What About Black Womyn?

March 25, 1996

8 P.M. in The Depot.

AAS and the Women's Center are proud to host this dark comedy that presents the personal memoirs of three women who are living with AIDS. Deborah, a single mother, tells a gut-wrenching story of how low self-esteem can lead to destructive behavior and, in turn, AIDS. Ruth, a 22 year-old crack addict, tells how she has drawn to the stereotypical black life-style and sought to baptize herself in drugs and sordid existence. Naomi, a 50 year old widow, talks about her marriage to a gay man, and the lies she had to tell to create the facade of happiness. Funding provided by Student Senate.

March Discussion Group Topics*

March 5, 1996 Women & Advertisements. Sarah Posey will lead this provocative discussion. She has requested that all participants bring with them both positive and negative advertisements about women. We hope to make a collage with these ad's.

March 12, 1996 Women and Literature. Just in time for spring break! Bring a copy of your favorite book about women or by a women author to share with the group. Hopefully we will all come away with a book to read over break for sheer pleasure. Carrie Hale will be our hostess for this group.

March 19, 1996 Spring Break. Have a safe and relaxing one!

March 26, 1996 Shattering the Glass Ceiling Liz Martin will share her research that she has been doing around this issue and facilitate a discussion with the group about how to go about shattering the glass ceiling.....

*All discussion groups are held on Tuesday evenings and begin at 8 p.m. at the Women's Center. All members of the campus community are welcome.
