"It was the best of times, It was the worst of times, It was the age of wisdom, it was the age of foolishness, it was the epoch of belief, it was the epoch of incredulity, it was the season of Light, it was the season of Darkness, it was the spring of hope, it was the winter of despair..."

Natalie was named the bestdressed girl on Dickinson campus in a Wheel and Chain sponsored contest Wednesday, Feb. 27 in the Sharp Lounge of Drayer Hall. Sophomore Pam Searles was runner-up.

Judge Event

Judging the event were Mr. Robert Einstein from the Fashion House, Mrs. John L. King from the Boutique and Mrs. Howard Rubendall.

Three Different Outfits

Each contestant appeared before the judges in three outfits: a campus outfit, an off-campus daytime outfit and a party dress. In addition, the judges spoke with each of the girls in regard to her wardrobe planning and budgeting.

Three Outfits

Photographers of Natalie in her three outfits will be sent to Glamour, where a group of semi finalists and eventually the "top ten" will be chosen. The winners will fly to New York in June via American Airlines as guests of the magazine.

Each of Dickinson's four sororities nominated two of its members and one independent woman to compete in the contest. Because of illness, only 8 Freshman Natalie Zilinsky has of the 112 original nominees par-

Asian Girl Finds Differences

By Carol Nuetzman

"I like the American date," says Hsiao Mei Tsou, the only girl foreign student at Dickinson this semester. A native of Singapore, Hsiao Mei explains that in Singapore and in Formosa, where she lived for nine years, girls never talk to boys.

Chapel Sleepers
Hsiao Mei ffinds Dickinson students friendly and ready to help her with any problems. She has little interest, however, in meetings and parties, and would rather spend her time studying. Curious about the reason for the college chapel requirement, she observed that "so many students just go to sleep there."

A resident of Metzger, Hsiao Mei finds the dorm "too noisy" and studies in the library. For this reason she wishes that both she and the library had later hours, so that she could get more done there.

ORIENTATION

DICKINSON COLLEGE
FOUNDED 1773
CARLISLE, PENNSYLVANIA

Orientation Schedule

Dickinson Opens Sept. 19; Record Enrollment Seen

Dickinson College's 190th academic year commencing Sept. 19 will be attended by the largest student enrollment in the history of the institution.

dent enrollment in the history of the institution.

Dr. Benjamin D. James, dean of admissions, announced that the freshman class will number 359 students, a record for the college, and that the enrollment for all four classes will be slightly over 1,100, also a new high. The last academic year started with 1,067 fulltime students.

Acquire Room

The higher enrollment posed the threat of a rooming shortage, which the college has met by acquiring the properties at 127 North College Street and 404 West Louther Street for student housing and by turning the college-owned residence at the rear of 50 North College Street, formerly occupied by the Gen. John Berry family, into a dormitory.

It was pointed out that the recent decision to set aside the former Jackson property at 42 North College Street into a residence for senior men engaged in independent honors work will further ease the housing problem. The large house, which has been vacant since it was acquired by the college two years ago, will accommodate 10 men.

The freshman class, selected from nearly 2,500 applicants for admission, will consist of 236 men and 123 women. There will be 11 new foreign students and some of them will be registered as freshmen, Dr. James said.

Freshmen have been instructed to report Saturday, Sept. 15, for a four-day orientation period. The opening convocation of all students and faculty will be held the following Wednesday and classes will start the next day.

The summer term is still in progress at the college. It also has been marked by record enrollment, It will close Aug. 31.

OFFICE OF THE DEAN OF WOMEN

August 1, 1962

Dear Freshman:

I have attached material which you will need for Orientation Week in September. Please read this material carefully and if you have any questions please write to me so that we can get any problems worked out before you arrive in September.

Orientation is a period of time in which we of the College Community will try to acquaint you with your new life and help you to feel a part of Dickinson College. Many people will be involved in this process and you will be assigned to various groups which I will define for you.

- (1) Orientation Discussion Group. Each freshman has been assigned to one of 21 groups which will meet five times during Orientation. Your group number is /O. An enclosed sheet gives the names of the Faculty Resource Person and the Student Leaders for each group and the meeting place for that group. Consult this list to find out where and with whom you will meet. In the groups you will discuss books which you all will have read and important aspects of Student Life. You will meet with this group for Library Tours and I.D. Photographs.
- (2) Advisee group. Each student is assigned to a faculty adviser who helps you plan your academic program. You will be given the name of your adviser when you arrive in September. Sunday night you will attend an informal "at home" with your faculty adviser and his or her other advisees. Later, on Monday evening your advisee group will meet with another group to plan a skit.
- (3) Counselor group. Each student is also assigned a student Counselor. This is an upperclassman who lives in the freshman dormitory and is available during the freshman year to help you in any way possible. You will be sent the name of your Counselor when you receive your room assignment.

There are, of course, many other people who will be working with you throughout your college experience. We are all looking forward to getting to know you.

Until September, have a good summer.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Barbara S. Wishmeyer, Dean of Women

Chairman of The Orientation Committee

360 Freshmen At Dickinson

Orientation Period To Begin Tomorrow

Dickinson College tomorrow will welcome a new freshman class, the largest in its long history.

From half the states of the Union and from foreign countries will come nearly 360 first-year students, ready to make the leap from secondary school to higher education.

For four days they will go through a process designed to acquaint them with each other and with their new environment and to foster at the outset of their college course a spirit and attitude conducive to serious pursuit of academic excellence.

Dr. Howard L. Rubendall, president of the college, in a letter of welcome sent to freshmen last month, promised that they would find the Dickinson community a friendly one ready to give its best to them and expecting their best in return.

"The rich tradition and stimulating atmosphere of the college, he wrote, "are readily available to the newcomer who is quick to avail himself of them. I urge you to seek without hesitancy the best there is here." there is here.

The freshmen and their parents will have the opportunity to meet Dr. and Mrs. Rubendall at an informal reception tomorrow at 4:30 p.m. at the president's house.

Evening Sentinel 9/14/62

Assembly On Sunday
First freshman assembly is scheduled for Sunday at 6:45 p.m. in Bosler Hall where president Rubendall and Dean Roger E. Nelson will speak and other college officials will be introduced.
Albert Miller, West Chester, president of the Student Senate, will describe student government at Dickinson.

Following the assembly freshmen will gather in groups to be entertained at the homes of their faculty advisers. Dickinson's faculty advisers. Dickinson's counseling program provides a faculty adviser and a student counselor for every freshman.

The newcomers will be expected to attend a church of their faith on Sunday morning. They have been provided with the names, addresses and schedules of Carlisle churches by the new Dickin-son chaplain, Prof. Samuel H.

A considerable part of the four-day orientation period will be de-voted to group discussions of the five great books all freshmen were instructed to read over the Summer. These books were the Bi-ble's Book of Job; "The Crucible," by Arthur Miller; "The Greek Way," by Edith Hamilton; "The Big Chance," by F. L. Lewis, and "The Immense Journey," by

Loren Eisley. New students will take reading ability and personality tests, tour and learn to use the 120,000-volume Dickinson Library and meet the officers of student organizations, who will speak on the various campus activities. The R.O.T.C. program will be explained and freshmen who qualify will have the chance to enroll if they wish

Registration Tomorrow

On their arrival on the campus tomorrow new students will go to the office of the dean of admissions for instructions and then proceed in order to the office of their faculty adviser, the dean of men or women, the business of men or women, the business office and the registrar's office to complete their registration.

During this process, parents of the freshmen will have the chance to meet one another in Memorial Hall where coffee will be served by members of the Mary Dickin-son Club who will be hostesses.

The orientation program, which was set up by a student-faculty committee headed by Barbara Stevens Wishmeyer, dean of wom-en, will end Wednesday in time for the special convocation at 2:30 p.m. for the formal opening of the new term. Classes will begin Thursday morning.

Suspended from 3rd floor!

ATTENTION COMPADES OF THE CLASS OF '66 ...

Let us sing these songs with the spirit of '66... With--Unity, loyalty, vigor, enthusiasm...

But most of all....INTESTINAL FORTITUDE

I 'Tune . . . Army Theme Song)

Over path, over grass, We're united as a class.

As the Freshmen come marching along.

We are brave, we are bold, All the Blue Hats we have told,

That we Freshmen refuse to be hazed:

With an ODK it's off the other way,
And you Blue Hats had better turn and run.
There are more of us, and we are mighty tough
So we Freshmen are marching along.

II (Tune ... I've Been Working on the Railroad)

We've been thinking 'bout the Blue Hets
All the Gosh-dern night:
We've been laughing 'bout the Blue Hets
The nicest gels ground.
Can't vou see their smiling faces greeting us each day?
No one else is quite so friendly as the ODK.

Conser won't you blow, Pawling won't you blow,
Spicer won't you blow away...
Miller won't you blow, Craver won't you blow,
Warden won't you blow away...
Someone's in Denny with Kirshner,
Someone's in Reed like Greer,
But ALL the Frosh are in D'son, WE'RE the Best of All:

They've been hazing all the Freshmen

All the Gosh-darn week
They've been hazing all we Green-horns

And we've turned the other cheek.
Now we're leaving all you Blue Hats, and the ODK'S

HERE AND NOW WE STAND UNITED, THE CLASS OF '66

Classes hadn't even started when this picture was taken, and the Freshman men were already displaying class spirit with a serenade at Metzger.

Steam Engine Provides Heat For Coeds Here

Steam heat for Metzger Hall, which houses 83 girls attending Dickinson College, is being provided by a 1914 steam engine as an emergency measure caused when the boiler exploded at the building on North Hanover Street on Friday.

The old steam engine, similar to the rig which supplied emergency heat at the court house annex a year ago, is being operated around the clock until repairs to the Metzger Hall boiler are completed. Taking turns as engineers on the machine, owned by W. H. Hooke, are David Sheaffer, Ernest Shover, William King and Hooke.

Rush Week Draws To Close As 78 Frosh Coeds Affiliate

WESTERN FLAVOR — Pi Beta Phi Sorority presents rush skit as freshmen girls look on.

Seventy-eight Dickinson coeds have emerged from a week of rush parties and excitement as pledges of the college's four national sororities. They received their invitations Monday night, exactly one week after the first round of parties that officially opened rush week, Jan. 28

Five groups of freshmen women made the rounds of the four sororities from Monday until Wednesday. Invitational parties were held Thursday through Saturday, and preferentiasl, the final parties, took place Sunday night.

The percentage of freshman women joining sororities this year shows no marked difference from the past several years. Between 60 and 70% have pledged the national groups.

Chi Omega

Chi Omega's 21 pledges include Anne Albright, Carolyn Asher, Ella Bone, Katherine Broberg, Dabney Carr, Nan Collie, Doris Detweiler, Joann Hansen, Joanne Harris, Carol Heym, Cheryl Kachelriess, Elisabeth Lane, Mary Lewis,, Dierde McCuen, Judy McDowell, Gay Milius, Judy Myers, Betsy Parker, Susan Pierson, Judy Smith and Sally Stevenson.

We trust to the honor of our girls to follow not only the letter but the spirit of the laws.

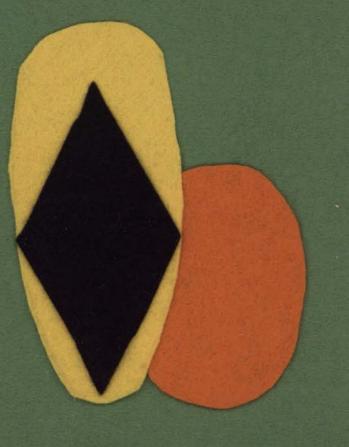

There will be free association everywhere between freshmen and upperclass women with the following exceptions.

- 1. No oral bidding. Oral bidding is defined as any show of preference between upperclassmen and freshman or rushee or unaffiliated upperclasswoman going through rush. This rule is to remain in effect the entire year.
- 2. There will be free association everywhere including in South; free association will be allowed in other eating establishments if two or more sororities are present, or if the parties involved are on a double date. Requests for exceptions to this rule may be cleared through any Panhellenic member.
- 3. Only the following groups of girls are allowed in freshmen dorms on business matters:
 - A. Wheel and Chain members
 - B. Panhellenic Council members
 - C. Proctors
 - D. W.A.A. members
 - E. President's Council members
- 4. Freshmen are allowed in upperclass dorms only in the following places:
 - A. Basements
 - B. Public lounges
 - C. Lobbies
 - D. College dining rooms: when necessary; two or more sororities must be present.
- 5. All planned fraternity activities, necessitating advertising, may be held only with the approval of Panhellenic.
 - A. The sorority name may not appear on the advertising for any social event.
 - B. The sorority name may appear on all advertising regarding money-raising projects, except in freshmen dorms.
- 6. Only one social service project may be held by each fraternity to be open to all women of the college, during the period before formal rush.
 - A. This may be advertised in freshmen dorms.
 - B. Other social service projects may be held without advertising in the freshmen dorms.
- 7. No social phone calls are allowed between freshmen and we upperclass women.
- 8. Freshmen and upperclass women are not allowed to spend any money on each other, unless cleared through Panhellenic.
- 9. No prearranged dates or meetings may be made between freshmen and upperclass women unless two or more sororities are represented at the arrangement and meeting.
- 10. Double dating is allowed between freshmen and upperclass women. The date, however, may not be arranged by any sorority or freshmen women.

"We hate to see Metzger go and to say goodbye," said Priscilla Hinebaugh, Westfield, N. J., tle since 1881 when Metzger Insti-tute for Women, later called Metzger Cellege, came into being under terms of the will of George L. Metzger, a Carlisle lawyer, businessman and Dickinson graduate, Class of 1798. The will provided for the founding of a college in "perpetual existence" for the teaching of useful and ornamental branches of education to young women.

After the turn of the century the institute fell upon hard times and the trustees of the estate, in an effort to conform to the spirit of the will, made the property available to Dickinson as a wom-

New Dormitory Completed Dickinson has been anxious for tome years now to have all of its students domiciled on the certral campus. This is now possible with the completion of a new $1 million dormitory on the Rush campus adjoining Drayer Hall, and Metzger is no longer needed.

"Metzger comes to its end with flags flying," said Dr. Ruben-dall at the key-passing rites. 'Few such institutions go out of existence so gloriously. Occu-pants of the hall have never been Metzger Hall's days are num-fairer, brighter or more promis-ing or the education of women more important than today.'
