MISCELLANEOUS INFORMATION.

Collegiate Department.

Candidates for admission into the Freshmen Class, must be well acquainted with Arithmetic; Geography; Simple Equations in Algebra; Outlines of Ancient and Modern History; the English, Latin and Greek Grammars; (McClintock and Crook's First Books in Latin and Greek); Cæsar's Commentaries, (two books); Virgil's Æneid, (four books); Xenophon's Anabasis, (two books); Roman Antiquities and Mythology; Greek Reader.

Candidates for any other class will be examined on the studies previously pursued by such class. Candidates for a partial course will be examined only as to their qualifications to pursue such course.

It is particularly recommended, however, that all, whose circumstances will justify it, should prosecute the full course of study. This course long experience has proved to be best suited to accomplish the great end of education—the development and discipline of the mind.

The completeness of a student's preparation for admission will materially affect the whole of his subsequent course, as many of the elementary studies cannot receive that attention in college, which their importance demands. It is earnestly desired, therefore, that candidates adhere rigidly to the course of preparatory studies prescribed, and that they rather endeavor to perfect themselves in these, than anticipate studies which can be pursued to much greater advantage in college. It is, in general, poor economy to attempt to prepare for admission into one of the higher classes; as it is reasonable to suppose that, with the facilities afforded at college, students will be advanced there more rapidly and thoroughly than they could be by teachers less favorably situated. The Grammar School of the Institution presents peculiar advantages to those who wish to be thoroughly prepared for admission.

No one will be admitted to the Freshmen Class, until he has completed his fourteenth year, nor to a higher class without a corresponding age. And it is very desirable that the candidates should be still older, that thus they may be fitted, by greater maturity of mind and stability of character, the better to appreciate the studies of their course, and to exercise that self-control which is necessary for every college student.

Candidates for admission must produce testimonials of good moral character; if from another college, a certificate of honorable dismissal. They may present themselves for examination at any time; but at the commencement of a session, or during the week after Christmas, is preferred.

The studies of all the departments are pursued by means of recitations, accompanied with lectures on such subjects as admit of them.

The instruction in PHILOSOPHY AND ENGLISH LITERATURE is given partly by recitations in History, Rhetoric, Logic, Political Economy, Metaphysics, and Constitutional Law; and partly by lectures on the English Language and Literature, the Philosophy of History and Polity and the History of Philosophy. Practical exercises in writing and speaking also receive special attention in this department.

The course in the NATURAL SCIENCES includes recitations from text books, and lectures accompanied by illustrations and experiments. The facilities of this department for full and efficient instruction are unusually ample. The apparatus is extensive and valuable, and is annually increasing. The Cabinet of Natural History is abundantly supplied with specimens illustrative of the various productions of the globe.

In the MATHEMATICAL department there are daily recitations. In the senior year lectures are given on the theories and applications of the higher branches.

In the CLASSICAL DEPARTMENT, it frequently happens, that either different authors, or different portions of the same author, are read by successive classes; but these alterations do not affect the amount of Greek and Latin required of those who apply for admission to the higher classes. The books of reference employed throughout the course are Anthon's Classical Dictionary, Zumpt's Latin Grammar, Kuehner's or Buttmann's Greek Grammar, Ramshorn's Latin Synonymes, Eschenberg's Manual of Classical Literature, Andrew's Latin Lexicon, and Liddell and Scott's Greek Lexicon.

In the department of MODERN LANGUAGES, it is the aim of the Professor, so far as practicable, to carry on conversation with the class in the language which they are studying. The books of reference recommended are Surenne's French Pronouncing Dictionary, Abrege du Dictionnaire de l'Academie Francaise, Heyse's German Grammar, Adler's German Dictionary.

Where the subjects are susceptible of it, the students are required to make an analysis (generally in writing) of the works which they study, and to give at their daily recitations, as well as at the public examinations, a connected view of the subject, in their own language and without the aid of the instructor, except on points not fully treated by the author; thus cultivating at once the powers of memory, thought and speech.

Public examinations of all the classes are held at the close of each session, when those students who have not made satisfactory proficiency are either required to make up their deficiencies by extra study, or prevented from advancing with their class. The seniors are examined four weeks before Commencement, on the entire College course.

TERMS AND VACATIONS.

The college year is divided into two sessions, the first beginning on the second Thursday of September, and ending on the Wednesday preceding Christmas; the second beginning four weeks from the termination of the first, and ending at Commencement on the second Thursday in July. Vacations from Commencement to the second Thursday of September. From the Thursday before Christmas, four weeks.

ANNUAL EXPENSES.

The College bills are paid to the Treasurer in advance each session, and are as follows:—

RESIDENCE, BOARD, &c.

Students not resident in town are required to lodge in the College. All necessary furniture can be purchased here at less price than abroad. When the Student leaves, it is taken back at what it is worth.

The Steward of the College resides in one of the buildings, and keeps a table at his own expense, but subject to such regulations as the Faculty prescribe. The price of board is $2,25 per week, to be paid monthly in advance. (Should the present high prices of provisions decline, the rate of board will be reduced.)

The price of board in town varies from $2,25 to $2,50. If Students prefer to board themselves, the expense may be greatly reduced. Oak wood can be had for $2,50 per cord, and hickory for $3,50. Coal delivered at the College is about $4,75 per ton. Washing is $1,50 per month, or 37½ cents per dozen.

SUMMARY OF ANNUAL EXPENSES.

As the tuition is now paid for the most part by Scholarships, the following is a near estimate of the necessary annual expenses.

College fees, from	- -	$6,50	to	$ 12,50
Room rent, "	- -	8,00	"	10,00

The Juniors and Seniors pay $4,00 a year extra for modern Languages. The regular text-books are furnished at the College at a cost below the city retail prices.

MANAGEMENT OF FUNDS.

As economy is essential to the moral and literary character, both of the Institution and its members, the greatest care will be taken to restrict the expenditures of students. The method adopted for this purpose is presented in the following paragraph, to which the attention of parents and guardians is invited:

All students, (except those who reside in town, and at the discretion of the Faculty, those who are of age,) are required to have a Patron, to take charge of their funds and disburse the same. The Statutes of the College require him to be selected from among the Faculty, and allow him to charge for his services a commission of three per cent. on all disbursements. As the success of this system depends mainly on the co-operation of the parents and guardians, they are earnestly requested to signify to the Patron, at the beginning of each session whether their sons or wards are to be allowed to incur any other than the necessary expenses stated above, and if so, for what articles and to what amount:—that they will inspect minutely the monthly account of disbursements sent to them, and communicate promptly to the Patron, any objection they may have against them; and especially that they will forward all funds directly to the Patron, as a student who receives money from any other source, than from his Patron, or who fails in case he does so receive, immediately to deliver it to his Patron, is regarded as guilty of a high offence. Remittances should be made either in cash, or by draft or check upon Baltimore, Philadelphia or New York, payable to the Patron's order.

It must not be expected that even the faithful observance of this system will, in every instance, secure all the economy which might be desired, but it will doubtless be more successful than the ordinary method of allowing the students the uncontrolled use of money.

LIBRARIES.

The College Library contains	6,000 volumes,
The Belles-Lettres " "	6,583 " "
The Union Philosophical	7,400 " "
	19,983

These are accessible to all the students.

RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION.

Prayers, with reading of the Scriptures, are attended in the Chapel on the morning and evening of every day, except Saturday and Sunday, when the evening service is omitted. The students are also required to attend public worship twice on the Sabbath—in the morning, at such church, always, as their parents or guardians may designate in writing.

Preparatory Department.

This is designed to prepare students for College, and the studies are arranged with general, though not exclusive reference to that end. The course of study extends through two years, each embracing two terms, as follows:—

PARTIAL COURSE.

Those who do not wish to pursue the full course, can pursue an English and Scientific course, embracing for the first year, the studies of the Preparatory Department, except the languages; the second, those of the Freshmen and Sophomore years, with the same exception. The third, those of the Junior and Senior years except the languages and mathematics.

Those who are prepared, can enter on any of these years, and at the close of their course, if they pass a satisfactory examination on the whole, they may receive a certificate of proficiency, under the seal of the College. Students pursuing this course, can also attend any other recitations of the College when the hours do not conflict with their appropriate studies.

GENERAL REMARKS.

The government of the Institution is strictly parental. It is designed to secure attention to study and correctness of deportment, not so much by the enforcement of rigid rules, as by cultivating in the student a taste for intellectual pursuits and virtuous habits. But while youthful indiscretion will be treated with lenity, it is resolved that incurable indolence, bad morals and pecuniary extravagance shall not be suffered to remain to exert their corrupting influence within our walls.

A faithful record is kept of the standing and deportment of each student, and a report sent monthly to his parent or guardian.
