Wheatland, near Lancaster.
11 June 1863.

My dear Sir,

In answer to your favor of the 25 ultimo, - I would refer to my remarks in the Senate on the 27 August 1842 - Congressional Globe

p. 950. on the Tariff Bill of 1842.

These were never published in Pamphlet form: & therefore, I regret that I cannot send you a copy. The passage of this Bill depended upon the votes of Senator Wright of New York & myself. We both voted on the affirmative, without approving the measure, considering that under the peculiar circumstances of the Country at that period, it would be a less evil to adopt it than suffer the laws to remain as they were. In fact with both it was a choice of evils & each of us stated briefly our reasons for our votes immediately before the Bill passed the Senate.

The opinions I then expressed on the subject of a Tariff, with very little variation, I have continued to hold until the present time.

It affords me pleasure to be able to send you a copy of my Inaugural Address.

Yours very respectfully
