Dedication

The tragedy of AIDS has taken its toll and few here this evening have been left untouched . . . including members of the "Lily Family".

It is with great love that we dedicate this evening to the spirits and memories of:

Richard D. Nesbitt
July 1, 1947 - April 24, 1990
lover and friend

James V. Wagner
November 25, 1959 - September 7, 1991
brother and friend

Please join us in honoring their memories - and the memory of someone you love - by giving generously.

WORDS OF INSPIRATION FROM . . . THE PREZ

It is with great pleasure and deep personal pride that I welcome you to our "High-Heeled Stampede Through the Ages". Tonight's performance is the culmination of a two-year effort to revitalize Lily White & Company (now known as Lily White & Company, Inc.) and to kick into high gear its fund-raising efforts for our PWA's in the Central Pennsylvania region -- the prime objective behind the creation of the Company.

The members of this troupe, both on- and off-stage, have toiled fastidiously during the past two years by consistently perfecting their talents, honing their sense of humor and contributing their personal madness (read: sickness) in order to meet our prime objective. It is through these efforts that we have performed in sold-out venues and have raised $5,000 of much needed funds for the Lily White Patient Relief Fund.

However, I cannot continue without expressing my gratitude to those who have shown an equal commitment to the cause we undertake with each show we perform. I wish to personally thank the following: Bill, Dan and George at The Vault; Frank and Ron at the Paper Moon; Jeff and Ray at RAJE; Michael and the staff of the Harrisburg Hotel; Mish at The D-Gem; and Al and Eddie at The Strawberry Cafe. Thanx for believing in us and in helping to make the focus of our mission that much clearer for our patrons through your donation of space for our shows and the sale of tickets for our cabarets.

Please allow me to give additional recognition to my support system, A.K.A. my personal friends, within the Company who have shared a vision that has resulted in this evening's performance: to the cast whose unselfish donation of time and energy never ceases to amaze me; to Heidi Neuhaus and Sharon Staub, Treasurer and Secretary of Lily White & Company, respectively, who have kept my feet on the ground; Lily's Board of Directors who have taken my ideas and expanded them beyond my wildest expectations; and last, but certainly not least, our Artistic (Autistic?) Director, Paul Foltz, whose achievements within this Company are too numerous to mention. (How do you do all you do?)

Finally, thankx to all of you, those dedicated followers of Lily, as well as our new friends joining us this evening. May we never lose sight of the reason why Lily White and Company, Inc. was formed. Have a great time, give lots of tips for our PWA's and I look forward to seeing you on the roof.

Eric W. Selvey
President

LW&Co Searches for New Managing Director

Lily White & Company, Inc. is searching for a Managing Director. Masochistic tendencies are helpful, total insanity a must. Pay has doubled since last year, however twice, nothing is still nothing. Stress has tripled. Resumes are currently being accepted for the position. A job description is available. For details contact Jack at 236-2005. (Oddly enough, we're serious.)
