Carbelle May Is received your letter to day and the reading of it afforded we a great deal of pleasur as you hastily recounted the breuts gone by never more to return. The pleasure that we have had together Shall be ever rembered by me. As you greatly regret the time you have lost I shall take advere from you and try to Improve myself in my studies and also by reacting. But I must coupels that I annageting along as well in latin as I might althought I have sweeded fin greek thus far very well. Whe reason is I think is we recete latin to Juffang and he does not laplain it mor dos he me While I recited latin to Thof brooks I got along very well and understood I also, I get along well now but doe not undertand It so well. We recete Greek to Growks and he explain it and make us studdy hard since we have commend (Kevigor) Figuogiev. He makes us translate and weight out all the farring. I sead also some little livery now of then when I have time. We are all well at present, and shall be glad to see you to here Except Belly who has had the toothace for some days very bad but had he had it dawed Gesterda, and slept very well last night. Mother is about the sam as she always is still a Recking. We have had a very back spring as ove their was a show about I wehe deep just when the peach trees were in full bloom and I am affraid the shall have very four. I am glad to state that the oppels a plums here not been hurt this far I am now going to tell you something I wish to keep seeset unless you have heard it. Major Irvine that lives at Mers Gewis's Committed suicide by cutting his throat about I weeks agot he was found dead in his soon. I do not want you to say nothing about it as they do not want it to be known, Carlisle fis the same vale dull place nothing young on at all, We shall be very glad to see The betor you come I want you to wight and let an well be hear.

I received your letter today and the reading of it afforded me a great deal of pleasure as you hastily recounted the events gone by never more to return. The pleasure that we have had together shall be ever remembered by me. As you greatly regret the time you have lost I shall take advice from you and try to improve myself in my studies and also by reading. But I must confess that I am not getting along as well in latin as I might although I have succeeded in greek thus far very well. The reason is I think is we recite latin to Tiffany and he does not explain it nor does he While I recited latin to Prof Crooks I got along very well and understood it also. I get along well now but do not understand it so well. We recite Greek to Crooks and he explains it and make us study hard since we have commenced. (γενιρον) ΞΣενορων. He makes us translate and wright out all the parsing. I read also some a little every now and then when I have time. We are all well at present (and shall be glad to see you.) When except Billy who has had the toothace [toothache] for some days very bad but had he had it [illegible] yesterday and slept very well last night. Mother is about the same as she always is still a kicking. We have had a very bad spring as we their was a snow about 2 inches deep just when the peach trees were in full bloom and I am afraid I shall have very few. I am glad to state that the apples and plums have not been hurt thus far. I am now going to tell you something I wish you to keep secret unless you have heard it. Major Irvine that lives at Miss Lewis's committed suicide by cutting his throat about 2 weeks ago he was found dead in his room. I do not want you to say nothing about it as they do not want it to be known. Carlisle is the same old dull place nothing going on at all. We shall be very glad to see you and before you come I want you to wright and let [illegible] know [illegible] you will be hear.
