WHO KNOCKED OUT THE HONOR SYSTEM?

THE Seniors!

No, but who did knock out the honor system?

The Juniors!

No, I mean who knocked out the honor system?

The Sophomores!

That's not what I mean. Who knocked out the honorsystem?

The Freshmen!

This is not what I mean. Who Knocked Out the Honor System?

THE HONORABLE STUDENTS OF DICKINSON COLLEGE, UNANIMOUSLY.

Some few weeks ago the faculty proposed to the student body the Honor System of Examinations. After having carefully examined the systems in operation the students found that the honor system was at least twenty-five years behind time and in addition that it did not subserve the desired end. Desiring to better the condition of the college and be abreast with the modern large universities they proposed to the faculty the Exemption System. As we would suppose, the faculty were greatly grieved and decided as reported by the President to be more strict in the present system. The examinations of the present week have been beyond reason and if it were not for some few friends of the students in the faculty, passing would almost be out of the question. Quotations from the faculty:—

QUOTATIONS FROM THE FACULTY.

Czar Reed in chapel, says, "Since the Honor System has been knocked out, we, the faculty, in session assembled, have decided to be more stringent in conducting the examinations."

Dr. Harman:—"After awhile the faculty will want to search the students' pockets."

Dr. Himes:—"Gentlemen: I am glad you have voted down this Honor System."

Dr. Whiting:—"I am in favor of the Exemption System."

Dr. Super:—"I lay little stress on examinations."

Dr. Morgan:—"I am sorry I must separate you but you voted down the honor system."

Dr. Lindsay:—"Mr. S——. What do you have in your pocket?"

Prof. McIntire:—"I am in favor of whatever Dr. Reed is."

Prof. Dare:—"I challenge any man to show me one reason why we should not have examinations." ("When an examination has any other than an educative value, which reduces it to regular class work, it is the subtlest irony to speak of patting students on their honor."—Prominent educator.)

Prof. Stephens:—"I intend to show the Sophomores that they don't know anything about my subject, and then—leave on the next train."

Prof. Sellers:—"I am heartily in favor of the Exemption System."

Prof. Whiting Jr.:—"Honor System or Exemption System, I must be respected."

We have no report from Prof. Landis, but he gives square examinations.

The "Honor System" Proposed.

A proposition has been laid before the students of Dickinson College to inaugurate what is known as the "honor system" of examinations, such as is used in other leading colleges of the country with good results. No definite plan has as yet been proposed, but the question is before the student body, and if a sentiment favorable to the establishment of such a system should prevail, steps will at once be taken to carry out the measure.

Rain Spoiled the Fun.

The small boys were out last night not in very large numbers, owing to an effectual rain storm and
