Dr. Gottschall's honor by Dean Israel H. Noe, a long-time friend in the Episcopal Church.

The 18-karat gold ring, valued at more than $5,000, was the result of 11 years of research in Europe and the Holy Land by Dean Noe and a committee of scholars and two years of painstaking work by jewelers of Memphis and New York. Weighing about a pound and adorned with 10 precious stones and the symbolism of human knowledge and wisdom, the ring is thought to resemble in all details the long-lost original of King Solomon.

Dr. Gottschall has been at St. Peter's Church in Oakland for the past 16 years. His preaching career, begun in Berwick, Pa., and including 12 years in the chaplaincy of the U. S. Navy, has carried him from Buddhist temples in Asia to the television networks of America. He is a psychiatrist and conducts an Institute of Prayer. He has called prayer "America's secret weapon."

Each year he goes on a lecture trip of eight weeks in the West and South. Besides his radio programs in Oakland, he does others in Los Angeles and San Francisco. The University of Guatemala recently invited him to give a course during the coming Summer Session.

He lives in Piedmont, Calif., near Oakland, with Mrs. Gottschall. They have two married daughters and seven grandchildren.

Appointed Trustee

Frank E. Masland, Jr., '18, president of C. H. Masland and Son, of Carlisle, was appointed a trustee of Shippensburg State Teachers College by Governor John S. Fine in March.

Mr. Masland is a trustee of the college and a director of both the National Manufacturers Association and the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Association. He is a member of the Board of Governors of Westminster Theological Seminary in Westminster, Md.

Four Primary Candidates

Half of the candidates for School Director in the borough of Carlisle are Dickinsonians. Robert A. Craig, '39; Beecher M. Dubbs, '38, and Samuel Padjen, '39, seek the Republican nominations while Edwin E. Blumenthal, '32, is one of two Democrat candidates.

Honor Discoverer of Chloromycetin

RECEIVES JOSEPH PRIESTLEY MEMORIAL SCIENCE AWARD

President William W. Edel presents Wedgwood Medallion to Dr. Paul R. Burkholder

DICKINSON COLLEGE gave its second annual Joseph Priestley Memorial Science Award on March 10 to one of its most famous sons, Dr. Paul Rufus Burkholder, '24, for "distinguished contributions to the welfare of mankind through botany."

Dr. William W. Edel, president of the College, made the presentation at a public ceremony in Bosler Hall after Dr. Burkholder had been introduced by one of his former science teachers at Dickinson, Dr. Milton W. Eddy, chairman of the department of biology.

Dr. Burkholder received a ceramic medallion of Priestley that had been cast in England by Wedgwood from a mold made in 1779 by the famous pottery firm. President Edel spoke of the College's intense pride in Dr. Burkholder and his achievements in the world of science.

The 1953 award winner is world renowned as the discoverer of Chloromycetin, most potent weapon yet found for epidemic typhus and typhoid fever and a possible cure for cancer and tuberculosis. It is the first of the new antibiotics that chemists have been able to make synthetically. Dr. Burkholder came upon the mold from which chloromycetin is produced while in the process of examining thousands of soil samples from all parts of the world.

He is also noted for discovering new ways to make vitamin B₂ (riboflavin) in large quantities and for his important work with ultra-violet "sunburning" of bacteria to check food spoilage. Most of his experiments and research have been carried out at Yale where he is Eaton Professor of Botany and chairman of the department of plant science.

Member of the Yale faculty since 1940, he is a trustee of Biological Abstracts, member of the National Academy of Science and in 1948 was president of the American Society of Naturalists.

In accepting the award, the scientist, who was born in a rural parsonage within 60 miles of the campus, said that he was pleased to receive the honor and that he would "always remember that Dickinson gave a start to a boy from the country."

"My years at Dickinson have been a happy memory and I am grateful for them," he said. He made reference to a red bow tie he wore with his dinner jacket. He had put it on, he said, in memory of one of his former teachers at Dickinson, the late Leon C. Prince, professor of history, whose characteristic red four-in-hands became to his students a symbol of matchless teaching skill and the fortitude with which he met the physical infirmity that kept him in a wheel chair. Dr. Burkholder said that his own use of the tie was intended also as a mark of respect for all of the other great men that were his teachers at Dickinson.

He gave an address on "The Service of Science to Society" which was a scholarly tracing and analysis of the development of science and human progress from primitive beginnings to the "Scientific Revolution" of this age. He said that science has become a part of the very fabric of our civilization, that it is tied in with most of the problems of society and that it has the capacity both for good and evil.

"The choice, either to appropriate scientific discoveries for human destruction or to use knowledge for man's salvation, signals our duty to see to it that science is employed in ways beneficial to mankind," he said. It is his conviction that it is possible to educate humanity toward a good and abiding world order, achieved through intelligent practice of Christian love.

Dickinson's Priestley Science Award, established in 1952 to honor the memory of Joseph Priestley and his connection with the College, is given each year to a scientist for research, discovery or production which benefits mankind. The first recipient was Dr. Hugh Stott Taylor, noted physical chemist and dean of the Princeton Graduate School.

Lehigh Valley Club Meets

With 40 present, the annual dinner of the Dickinson Club of Lehigh Valley was held on April 7 in the Lehigh Valley Club, Allentown. Charles F. Irwin, Jr., '27, retiring president acted as toastmaster.

The Rev. C. Clyde Levergood, pastor of the Cherry Valley Methodist Church, offered the invocation. He attended the dinner as the guest of William S. Lesh, '96, retired school man, who represented the earliest class.

Joseph G. Hildenberger, '33, '35L, newly named United States Attorney for Eastern Pennsylvania, was elected president. William A. Steckel, '42, was named vice-president and Max Mechanic, '17, secretary-treasurer. W. L. Sandercock, '31; Mrs. Ralph H. Griesemer, the former Katherine E. Keller, '33, and Jerome W. Burkepile, '40, were elected to the Executive Committee.

The speaking program presented George Shuman, treasurer of the college; C. Wendell Holmes, president of the General Alumni Association; Dean W. H. Hitchler; President William W. Edel and Vice-President Gilbert Malcolm.

Receive Fraternity Plaques

Golden Legion Award plaques for 50 years membership in Phi Delta Fraternity were presented to two Dickinsonians at the annual Founder's Day banquet of the Central Florida Phi Delta Theta Alumni Association in March.

Malcolm B. Sterrett, '00, lawyer of Orlando, and Dean M. Hoffman, now of St. Petersburg, who is a college trustee and former national president of the fraternity, were among those honored.

Effect Binary Program With Pennsylvania

A five-year "two-campus" plan such as Dickinson has had with Case Institute of Technology and Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute for some time, has been effected with the University of Pennsylvania.

By studying liberal arts for three years at Dickinson and engineering for two years at Penn, a student will be able to earn two degrees in five years—a bachelor of arts or bachelor of science degree from Dickinson, a degree of bachelor of science in engineering from Penn.

At Penn, the student will study chemical, civil, mechanical or metallurgical engineering in the Towne Scientific School or will study in the Moore School of Electrical Engineering. Towne and Moore are components of the University. Dr. Carl C. Chambers, '29, is dean of Moore.

The program is designed to give engineering students broader liberal education and to draw more students into engineering, a profession in which an acute shortage of personnel has created unusual opportunities for young graduates. The program will save the participating student about a year of study and considerable expense.

Freshmen entering the College next fall can seek enrollment in the five-year combined plan.

Honored On Retirement

Upon the completion of exactly 40 years in the Department of Mathematics at Yale University, Dr. Joshua I. Tracey, '06, was honored when he retired last June. The following resolution was adopted by the department and presented to Professor Tracey at its last meeting with him:

"Joshua Irving Tracey joined the faculty of Yale University in 1912 shortly after attaining the doctorate at The Johns Hopkins University. He has rendered distinguished service to Yale for two score years and though it is evident that he could continue his vigorous teaching for many years to come, the rules made for weaker men are applied inexorably and the year 1952 is marked by our losing him as a colleague. He has taught thousands of Yale men, undergraduate and graduate. His teaching has been marked by ingenuity, stimulation, patience, kindness, firmness, and the highest standards of accomplishment. The esteem in which he is held by his students is a monument to the man. His cooperation and courtesy in connection with the work of the Department have been unflinching and outstanding. It is hereby recorded that the Department of Mathematics expresses its sincere regret at the departure of Professor Tracey from its ranks and extends to him its best wishes for the years to come."

Following his graduation from the college in 1906, Dr. Tracey taught two years in Pennington Seminary before entering The Johns Hopkins University. The College conferred the honorary degree of Doctor of Science upon him in 1946.

Dr. Tracey served as the representative of Dickinson College at the inauguration of Dr. Albert Charles Jacobs as 14th president of Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., on May 16.

Heads Academy of Science

Dr. Elmer Charles Herber, professor of biology at the College, was installed president of the 1000-member Pennsylvania Academy of Science at its annual meeting in April. A noted parasitologist and author of 17 published articles in scientific journals, he holds a grant from the American Philosophical Society under which he is gathering biographical material on the famous Dickinson alumnus and teacher, Spencer Fullerton Baird, Class of 1840, who was an early secretary of the Smithsonian Institute and the first head and one of the founders of the U. S. Fish Commission.

Establishes Drama Awards

WILLIAM H. G. GOULD TROPHY

Two strikingly handsome sterling silver cups, valued at more than $1,200, have been presented to the College by Dr. Herbert W. Gould, of Detroit, Mich., for use as drama awards in memory of his parents, it has been announced by President William W. Edel.

The cups are to be known as the William H. G. Gould and the Myrtle Drum Gould Trophies. The late Mr. and Mrs. Gould were outstanding Philadelphia Methodists. Each year the trophies will be inscribed with the names of the young man and the young woman who contribute most to the College drama program. Besides having their names on the trophies, the award winners will receive $100 each, which is also made possible by Dr. Gould.

The commemorative trophies are an original design by the donor himself and were made especially for the College. They are 16 inches high and nine inches in diameter. Each is supported on a pedestal bearing four silver torches and the comic and tragic masks symbolic of the drama. The lids of the cups are surmounted by the laurel wreath for distinction and the star which symbolizes attainment in the theatre.

Dr. Gould is the general manager of the Motors Holding Division of General Motors and has long been a friend of the College. His gift comes at a time when new emphasis is being placed by Dickinson upon its drama and speech offerings. During the term now closing three major plays were produced on the campus and the debate team, enjoyed one of the busiest and most successful seasons in the history of the College.

Sing At Altoona

The feature of the annual dinner of the Dickinson Club of Altoona was the half hour program presented by the 30 voiced newly formed Men's Glee Club of the College. The dinner was held in the Logan Room of the Penn Alto Hotel on April 24 and the following night in conjunction with the Mary Dickinson Club there, the club sponsored a presentation of the Dickinson Follies in the high school auditorium.

Robert C. Slutzker, retiring president, acted as toastmaster and the Rev. Ira O. Reed, '39, pastor of the Williamsburg Presbyterian Church, offered the invocation.

The speaking program was opened by George Shuman, Jr., treasurer of the College. He was followed by Prof. Benjamin D. James, Director of Admission and Freshman Dean; Dean W. Hitchler, of the Law School and Vice-President Gilbert Malcolm.

Paul E. Beaver, '22, was elected as the new president for a two year term. Barbara M. Slutzker, '52, was made a vice-president again while Dr. Elwood W. Stitzel, '20, was also named a vice-president. The Rev. Dr. George H. Ketterer, '08, was reelected secretary and George K. Cox, '40, treasurer.

Three Score and Ten

Gifts expressing the affection in which Dean Walter H. Hitchler of the Dickinson School of Law is held by students, alumni and trustees were showered on him at an old-fashioned surprise birthday party on the occasion of his 70th birthday last February 20.

The party was held in the School's new dormitory, the Sadler Curtilage, one of the sections of which is named Hitchler Hall in honor of the man who has given 47 years of his life to the institution.

Pennsylvania Governor John S. Fine, '14L, and Judge W. Clarence Sheely, '26L, president of the board of trustees, who are among Dean Hitchler's warmest friends, set the pace of merriment at the party, which opened with a buffet supper and wound up with a gift "shower."

A handsome television set was presented by the board of trustees. From the faculty came a television lamp and a hand-tooled bookbag and from the students a complete desk set.

Dean Hitchler has been at the Law School ever since his graduation from the University of Virginia Law School in 1906. He became dean in 1930 at the death of William Trickett. He continues to teach several courses, in addition to the heavy administrative load he carries.

Writes on Gospels

The Rev. Richard Morgan, '22, Port Norris, N. J., is the author of a new life of Christ entitled "The Christ of the Cross—Dare Christians Follow Him?" recently published by Richard R. Smith Publisher, Inc., New York.

The book is a sincere and earnest appeal for the Christianization of all areas of life and an insistent demand for the social gospel. It has received favorable critical mention and one reviewer referred to it as a "careful study of the Gospels and a deep conviction concerning the elements of discipleship which are needed for today."

Delaware Club Meets

The social hall of Wesley Methodist Church in Dover was again chosen for the annual dinner of the Dickinson Club of Delaware, which was held there on April 14. There were 50 present. The Rev. Dr. Walter A. Hearn, '14, offered the invocation and Dr. John Shilling, '08, retiring president, was the toastmaster.

Leon deValinger, Delaware State Archivist, and his wife, were guests of the club. He delivered an address outlining the story of the John Dickinson home near Dover and told of the plans to fully restore it as a permanent monument to the man for whom the College is named.

Other speakers were C. Wendell Holmes, president of the General Alumni Association, who drove to Dover with his wife and William Jackson, '03, and his wife; George Shuman, Jr., treasurer of the College; Roger Steck, Director of Public Relations, and Vice-President Gilbert Malcolm. The latter closed the program by singing several of his "Holler Louder" numbers with his one-time accompanist, J. Ohrum Small, '15, at the piano.

During the dinner the following officers were elected for two-year terms: President, J. Ohrum Small, '15; vice-president, E. H. Sellers, '12; Phyllis Mason Heck, '15, secretary, and Walter F. Frohm, '49, treasurer. Three others were named to the Executive Committee, namely Clement Wood, '25L; Dr. John Shilling, '08, and Mrs. Albert Earley, '08, of Georgetown.

Serves As Delegate

Mrs. Allen L. Carter, the former Olga Melloy, '16, served as the delegate of Dickinson College at the inauguration of Edward Newlon Jones as the sixth president of Texas Technical College in Lubbock, Texas, on May 18. Mrs. Carter is a member of the Department of English on the faculty of the College.

EDITORIAL

ALUMNI ANNUAL GIVING FUND NEEDS

AS OF April 30, 1953, gifts to the Alumni Annual Giving Fund totalled $22,174.61. Many will say that is excellent, but it is far from the goal which should be reached by the end of the fiscal year on June 30. It is about $15,000 below the record high of 1947.

With costs remaining high, the College needs the largest amount which can be secured from annual gifts. Recognizing this, a special committee of the Alumni Council will submit a plan to the June meeting for a more intensive effort in 1953-54. The annual campaign will be launched earlier than in other years and greater efforts will be made to secure contributions.

All alumni and friends need to realize that they can help not only in their own gifts but in securing the contributions of business, corporations and fellow alumni.

The College has but three sources of income. These are the fees paid by students, the income from endowment and the annual gifts of alumni and friends.

While newspapers are carrying reports of increases in student charges at other institutions, Dickinson cannot raise its fees to any great extent. There is always a danger of pricing out of the market, or of making College possible for only the rich man's son or daughter.

Through the wisdom of the Finance Committee, Dickinson is fortunate in a high yield from its endowment portfolio. However, that amount cannot greatly increase without many and substantial additions to invested funds. Large increases of endowment principal come usually from bequests or large gifts and these are few and far between.

To balance the college budget or to make any increases in faculty salaries, greater help to students or to provide for many of the needs of operation, the largest amount which can be secured in the Alumni Annual Giving Fund must be attained.

The Fund has another important facet. Many colleges and universities receive part of their annual budget from Federal or State subsidies. Dickinson is one of the independent colleges which receives no such aid. If Dickinson is to remain free and independent it can turn only to its friends and alumni for the amount which will support it now and guarantee its future.

While these are facts, the present and pressing fact is that Dickinson College needs more than the $22,174.61 it has received up to April 30 to balance the books when the fiscal year ends on June 30, 1953. The duty of every alumnus and friend of the College is plain and the way to meet that obligation is to send a check to reach the College before June 30 for the Alumni Annual Giving Fund.

Serves As Delegate

Samuel W. Witwer, Jr., Esq., '30, prominent attorney of Chicago and trustee of the college, was the representative of Dickinson College at the Centennial Convocation at the inauguration of Dr. Robert Wesson Gibson as sixth president of Monmouth College, Monmouth, Illinois, on April 17.

Like Father Like Son

Danny Kahler, son of former Dickinson coach, Arthur D. Kahler, and brother of Connie Kahler, '49, is a chip off the old block. At Arkansas City Junior College where he is basketball coach he guided his team into second place in a national tournament at the close of last season.

Roster Lists 1,248 Names of Life Members

NINETEEN subscriptions have been received since the publication of the February number of THE DICKINSON ALUMNUS to make a total gain of 98 Lifers since May, 1952. As there were 1,150 names listed a year ago, there are 1,248 in the roster of Life Members in the General Alumni Association published in this issue by direction of the Alumni Council.

The gain of 98 this year is a slight drop as in the 1951-52 year there was a gain of 125 and the year before that a gain of 114.

For the third consecutive year, the Class of 1950 with 49 Lifers is in first place. Through the addition of six during the year, 1950 widened its lead over second place 1927, which added only one, and now has 38.

With one leap when 10 memorial names were added at last year's Commencement, the Class of 1917 jumped into third place with a total of 35 names.

Last year 1934 and 1939 were tied with 34 each, but as 1934 stood still 1939 added one for a 35 total and fourth place, dropping 1934 to fifth. The Class of 1933 picked up three and is in the sixth slot, while 1931, which added three, rose from ninth to a tie for seventh with 1935, which added one, with a total of 32 each. The Class of 1926 had no gains and dropped from fifth place to ninth in a tie with 1929, which gained two, with a total of 31 each.

The Class of 1943 has 30 Lifers and there are a number of classes which need small new subscriptions to get into the top 10 bracket. The Class of 1951, for example, gained six during the year and now has 24 after a slow start. The Class of 1940 isn't far off the pace with 28, and the earlier leader, 1902, has 27, gaining another this year.

Nineteen new subscriptions were received since the February number was printed.

The first subscription in the new series came when Mrs. Norman R. Bricker, of Chambersburg, Pa., bought a life membership as a gift to her son, Norman R. Bricker, Jr., '51.

The next came from Louise A. Loper, '28, a teacher, who lives at 500 Crest Avenue, Melrose Park, Philadelphia 26, Pa.

The following day a $40 check was received from Velma Roth Gordon, '29, of 8230 Pickering St., Philadelphia 19, Pa.

The third new Lifer from the former co-eds followed when Mrs. Robert Sauers, the former Nancy J. Persun, '45, of Joshua Road, Lafayette Hill, Pa., sent in $40.

Another $40 check was then received which was mailed in Albuquerque, New Mexico, by Clark D. Read, '18, who moved there from his native Pennsylvania six years ago because of an asthmatic disturbance. He is a division supervisor for the Veteran's Administration there.

William J. Taylor, Jr., '49, who graduated from the University of Pennsylvania Law School in 1952, was the next subscriber. He is serving as law clerk for Chief Justice Horace Stern of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court and lives in Media.

Carrying out a resolution she made long ago, Mrs. William Smethurst, of Montclair, N. J., mailed her check for $40 in February. She is the former Helen Wiener, '25.

The purchase of Life Membership by another parent as a gift to his son followed when William J. Crow, of Arlington, Va., sent his check to make Richard S. Crow, '52, a Lifer. Dick is employed by the American Oil Company and his address is 607 Shady Ave., Pittsburgh 6, Pa.

In March, Dr. Clarke M. Forcey, '31, physician of Philipsburg, Pa., became a Lifer. He is head of the X-ray Department of the Philipsburg State Hospital.

A Dickinsonian father, who practices medicine in Mifflintown, Pa., Dr. Robert Parker Banks, '17, then sent his $40 check for Life Membership for his son, Robert P. Banks, Jr., '50, who is a student in the Boston School of Optometry.

While attending the annual luncheon of the Dickinson Club of Pittsburgh on March 28, Norman W. Lyon, '25, who is in the fund raising progression, gave his forty dollar check for Life Membership to the vice-president who was a speaker.

A forty dollar check was then received from Dr. Edward C. Raffensperger, '36, who graduated from the University of Pennsylvania Medical School in 1940 and is now specializing in gastroenterology in Harrisburg, Pa.

The first subscription in April came from Dorris Louise Leib, '43, who lives in Boiling Springs, Pa.

The Class of 1951 stayed in the vanguard when the subscription of the Rev. Lawrence E. Smith came in. He is now pastor of the Mount Zion Methodist Church, Silver Spring, Md.

A few days later a forty dollar check was received from Frederick F. Rush, '32, of R. D. 2, Phoenixville, Pa.

When he visited the campus on April 27 in the interest of a prospective student, Joseph Asbell, '47, '51L, lawyer of Camden, N. J., wrote his check for $40 to become a Lifer.

The last two subscriptions came in the same mail. One was from Helen R. Langfitt, '14, teacher of Pittsburgh, Pa., who wrote "I've been going to do this for a long time but better late than never." The other was from 1st Lt. Maurice H. Ivins, Jr., '51, who received a regular commission in the Marine Corps on April 23 and is now on duty on the U. S. S. Helena.

Life membership costs $40 and may be paid in one sum or four annual installments of $10 each. Make checks payable to Dickinson College and send them to THE DICKINSON ALUMNUS, Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa.

PERSONALS

It appears that from 10 to 12 members of the class will be present for the 55th reunion on June 6.

Howard E. Moses was elected chairman of the Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission at a session held in Cincinnati last month. He will be awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Science at the 180th Commencement Exercises on Sunday afternoon, June 7.

Bertrand M. Chapman, resigned as merchandising manager of the New York World to join the staff of Barton, Durstine and Osborne, New York Advertising Agency, in an executive capacity. He has been editor of the World Retailer, which he started, and is editor of the New York World's "Buying Centers" of greater New York. He is also the author of "Investigation of Trade Conditions," governing the sale of electrical household appliances. Previous to his connection with the World, he had been associated with the New York Times, the Butterick Publishing Company, and was at one time assistant advertising and circulation manager of Everybody's Magazine.

1903

Mrs. Howard G. Watson of Perryville, Md., was recently elected president of the Retired Teachers of Maryland. She had served for several years as president of the Cecil County group. Mrs. Watson is the former Helen Fooks Wright.

Plans for the 50th reunion dinner were completed by the committee at a luncheon meeting held Saturday, April 18, at the Molly Pitcher Hotel.

Members of the committee were luncheon guests of the chairman, Dr. Daniel P. Ray, of Johnstown, Pa., who presided at the business session. It was decided to hold the dinner at the new First Presbyterian Fellowship hall Saturday, June 6, at 7 P.M. A program for this golden anniversary banquet was outlined, which, with other reunion events, will be included in a class letter to be sent to all 1903 graduates and non-graduates by the president, Lloyd W. Johnson, Caldwell, N. J.

In addition to Dr. and Mr. Johnson, who is a college trustee, the meeting was attended by Rev. T. Edwin Redding of Carlisle; Mrs. Howard G. Watson of Perryville, Md.; William G. Gordong of Coatesville and Beverly W. Brown of Red Bank, N. J., class secretary.

William H. Cheesman was presented with a certificate of membership in the Golden Legion of Phi Delta Theta at the annual dinner of the Washington Alumni Club of the fraternity, on March 14. Mr. Cheesman has just presented his complete set of the DICKINSON ALUMNUS (1923-53) to the Library of Congress, which advised him that it would be glad to have this former gap in its files thus filled.

1906

Mrs. Grace Resh Tracey, wife of Dr. J. I. Tracey, died at their home in New Haven, Conn., on March 5 at the age of 64 years. With her husband, she regularly attended reunions of the class and was a charter member of the Mary Dickinson Club. She was a native of Baltimore. In addition to her husband, she is survived by a son, Dr. J. I. Tracey, Jr., with the U. S. Geological Survey in Guam; a daughter Mrs. Richard H. Mann, wife of Dr. Mann, a Fellow in Medicine at the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., and six sisters.

1908

The 45th reunion of the class will be held at Commencement. Members are to meet at the Alumni Luncheon on Saturday, June 6.

Hugh B. Woodward and his wife, the former Helen Kisner, are coming from Albuquerque, N. M. for the reunion.

Dr. J. Merrill Williams has been a hospital patient for some weeks but hopes to be on hand for Commencement.

Dr. and Mrs. George H. Ketterer were both laid low by the flu bug when on a motor trip South and stayed several weeks in Atlanta to recover. They plan to be in Carlisle for Commencement.

S. Harp Houston is secretary to the Selective Service boards in Carlisle.

Dr. John Shilling completed a two-year term last month as president of the Dickinson Club of Delaware. He and Mrs. Shilling, the former Laura Dix, plan to be on the campus for Commencement.

1911

H. Munson Corning, superintendent of schools of Washington, D. C., will be awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Science at the 180th Commencement Exercises on Sunday afternoon, June 7 in the Alumni Gymnasium.

1913

While no notices have gone out as this magazine goes to press, there will be a 40th Class Reunion at Commencement with the first gathering under the class standard at the Alumni Luncheon on Saturday, June 6.

B. O. McAnney will be awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Literature at the Commencement Exercises on Sunday afternoon, June 7. He has had a distinguished career in the newspaper world.

Harold A. Fasick, '15, and his wife the former Hazel Kisner, made their hotel reservations for Commencement several months ago.

Frank C. Bunting is associated with the International Press Service of the United States Department of State. While his headquarters are at 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue, N. W., Washington 25, D. C., he spends a great deal of his time visiting colleges, universities throughout this country.

1916

F. Leslie Hart, who is with the Federal Food and Drug Administration, has moved from California to Boston, Mass., where his offices are at 408 Atlantic Avenue.

1917

Homer Respass is vice president of the Federal Land Bank with offices in Baltimore, Md.

The Class of 1917 now stands third in the roster of Life Members of the General Alumni Association.

1918

Dr. Mary Caroline McNeal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hector McNeal of Baltimore, Md., was married to Dr. Francis A. Wood, son of Dr. and Mrs. Earl LeRoy Wood of Newark, N. J., in the Methodist Church, Newark, Del. on March 14. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert S. Hodgson, '16, an uncle of the bride. He was assisted by Rev. Dr. John H. Bunting, '08. She is alumna of the University of Delaware and the University of Pennsylvania Medical School and is a resident in Anesthesiology at the University of Pennsylvania Hospital. Her husband is a graduate of Yale University and the Cornell University College of Medicine. He is a resident in neurology at the University of Pennsylvania Graduate Hospital.

Nell H. Marvil has moved to 2135 Spruce Street, Philadelphia.

Dr. Lester A. Welliver was elected treasurer of the National Association of Schools and Colleges of the Methodist Church at its annual meeting in Los Angeles. He is the president of Westminster Theological Seminary.

Roy S. Claycomb of the Carteret School, West Orange, N. J., is preparing for the 42nd season of Camp Aldercliff at Wymouth, Nova Scotia. The boys camp has two branches, one on salt water and the other on a beautiful lake.

Clark D. Real has been employed since 1947 as mechanical engineer by a contractor for the AEC at Sandia Base, Albuquerque, N. M.

While no reunion notices have been mailed as this number goes to press, the 35th Class Reunion will be held at Commencement. Members of the class are to meet under the class standard at the Alumni Luncheon on Saturday, June 6.

1919

Edgar S. Thompson is vice president of W. Miller Cook Association, Inc., Cleveland, and in charge of the Indianapolis office. The head of the firm is W. Miller Cook, better known to his classmates as "Cookie".

1920

Mrs. William Brubaker, the former Anna M. Pearson, has a new address in Burbank, Calif. It is 719 E. Santa Anita.

1924

J. Norman Klein is secretary-manager of the Standard Credit Corporation, 46 North Sixth Street, Reading, Pa.

Paul J. Smith, '26L, prominent Harrisburg attorney, was re-elected to the Board of Trustees of the Market Street Trust Company of Harrisburg. In addition to being treasurer of the Paxtang School District, he is solicitor for Lower Paxtang Township School District. He was also elected to the offices of Trustee and Elder of Westminster Presbyterian Church of Harrisburg. His eldest son, Robert F., is a freshman in the college.

Jacob E. Wagner, father of Stuart G. Wagner, Camp Hill, Pa., died on March 18 at the age of 81 years.

Col. Walter D. McCanahan has moved from Arlington, Va., to the New York area and is now living at Apartment 4-G, 620 Poly Place, Brooklyn 9, N. Y.

Paul M. Schuchart was recently appointed director of the Public Utilities Department of the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission.

In February, the Rev. William A. MacLachlan, who had been serving as pastor of Mt. Airy Methodist Church, was assigned to Trinity Methodist Church, Chester, Pa. His wife is the former Della Fitzgerald, '25. Their new address is 733 West 9th Street, Chester, Pa.

1928

Helen I. McDonnell, member of the faculty of Edinboro State Teachers College, was married to Dr. George W. Neel on April 2 in Michigan City, Ind. Dr. Neel is a member of the faculty of Muskingum College, New Concord, Ohio. After June 1, they will reside in Pittsburgh.

He taught mathematics at the Northeast High School in Philadelphia for 37 years. He retired in 1946, but continued to teach on a part-time basis at Temple University High School until the end of last year.

Born on January 3, 1880 in Hagerstown, Md., he prepared for college at National Normal University in Lebanon, Ohio. He graduated from the college in 1902, received his A.M. degree in 1903 and a Ph.D. degree from the University of Pennsylvania in 1918.

Before teaching at the Northeast Boy's High School, he was principal of Fairmount Academy in Upper Fairmount, Md., and then vice-principal of the Torrington, Conn., high school from 1904 through 1907. That year he became professor of mathematics at Pennsylvania Military College in Chester, and joined the Northeast Boy's High School faculty in 1909.

He was a member of the Baptist Church and a member and past master of Lodge No. 728, F. & A. M. of Philadelphia.

Surviving are his wife, the former Bertha Cline; a daughter, Mrs. Earl W. Cook of Fox Chase; a son, Dr. David M. Shoemaker of Quaker Town; three sisters and a brother.

Interment was made in the cemetery at Waynesboro, Pa.

1906—Dr. Pierce Butler, noted Chicago educator, died on March 28 in a Burlington, N. C., hospital of injuries suffered in an automobile accident there two days earlier. He was in the South as a visiting professor in the University of North Carolina School of Library Science. His age was 66.

A native of Clarendon Hills, Ill., he was Professor Emeritus in the Graduate Library School of the University of Chicago. Before joining the University of Chicago, he was a member of the staff of the Newberry Library of Chicago, which specializes in the fields of literature and the humanities.

He was an authority on the history of books and libraries, having been in charge of the Wing Foundation in typographical history in the Newberry Library. He was the author of "Checklist of Fifteenth Century Books," and "The Origin of Printing in Europe," celebrating the 500th anniversary of printing.

Dr. Butler devoted much of his career to the service of the nation's librarians. As early as 1933 he had urged the profession to adopt "scientific methods" in organizing and presenting data collected by the social sciences.

In World War II he wrote "Books and Libraries in Wartime," advising on reference services needed to train civilians who held jobs vital to the war effort.

Dr. Butler was a member of the editorial board of The Library Quarterly and belonged to the American Library Institute and the Gutenberg Gesellschaft of Germany.

He prepared for college at Pittsfield High School, and received his A.B. in 1906. He was an ordained Protestant Episcopal minister following his graduation with a B.D. degree in 1910 from the Hartford Theological Seminary, Hartford, Conn. He had been assistant rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Chicago since 1938. In October 1944 Dickinson College conferred the honorary degree of Doctor of Literature upon him.

A member of Alpha Chi Rho and a Mason, he also held memberships in the University Club, Caxton, Cliff Dwellers and Quadrangle in Chicago.

A Life Member of the General Alumni Association, Dr. Butler was deeply interested in the College and was one of the founders of the Dickinson Club of Chicago.

Surviving are his widow, Ruth Lapham Butler, curator of the Ayer Collection of the Newberry Library in Chicago, and a brother, Dr. Charles C. Butler, a Chicago physician.

1911—Harry Douglass Rhodes, for many years a resident of Lakewood, N. J., died following a stroke on January 30 in Essex, Conn., where he and his wife, an English teacher of Newark, N. J., were living, while she studied at the University of Connecticut.

For years he was managing editor of the Lakewood Times and Journal and also pioneered in the use of a portable phonograph for student educational and modern language records. He did this after leaving the newspaper field and he also conducted a cooperative poultry grain supply business. From 1934 until his retirement he was manager of the Newark office of the Wellington Foundation Investment Trust.

Born on May 31, 1888, in Keyport, N. J., he was valedictorian of the Long Branch, N. J., High School. In his freshman year he left the college to enter the newspaper field. He was a member of Alpha Chi Rho fraternity, the Presbyterian Church, the Masonic fraternity and the Odd Fellows.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Anne Benson Rhodes, and a son by his first marriage to Beatrice Nelson of Lakewood, N. J., Douglass N. Rhodes of Hollywood, Calif., and a sister, Mrs. Fannie R. Montulet of Elberon, N. J.

1920L—Morton S. Dombro, for 25 years head of the Penn Reading Supply Company of Reading, Pa., died in the Reading Hospital on April 12. He was 54 years of age and a native of Philadelphia.

At Dickinson he became a member of Phi Epsilon Pi fraternity and he was an honorary member of Woolsacs Society. He served in the Army during World War I.

Surviving are his widow, Gleemus Daniels Dombro and four children. His daughter, Carole, is a student of the college and she is the wife of James Ecker, '52, who is now a student in the Law School.

1920—Dr. Paul W. Pritchard died on February 26 at his home in Edgewood, Md., after an illness of several months.

He was Chief of the Historical Branch, Office of the Chief Chemical Officer at the Army Chemical Center in Edgewood at the time of his death. He had been with the Chemical Corps eight years, seven of which were spent at the Army Medical Center.

Born in Morrisdale, Pa., on February 6, 1898, he was a graduate of the high school at Perkasio, Pa. He served in World War I and attained the grade of First Sergeant of Infantry. He received his B.A. degree from the college in 1920 and coached the major sports at the Grand Forks, North Dakota, High School, 1921-23. After five years in business he returned to Dickinson College and was graduate manager of athletics in 1928-30. He then became teacher of history in the high school at Chester, Pa., and served there from 1930 to 1942. After three years of war work with Westinghouse in Philadelphia, he joined the Chemical Corps, Department of the Army in 1945.

He received his M.A. degree from the University of Pennsylvania in 1932 and his Ph.D. degree there in 1940. His thesis was "Life of William B. Wilson, First Secretary of Labor."

He was a member of Alpha Chi Rho fraternity, the American Historical Society, the Pennsylvania and Delaware County Historical Societies.

Surviving are his widow, Ruth, a teacher at Harford County Schools; a daughter, Ruth Ann, who graduated from the college last June, and a son, Paul, Jr., a student at Duke University. He is also survived by three brothers and three sisters. Burial was made in Perkasio, Pa.

1921L—Joseph Handler, well known attorney of Wilmington, Del., and Jewish leader, died on April 22 at his home 400 Hawthorne Drive, Brandywine Hills, after a lingering illness. He had not been in his office since last fall.

Born in Wilmington on August 12, 1899, he attended the public schools there and graduated from the Wilmington High School in 1916. He then attended the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania and graduated from the Dickinson School of Law in 1921. He was a member of the American and Delaware Bar Associations.

He was a director and past president of Temple Beth Emeth and a member of the national executive board of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations. He had been a national campaign worker in behalf of Reformed Judaism in America and a director of the Jewish Federation of Delaware.

He was also a director of the Brandywine Country Club, a Mason, a Legionnaire and an Elk. He served in the U. S. Naval Reserve during World War I.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Wilhelmina Handler; a son, Mark L. Handler, a high school student; three sisters and two brothers.

1924—Kenneth S. Kurtz, supervisor of insurance for the American Oil Company and affiliated concerns, died in Mercy Hospital, Baltimore, on April 10.

Born in Scotland, Pa., on October 10, 1900, he was a graduate of Harrisburg High School. After attending the college for three years, he transferred to George Washington University, where he graduated in 1924. He was a member of the Catholic Church and of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Associated with the American Oil Company for about 23 years, he moved to Baltimore 20 years ago, making his home at 1505 Bolton St. No near relatives survive him. Burial was made in Norland Cemetery, Chambersburg, Pa.

1925, 1926L—Charles A. Greer was found dead in his home in Johnstown, Pa., on March 27. Death was from natural causes, according to the county coroner who said he had probably been dead about 48 hours.

His widow, the former Violet Walker, of Ferndale, was in Florida visiting her sister when news of her husband's death reached her. He had been under the care of a physician for some time for a heart ailment and liver condition. A neighbor became alarmed when she had not seen him for several days and called his secretary when the two went to the apartment and found him dead in his bedroom.

Born in Johnstown, Pa., on January 23, 1903, he was the son of the late former judge Charles C. Greer, '92, and Mrs. Georgia Bratton Greer, also deceased. He was educated in the Johnstown schools and attended Gettysburg Academy, Dickinson College and Haverford College. He received his law degree from the Dickinson Law School in 1926. At Dickinson he became a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

He began the practice of law with his father in 1927 under the firm name of Greer and Greer. Later he was partner of the firm of Greer & Hahn, and more recently practiced alone. He served a year as deputy attorney general of Pennsylvania. His brother, Robert B. Greer, is a practicing attorney in Philadelphia.

1926—Dr. Joseph A. Parrish, one of the leading physicians of Bellefonte, Pa., died suddenly on January 14 of a heart attack at the Center County Hospital where he had been making the rounds of his patients. He collapsed in the hospital lobby and died almost instantly.

Born in Bellefonte, Pa., on March 14, 1904, he attended the Parochial Schools and the Bellefonte High School. He attended the college for two years and entered Jefferson Medical College from which he received the M.D. degree in 1929. Following his internship at the Philadelphia General Hospital, he practiced in Collingdale until 1934 when he moved to Bellefonte.

Dr. Parrish was a devout member of St. John's Catholic Church and served as chairman of a building fund committee, which has recently erected a parochial school and which is building a new auditorium.

He was past president of the Center County Medical Society and a director of the Pennsylvania State Medical Society. He was president of the Center County Tuberculosis and Health Society. He was also a director of the Bellefonte Trust Company and a director of the Nittany Country Club.

His father, the late Dr. C. M. Parrish, was a well known druggist and founded the drug store which still bears his name.

On April 28, 1938, he married Eleanor Catherine Lamb of Pittsburgh. She survives and also two children, Mary Cay, born June 11, 1945 and Thomas Lamb, born February 6, 1947. Another son, Joseph A. Parrish, Jr., who was born February, 1939, is deceased.

1927—The death of Harold G. Oerther was reported by New York City police on March 25, following the discovery of his body in the apartment which he maintained at 43 Fifth Avenue. The police stated that he had been murdered during a robbery.

Within a few hours after the discovery the police announced they were holding a 26-year old Greenwich Village handiman, whom they said had confessed to the slaying, which occurred on Sunday night, March 22. The handiman was wearing one of his victim's suits when he was arrested, and the police have since reported finding most of the loot in the man's room.

"Hecky," who was 48, was an executive of a New York Employment Agency, and during World II had served as a Lieutenant Commander in the Navy. His wife, the former Mary E. Read, '26, and two of his step-children had lived with him at the apartment until two years ago, when the family moved to Morristown, N. J. He retained his apartment for use during the week and went to Morristown on week-ends. Mrs. Oerther is a school teacher in Morristown.

He was born in Minersville, Pa., on March 14, 1906, and graduated from the high school there. He was a Lutheran and a member of Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity. For a time after his graduation he taught in the schools of Pleasantville, N. J.

1949—Eugene R. "Gene" Beck, captain and diving star of the 1949 swimming team at Dickinson, died last February 25 at his home, 4 North Virginia Avenue, Atlantic City, N. J., after a courageous fight of almost four years against crippling back injuries.

Gene, a member of the Beach Patrol at Atlantic City, suffered a broken back and other spinal injuries August 23, 1949, less than three months after graduating from College, when he fell on a jetty while warning a group of children from the structure during a storm. He succeeded in getting the children to safety but he himself lost his footing and fell 10 feet upon rocks.

For many months the former World War II paratrooper was a patient in the U. S. Naval Hospital, Philadelphia, and in other hospitals, but the after-effects of the injuries could not be stemmed. He suffered patiently, clung courageously to life and never lost the cheerfulness that was so characteristic of him in his days at College.

A fine tribute was paid him by the nurse who attended him in his home during the last 18 months of his life. In a letter to the College after his death, Adelaide

L. Merton, RN, wrote, "I have been in the nursing profession for 20 years but never had I seen a patient like Gene, or one who suffered as he did, yet never losing his faith or courage . . . He died a true champion."

Gene had been cheered during his long fight for life by expressions of friendship and admiration on the part of campus groups and former teammates at Dickinson. Soon after the accident the Beta House gave him a television set and installed it in his hospital room, and a classmate, Nate Greenway, who was on the swimming team with Gene, established the "Gene Beck Trophy" which is engraved each year with the name of the Dickinson swimmer making the greatest contribution to the varsity. Gene was an expert diver and had been defeated only twice in dual meets during his College career.

Born August 25, 1923, in Philadelphia, he spent most of his life in Atlantic City, where he lived with an aunt, Mrs. Fay Beck. He served in the last war with the 460th Parachute Field Artillery, 17th Airborne Division, from 1942 to 1945 and made a number of combat jumps. He won the Bronze Star for courage.

He was a member of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity. A group from the Beta House attended his funeral. He was buried in Atlantic City with military honors.
